

Newton GOP Forces Gird For Elections

Newton's GOP is getting set to play a key role in the elections of next November. Plans are now under way to complete all assignments early this summer so that the ward committees and the several clubs will get off to a running start for the campaigns.

Newton has a large Republican vote which comes to the fore in a Presidential election. GOP candidates are sure to look to the Newton party organization for its vital support.

The Republican organization in the city is highly regarded for its performance of the past. But it is expected that the men and women who make up the Ward and Precinct committees — men and women in business, the professions, and housewives, students—promise to outdo the best of years before.

Not only has there been a complete revitalization of the group, but there is the added incentive which is the name of Howard Whitmore, Jr., former Newton Mayor, being on the slate.

As Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, Whitmore is certain to stimulate more than the usual activity and support in this area.

Republican candidates for office will look to several organization branches of the party in Newton for support. Basic and most important is that of the "official" party organization in Newton — the Republican City Committee which has its legal basis in the statutes of the Commonwealth. Headed by Edward C. Uehlein, chairman, the Newton Republican City Committee is a revitalized, functioning political organization of real effectiveness. It is made up of men and women elected to its component Ward Committees, the last election being held April 28.

There are eight Newton Republican ward committees, each headed by a chairman who is responsible for activities in his ward.

Newton Priest Is Provincial Of Stigmatines

The Very Rev. Charles Egan, C.P.S., J.C.L., who was born in Newton and obtained his early theological education in this vicinity, has been elected provincial of the Stigmatine Fathers.

His election was announced by the Very Rev. Gilbert G. Fini, C.P.S., superior general of the order, and he is to begin his duties at once, with his residence in Springfield.

Born in this city on Dec. 8, 1919, he attended the Stigmatine Seminary in nearby Waltham and completed his theological studies at Elm Bank in Wellesley.

Then Bishop Richard J. Cushing ordained him at St. Clement's in Boston June 11, 1946. From 1947 to 1951 he served as a high school professor on the island of Guam, then returned to serve a year as professor at the Stigmatine Juniorate.

He became a prefect of theological students in Rome in 1952, and attended Gregorian University to earn his degree in Canon Law. He served on the Stigmatine Mission Band from 1955 to 1958.

From then until the present he has been stationed at the General Curia headquarters in Rome, where he was councillor and procurator general. During that period he was chosen to serve on the staff of the Congregation of Religious, one of the departments attached to the Vatican.

HOWARD LAWRENCE
Mass. Spanish War Vets Name Local Man Head

Dr. Howard S. Lawrence, 86, of Newtonville, was elected State Commander of the Spanish War Veterans of Massachusetts at the 66th Annual 3-day Convention at the Madison Hotel in Boston, June 26, 27 and 28.

He succeeds Commander Earl C. Magoun of Arlington. Dr. Lawrence began his Army career as regimental dentist for the 31st Regiment of Infantry which was organized at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, in 1899, and which was sent to the Philippines.

While on the island of Mindanao for two years, he numbered among his patients such well-known personalities as Secretary William H. Taft, who later became president of the United States; Captain John Pershing, who later became General Pershing; the brother of the late General Douglas MacArthur, and the British governor of Northeast Borneo.

At the conclusion of his Army service in the Philippines, Dr. Lawrence went to China where he continued working at the dental profession in Singapore and Hong Kong. Later, he returned to the United States to take charge of the Marine dental office at Mare Island, California.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Peabody Legislative Record Best Since Herter Regime

Governor Peabody undoubtedly will make his remarkable record in obtaining passage of his legislative program the big issue in his campaign for renomination and reelection.

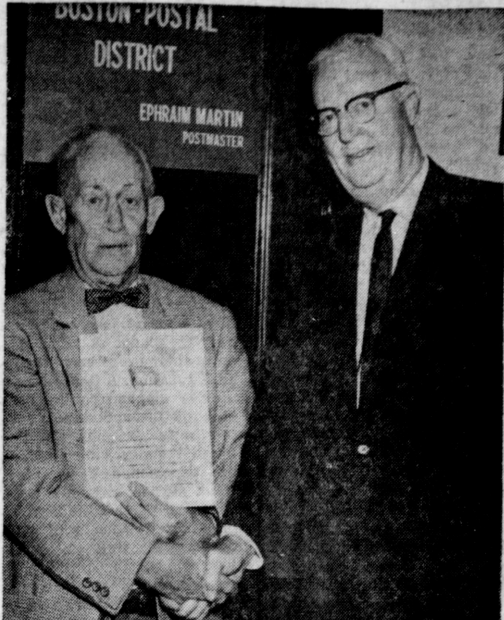

Not since Christian A. Herter was heading the State government has any Governor achieved legislative approval of as high a percentage of big measures as has Peabody.

How much this will mean in terms of votes in the ballot boxes next September and November is a question the political pundits are unable to answer.

But there certainly can be no doubt that Peabody victories in the Legislature make a better impression the voting public than would Peabody defeats.

What is most unusual about the situation is that the legislative pieces didn't really begin to fall into place for Peabody until after Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti announced his intention of challenging Peabody for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

10,000 Police Set For Week-end Duty

Registrar of Motor Vehicles James R. Lawton stated today that ten thousand law enforcement officers, representing every police force in the state, will be on duty in a saturation patrol of roads in the Commonwealth over the Fourth of July weekend.

"There is nothing glamorous nor definitive that I can ask motorists to do this weekend," said Registrar Lawton in calling for highway safety during the 78-hour holiday weekend.

"We, in law enforcement, will do our part," Registrar Lawton said, "but it is still up to the motorists to abide by the well-known rules of safe driving."

Among the most important of these, the Registrar listed: not following too closely; driving at a safe speed; keeping to the right; being cautious, courteous, and considerate.

"I am also making a special plea for all drivers to please install and use seat belts in their motor vehicles. I am also asking all the news media of Massachusetts to join with Governor Peabody and myself in this call for a wider use of seat belts by drivers in this state. Their value is indisputable."

The National Safety Council predicts that 450 people

Local Girl Is In Germany As Red Cross Aide

Miss Helen G. Van Keuren, an American Red Cross Recreation Aide, and daughter of Mrs. Helen M. Lord, 43 Bemis street, Newtonville, has arrived in Europe and has been assigned to the Second U. S. Army field hospital at Munich, Germany.

Miss Van Keuren is one of a staff of more than 70 Red Cross workers assigned to American military hospitals throughout Europe, the United Kingdom and the Mediterranean area, who carry on a social work and recreational program for military personnel and dependents.

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, in the spring of 1962, Miss Van Keuren joined the Red Cross staff in August of the same year.

She served for one year as a recreation aide at St. Albans naval hospital in New York, then was assigned to the Navy hospital in Newport, R. I.

"Glorious Fourth" To Be Quiet One In City

Newton will observe a safe and sane Fourth of July in quiet fashion on Saturday.

The only formal program on the holiday is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Newton Centre Playground where the youngsters will enjoy a morning of fun and festivity.

No fireworks will light up the sky over any part of the city.

A ban on fireworks displays in Newton is being continued as a result of the experience three years ago when children were injured by unexploded fireworks the day after the Fourth.

Another factor which influenced this decision is that a serious traffic hazard was created when the city's streets were clogged by automobiles of persons from other communities who drove into Newton the last time a fireworks show was staged in the city.

Newtonites who desire to witness a fireworks display on the evening of Independence

Day may do so by going to Memorial Park in neighboring Needham, but they should be prepared to encounter a monumental traffic jam.

Patriotic programs are being held this week on all 32 Newton playgrounds in connection with the celebration of the Fourth.

A gala program for all Newton youngsters who desire to participate will be held at the Newton Centre Playground under the sponsorship and direction of the Newton Centre Improvement Association.

Activities at the Newton Centre Playground will start at 9:30 a.m. on the holiday with the traditional flag-raising, a salute to the flag and the singing of the National Anthem on the nation's birthday.

Then there will be fun games for the children. Scheduled events include a doll carriage parade, a pet show, a decorated bicycle contest and novelty races for youngsters in various age groups. Free ice cream will be distributed to all the boys and girls. An award will be made during the morning to the Newton resident judged to have spent the most time working with children.

Chairman of the program is Cleo F. Jalliet of 95 Glen avenue, Newton Centre. Members of the city's recreation department will work with him. Edward B. Lynch will assist Jalliet in conducting the athletic events.

Local Theologian To Attend Rome Council

A distinguished Boston University theologian from Newton has been selected as one of three U. S. Methodists to attend the final session of the Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church, which opens in Rome this fall.

Dr. Walter G. Muelder, of Newton Centre, Dean of the B. U. School of Theology, has been nominated by the World Methodist Council to attend the Sept. 14 opening of the Ecumenical Council.

Dean Muelder is noted for his work in the developing area of Christian unity.

He will be one of approximately 70 observers from non-Roman Catholic bodies throughout the world. He received the invitation from the Roman Catholic Secretariat for Christian Unity upon nomination of the World Methodist Council.

Dean Muelder will return from Rome on Nov. 1. During his absence from Boston University of two months, Dr. S. Paul Schilling, also of Newton, professor of systematic theology, will serve as acting dean of the School of Theology.

Jaycees For Cut Of Governor's Council Power

Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its recent annual election meeting, voted to support the movement to place on the ballot at the next state biennial election the question of limiting the power of the Governor's Council.

In order to collect additional signatures to support the initial petition that was filed last year, the Jaycees have made available several "convenient" locations for the benefit of registered voters who did not sign the original petition. The locations were:

The homes of Richard Steinberg, 473 Crafts St., West Newton; Oscar Wasserman, 28 Osborne Path, Oak Hill, and Jerry Michaels, 53 East Quinobequin Rd., Waban, and the office of Robert Shaw, 22 Lincoln St., Newton Highlands.

All are Jaycee members. The petition was filed with the Secretary of State in Boston yesterday, July 1.

MDC Water For Charles River

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has received word that in order to give protection against pollution, the Metropolitan District Commission plans to discharge millions of gallons of water into the Charles River from supplies now stored in reservoirs under its control.

The total amount to be released to Newton, Wellesley, Weston, Waltham, Watertown and Boston will not exceed 500 million gallons, MDC states, and the total cost to the six communities will be $5000 or less.

Students Get Awards From Safety Council

Five students at St. Bernard's School in Newton received awards including a first prize in the recent 9th annual Safety Poster Contest sponsored by the Massachusetts Safety Council.

The young recipients were honored at special exercises held at John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston.

Bruce Campbell, executive vice president of the Massachusetts Safety Council, made the presentation of awards, one first prize, and four honorable mentions.

The winners were, JoAnn Proia, a sixth grade student, first prize; Donna Femino, a fifth grade student; Mary Vereker, ninth grade student; Mary Galvagno, ninth grade, and Mary Mahaney, also ninth grade, all honorable mention.

JOHN E. BOUCHARD

DAV Delegates Push Bouchard For Commander

Newton delegates, of the Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter, Disabled American Veterans, will attend the State Convention to be held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Boston, July 9, 10, and 11, and will endeavor to elect Past Commander John E. Bouchard to the office of state commander.

Newton's choice for state commander is the present senior vice commander of the Department of Massachusetts, is membership chairman, and a Newton business man.

He has been a resident of Newton for eighteen years, active in veteran affairs, resides at 235 Tremont street, Newton and conducts a manufacturers agent's office at 56 Elmwood street, servicing the New England area in the hardware, paint and automotive fields.

He is a member of the Newton Elks, K of C, and a past director of the Automotive Affiliated Representatives; director of N.E.A.R. warehouse, Brighton; member of New England Housewares Club; Retreads Inc.; Hardware Assoc.; N.O.T.R.; Holy Name Society; and is presently serving as secretary to the Mass. Obscene Literature Control Commission.

will lose their lives on the highways of our nation during the 78 hours beginning at 6 p.m., Thursday, July 2, to midnight, Sunday, July 5.

Last year, during the 102-hour period of this week-end, 557 persons lost their lives nationally because of highway accidents, 13 in New England and nine in Massachusetts.

"It is certainly ironic that patriotic holidays such as July Fourth have become the time of undue carnage on the highways of our state and our nation. This alone should give us pause," Registrar Lawton concluded.

Country Clubs' Swimmers In Relay Meeting

The Woodland Golf Club team with 50 points and Brae Burn Country Club's team with 45 points, were second and third in the Interclub Relay Swimming Carnival on Saturday, June 27, when country clubs of the west suburban area opened their competitive season at Brae Burn.

Superiority in the boys' relays enabled Wellesley Country Club to win the invitational championship.

Woodland girls who won the girls' medley relay were Gretchen Campbell, Mary Beth Catinella, Sylvia Catinella and Nancy Catinella. The freestyle relay for swimmers eight and under was won by the Woodland team comprising Nancy Mahoney, Steve McCourt, Jane Mahoney and Steve Owens.

Brae Burn won the girls' crescendo relay. Team members were Barbara Brooks, Carolyn Cook, Darcy Moore, Cheryl Forte and Michelle McDonough. Brae Burn also captured the boys' crescendo relay with Biff Burns, Harry Nesbit, Bill Lowell, Peter Roy and Lee Brooks.

Woodland won the freestyle relay for girls with Nancy Mahoney, Nancy Catinella, Maureen Mannix, Mary Beth Catinella and Sylvia Catinella.

Understanding Explored Sunday Expored Sunday

Modern man's need for a new and greater understanding of Deity will be explored at Christian Science churches, Sunday, in a Bible Lesson-Sermon entitled "God."

"It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony" — this is one of the references which will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 390).

The Golden Text is from Habakkuk: "The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

Dr. Barrabee BBG Installs

Barbara Miller was installed as president last week of Dr. Paul S. Barrabee BBG of Newton.

Other officers installed were: vice president, Roz Lofchie; recording secretary, Judy Branzburg; treasurer, Debby Stone; corresponding secretary, Dori Nollman; and Miriam Finch; editor, Eileen Boris and Carolyn Beig; M.I.T. Mom, Carol Lewis, and counselor, Enid Salamoff.

Life memberships were awarded to Mona Dayag, Diane Brockman and Ellen Nollman. Enid Salamoff gave the state of the chapter message, and the program co-chairmen were Nan Rubin and Diane Gordon.

Forces-

Activities include registration of voters and their enrollment in the party, securing workers, mailings, and all the various chores that go with "getting out the vote."

The fundamental work of organizing for campaigns and elections is done by the City Committee, its Executive Committee (which coordinates activities), and the component Ward Committees. This involves a corps of volunteers, men and women resident in the city, of about three hundred. They perform the duties so essential under a two-party system in a democracy such as ours. Without them the two-party system and home-rule such as we now have it, could not function.

Serving in Newton, with Edward C. Uehlein, chairman of the City Committee, are the following Ward Chairmen: Adelaide B. Ball, Ward One; Gwendolyn Giles, Ward One; Melvin J. Dangel, Ward Three; Louis I. Egelson, Jr., Ward Four; D. Stuart Laughlin, Ward Five; William Lane Bruce, Ward Six; Benjamin Shattuck, Ward Seven; and Jack Roberts, Ward Eight.

In addition, candidates seeking office under the GOP banner will receive excellent support from important auxiliary arms of the Newton Republican City Committee — the clubs which were created by charter from the State Committee and which operate in close cooperation with the city group. Three very successful and well established clubs function in the area.

They are: The Newton Women's Republican Club now headed by Mrs. Stanley Miller; The Newton Republican Club, whose president, Wallace F. Forbes, was recently reelected; The Newton Young Republicans of which Eugene M. Hirschberg recently became president.

More recently a club for Teenage Republicans was established. The TARS this year are headed by their president, Judy Boudrot. It will be a busy and eventful year for all these bodies certain as they are to be called on to do the many and important things involved in getting candidates before the voters and winning elections.

Well-manned as they now appear to be, the demand for workers is never really satisfied. Ward Committees and the clubs offer a cordial welcome to all who wish to volunteer.

Day Nursery Program To Open At Baptist Church

In January of this year, the members and friends of First Baptist Church in Newton dedicated the John Fogg Education building. This provided the church with new modern classrooms and fine facilities and equipment. The pre-school classrooms have now been made ready for a day nursery program which will begin in the fall of 1964.

The church looks upon the Weekday school as an extension of their program in Christian Education. A flexible program is planned so that the needs of the individual children may be met. Under trained teachers, the children will experience free play, music, stories, rhythms, arts, crafts and other activities dependent on the needs of each child and the time of year.

The School is Christian in orientation and purpose and is open to any child two years prior to the Newton Public Kindergarten. All Christian holidays will be celebrated.

An outdoor play area is being equipped so that the children may learn to use and enjoy the large muscle building equipment.

Applications are being accepted for the fall term. Information and applications may be secured by contacting Joint legislative committee on labor and industry. Along with the Senate President and the House Speaker, he recently was named to a recess commission to study the size of the Legislature and legislative procedure.

His maiden speech in the Senate was made in opposition to a bill which would have repealed the jurisdiction of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination in the Fair Housing Laws. As the sole speaker in the Senate debate, Cohn was credited with playing a major part in defeating the measure which previously had been passed by the House.

Canon James Breedon, a civil rights leader, acknowledged Cohen's efforts in a statement which said: "I commend you for the part you played in securing the defeat of H. bill 22 in the Senate on Thursday, April 30, 1964. You have rendered an important service to the cause of justice and freedom in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and in our nation."

At the request of the League of Women Voters, Senator Cohen organized the effort to place on the November ballot an initiative petition stripping the Governor's Council of its statutory powers.

As a member of the legislative committee on State administration, Cohen was responsible for writing the majority report on the need for this legislation. His report, by law, will be distributed to every registered voter in the Commonwealth prior to the November election.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy, who actively campaigned for Cohen's election last spring, reaffirmed his support of Cohen on May 31 at a meeting of the Temple Ohabei Shalom Brotherhood, declaring that Cohen was the type of candidate the Democratic party was proud to endorse and present to the voters.

An attorney, who served for 3½ years as a State Representative, Cohen is a graduate of Boston College and Boston College Law School.

Cohen is a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Associations and has been admitted to practice before the state and federal bars. He is a member of Temple Beth Zion.

He is married to the former Barbara Lebowich of Newton. They have a 26-month-old son, Douglas, and reside at 227 Tappan st., Brookline.

In launching his campaign for reelection to a full term in the Senate, Cohen cited that one of his early actions in the Senate was to join in a debate to obtain an additional $3 million for the University of Massachusetts plus an additional $150,000 for state scholarships for needy students.

Cohen said he has concerned himself with local problems in the Newton area and other parts of his senatorial district. He presided over the Senate during the debate on Governor Peabody's mass transportation bill which has been enacted into law.

Eligible As Custodian

The director of civil service has certified Joseph A. Totaro, 88 Crescent St., Auburndale, as eligible to fill a vacancy in the Newton Public Buildings Department for a permanent junior building custodian at $4100 per year.

Other officers and directors of the Newton Centre Improvement Association who have assisted in planning the program include: Hugh S. Boyd, president; Richard W. Douglass, vice president and secretary; Albert Rochette, treasurer; Ernest Siciliano, William Bruce, Parker F. Pond, Ernest F. Dietz, Walter Dietz, William Axt, Scott Wells, Walter Kreske, Walter Feinberg and Norman Feinberg, directors.

An invitation to children in all sections of Newton to join in the fun at the Newton Centre Playground on the holiday morning was issued by members of the Improvement Association.

"The more youngsters we have the better we'll like it," they declared.

Following are the pre-Fourth programs to be held or already held at the various playgrounds:

A "Patriots' Day" program will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at the Highlands Playground.

A patriotic program with special crafts projects and patriotic readings will be held Friday at the Thompsonville Playground.

The Ward School Playground will be the scene of a costume party Friday afternoon. Refreshments will be served the youngsters.

A costume parade will be conducted at the Murray Road Playground Friday. A decorated bicycle parade will be held Friday at the Warren Jr. High Playground. Special programs will be held Friday at the River Street Playground and today (Thursday) at the Wellington Playground.

A doll carriage parade will be held Friday at the Richardson Playground. Upper Falls will join forces with Emerson for a program of races and costume parades Friday afternoon. Children at the Newton Centre and Weeks Jr. High Playgrounds made a trip yesterday to the U.S. Frigate Constitution."

Burr Playground was the setting for a special "Stars and Stripes" program yesterday afternoon, and Farlow Park held a "Patriotic Party" yesterday.

Other activities yesterday included a picnic lunch and parade for the children at the Carr Playground and an Independence Day program at the Davis School Playground. Special races, a tug-of-war

Weekly Organ Concerts Will Open July 8th

R. Rice Nutting, recently appointed organist and director of music at Boston's Park Street Church, will present for the Summer Freedom Trail visitors a weekly series of Wednesday noon concerts on the Albert O. Wilson Memorial Organ and the Harry Lee Jones Cathedral Chimes beginning July 8, it has been announced by Mrs. Lauriston (Dorothy Lee Jones) Ward Jr., of 55 Cliff road, Wellesley Hills, music chairman.

The chimes were given by Mrs. Harry Lee Jones of Newton Centre in memory of her husband, a former trustee of Park Street Church and a member of the Executive Board of Gordon College, Beverly Farms. He was a partner of the Chase and Sanborn Company.

Mrs. Jones and her daughter, Mrs. Ward, initiated and aided the movement for the purchase of the $90,000 Aeolian-Skinner organ which was dedicated in 1961.

The programs will open with "America" which was first played for a children's celebration at the historic church — third site on the Freedom Trail — July 4, 1831, by its renowned organist, Lowell Mason, father of American Church Music, who also introduced music in our public schools.

No Vacation For Police

The recent closing of schools here brings an alert against vandalism by local police, a policy which coincides with that of many other law enforcement agencies in communities throughout the Commonwealth, and nation.

Vandalism perpetrated by young people has mushroomed beyond the misdemeanor stage. It is no longer is petty crime; in most instances it borders on felony.

The list of violent acts by vandals grows and grows, as does the cost to the taxpayers, who must heft the expense for the irrational whims of these unrestrained adolescents.

Newton city officials estimate that more than $40,000 damage is done here annually by vandals.

A far more constructive use of $40,000 could be found than channeling it to pay for the violent acts of destruction wrought by those characters we usually designate as "the fathers and mothers of tomorrow." The morrow certainly is something to contemplate where these hoodlums are concerned.

Ironically while the order to police officers to be alerted against vandals, and their works, was being read out at police headquarters, reports came in of three additional acts. They were reports of vandalism at a church, a school and a playground.

It was reported that windows had been smashed at the Second Church, West Newton, at the Country-side School, Newton Highlands, and that wooden posts of a picnic canopy at the Wellington Playground were split and boards removed from the picnic table.

Wanton destruction of a somewhat different caliber but vandalism none the less was the report by a West Newton woman that a row of 21 tomato plants had been ripped up by an intruder in the night.

The acts of vandalism are many and varied but the identical pattern of senseless stupidity is paramount in every instance, in this city and elsewhere. Some performances are practically maniacal in character pointing to an urgent need for serious psychopathic study of the offenders.

Certainly it cannot be argued that many of the deeds performed by vandals are the work of rational, well balanced human beings. Possibly the prompt application of the strap to a well padded derriere back in the boisterous boyhood days might have directed the growing twig into a more constructive channel of life.

However, in many cases, punishment at this time is too little and much too late.

And let us not be assailed with the cliché that vandalism is the result of poverty, that only the denizens of slums perform the destructive deeds so constantly in today's news.

Many of our higher bracket communities can blush at a record of youthful sabotage, of assault and lawlessness, on a par with statistics established in any slum, anywhere.

It is a tough problem for police everywhere. This is not the old line, established criminal element on the loose. Acts of horrible violence, and deeds of inane vandalism can erupt at a moment's notice with the cast of characters including some of the youngsters encountered everyday, that nice kid next door, etc.

Well, at any rate, the schools are out and the police have been given their alert orders. There are so many wonderful things to be enjoyed in this nation of ours by the most fortunate kids in the world, and the best kids in the world for the most part, that flirting with police records and jail sentences hardly seem sensible occupations. They don't pay off so well, that's for sure.

Three C's For The Holiday

Once again our naturally concerned Registrar of Motor Vehicles James R. Lawton is sounding his annual sage counsel as a prelude to the surge of motor traffic along our state highways on the upcoming Fourth of July week-end.

Yes, the usual advice regarding caution, courtesy and consideration on the part of drivers is publicized by the many news media. The grim statistics on injury and death are pronounced in advance.

It is all in a good and worthy cause, but wasted on far too many motor car operators. There still are an appalling number of this gentry who drive as if they had left their brains at home, if they had any to leave behind.

The dreamer in the outside lane of a high-speed highway, for instance Route 128, and the nut who realizes he has a turn-off dead ahead and suddenly cuts from outside to inside across four lanes, are potential builders of serious accidents.

Many motorists still drive on Route 128 as if it was a two-lane not four; everybody chummy on the two left lanes, the other two practically empty.

10,000 policemen will be on duty trying to keep heedless drivers from killing themselves and others. Yet, the simple application of the Three C's, Caution, Courtesy and Consideration have the solution to the problem — augmented, of course, by Sobriety. It really shouldn't be too difficult at that.

OUR READERS SAY

Blow For Freedom

Editor of The Graphic:

Several months ago I made a proposal to the Newton School Committee that the City of Newton volunteer to educate some fifty Negro children from Roxbury in an attempt to strike a blow for freedom by providing these children with a good education.

I was informed by Mr. Haskell Freedman, Chairman of the Newton School Committee that "...we respectfully submit that as the Newton School Committee we have no legal power consistent with our oaths of office to become involved in the educational problems of other communities."

However, I note in a recent Newton Graphic that the Newton School Committee is proceeding to assist the school program in Malaya in various ways.

I find it difficult to believe that the problems of Negro children living only ten miles away from us are of less concern to us than the problem of children living in Malaya. Or am I to assume that it is easier to strike a blow for freedom thousands of miles away than right here at home?

Very truly yours,
SYLVIA KELLEY,

Big Enrollment This Summer At Jr. College

Newton Junior College's summer session, with an enrollment of 136 students, is the largest in the college's history, according to Dr. Charles D. Merrill, dean and director.

In announcing the fact, Dr. Merrill said that "this growth reflects to some degree the effect of the recent accreditation of the college and the quality of the course offerings which include fundamentals of English, English composition, college mathematics, general biology and laboratory, principles of sociology, American literature, preparatory mathematics and general psychology.

"It is significant," he added, "that so many Newton residents have come to the college this summer to accelerate their college programs, to make up deficiencies, to earn credits for transfer to other colleges, or to improve themselves in terms of personal enrichment."

Diabetes Fund Leader Thanks Local Support

Walter T. Tower, 30 Shaw Street, W. Newton, president of the Greater Boston Diabetes Society, Inc., expressed thanks to his fellow citizens for their support in the United Fund Drive on behalf of the Society.

The Society is carrying out its extensive programs to aid diabetics and discover undetected cases with an ample United Fund allocation. It is pointed out that residents of our community can take advantage of their donation and receive a free diabetes test simply by writing to: DIABETES, 93 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, 02115 or calling CO 7-8999.

The test is used at home and entails only a few moments of time. Since a portion of the 30,000 undetected cases of Greater Boston are undoubtedly in this area, everyone is encouraged to take advantage of this offer.

10-year-old In Theatre Tour

Meryl Gay Goodfader, 10-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Goodfader, 654 Boylston St., Newton Centre, will go on tour this summer in "Sound of Music," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

Starting late in July, she will play in Cohasset at the South Shore Music Circus, Hyannis, at the Cape Cod Melody Tent, and in Beverly at the North Shore Theater, for two weeks at each engagement.

Miss Dupee Graduates

Rebecca Dupee, daughter of Norman E. Dupee, 86 Oxford Rd., Newton Centre, was awarded a B.A. degree by Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio.

Awarded Drew B.A.

Jane Emery of 44 Norwood Ave., Newton Centre, was awarded a degree at Drew University, Madison, N. J.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emery belonged to Sigma Tau Sigma, tutoring society.

Many-Talented Woman To Play "Auntie Mame"

Barbara Burns Matheson, a Newton actress, artist, sculptor and housewife, starts her summer theatre tour on July 6—in the title role of Patrick Dennis' zany, beloved "Auntie Mame." Barbara is an almost look-alike or double for Rosalind Russell. Her husband, Kenneth Matheson, is on the staff of the English Department of Lasell Junior College. They have two children, Bonnie, 8, and Mark, 4.

Regarding her current role of "Auntie Mame"—Barbara has always wanted to do the role and is busy with rehearsals this week prior to the opening night on July 6 at the Priscilla Beach Theatre in Plymouth.

Her day consists of an hour's drive to the theatre—rehearsals, fittings, photographs, makeup consultations and then an hour's drive home to Newton. She spends the early evening with her children and husband—catching up on the day's events and then does some painting and works on memorization of lines with a tape recorder.

As an artist, Barbara's one woman art-exhibition last Spring was a success according to all Boston art critics. Mrs. Matheson believes that a creative woman should pursue her own progress but also maintain a balance of equality in the role of wife and mother.

The critics will not only be reviewing her performance but her Art as well. Her works will be on exhibition at the Priscilla Beach Theatre in Plymouth. A two-fold score to be totaled.

Following her Plymouth engagement she leaves for productions in Connecticut. As soon as she completes her "Auntie Mame" tour she would love to do—"Wonderful Town."

Union Summer Church Services Begin In Auburndale Next Sunday

Newton's Union Summer Church Services begin Sunday morning, July 6, at 10 o'clock, in the Auburndale Congregational Church.

This will be the 29th year in which from six to eight churches in the western part of Newton have joined together for summer worship and to render pastoral care to members of all the affiliated churches.

The preacher for the opening service this year will be the Rev. Ross Cannon of the Second Church in Newton. He has been minister of the West Newton congregation since 1954.

Currently the secretary of the Newton Union Summer Services, Dr. Cannon is on the Pacific Area Committee, United Board of World Ministries, is a member of the board of trustees of the Walker Missionary Home and a trustee of Congregational House in Boston. He has been president of the Koba College Corporation, and in 1950 was in Japan while visiting missions around the world.

During the week July 3 through July 9, Dr. Cannon will be on call for pastoral care for the cooperating churches, and may be reached at 244-2690 for any service.

In addition to the Auburndale and West Newton Congregational churches, those participating this year are the Central Congregational Church, the First Unitarian Society, Newton Highlands Congregational Church, Newtonville Methodist Church and the Union Church in Waban. The minister of each will

Travelling Zoo To Visit Newton

The M.D.C. Traveling Children's Zoo will visit the Newton Playground today (Thursday), it was announced by the Newton Recreation Association. The Zoo will be at Auburndale Playground at 10:30 a.m. and all playgrounds on the northern and western sides of the city will travel there to view the animals. Some playgrounds will take food with them and have a picnic at Auburndale Park at noon. The Zoo exhibit will move to Newton Centre Playground at 1:30 p.m. and playgrounds on the southern and eastern sides of the city will visit it then in the afternoon.

Some playgrounds have made arrangements to hire busses to take the youngsters to Newton Centre.

$38,949 Paid For 27 City Cars

Purchasing Agent Harold T. Pilbury reports that 27 new motor vehicles for seven Newton departments have been contracted for at a total cost of $38,949, after allowances for trade-ins.

The cars were bought from Newton Motor Sales, Clay Chevrolet Company and Silver Lake Motor, Inc.

They include 13 police cars, a sedan for the Fire Department, one each for the Health, Welfare and Water departments, two suburban carryalls for the Engineering department, and eight sedans for the Street department.

Newton National Bank Dividends

Louis G. LeBlanc, president of the Newton National Bank, announces that the directors voted to pay a regular dividend of 25 cents per share plus an extra dividend of 40 cents per share payable Wednesday, July 1 to shareholders of record June 10.

U. Of Conn., Grads

Amy A. Kaplan of 31 Channing Rd., Newton Centre, was graduated from the University of Connecticut School of Education on Sunday, June 14. Jean M. deCastro of 1241 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, received a graduate M.A. degree in History.

Political Highlights

Maybe Peabody and his lieutenants began to work harder and more effectively when they found themselves in a bitter fight with Bellotti.

Perhaps the legislators who lined up behind Peabody in his convention battle with Bellotti decided they might as well go all the way with him and vote for his bills if they were going to support him for renomination.

Whatever the reason may be, Peabody's political stock has risen steadily ever since Bellotti entered the lists against him.

Peabody's political fortunes were at a low ebb at the time Bellotti became a candidate for the Governorship.

Many people felt Peabody had just been muddling along in an inept sort of way without accomplishing much of anything.

A poll made for Peabody showed that the Governor's prestige and popularity had dropped to a point where there was cause for deep concern.

Most Beacon Hill politicians believe it was the findings in that poll which influenced Bellotti to run for Governor against Peabody.

Once he found himself with a real fight on his hands, Peabody seemed to change almost overnight.

He suddenly assumed the role of a decisive, forceful leader in his quest both for delegate votes at the Democratic State Convention and for support of his legislative program.

Probably the most surprising development of the year in the State Legislature was the passage of Peabody's bill for the creation of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority.

Only a few weeks ago, it was generally assumed that Peabody's measure would be shunted aside to a study and that nothing would be done on it until next year, if ever.

Considered equally remote were Peabody's prospects for winning approval of his plan for reorganizing four State agencies into a new Department of Commerce and Development. Ex-Governor Volpe had advanced a proposal which was similar in many respects only to see it dropped down the drain.

Peabody obtained passage of both bills as the Legislature moved toward prorogation.

These, of course, were only two of the measures Peabody succeeded in having enacted into law, but they were two of the most important.

If Peabody winds up in an autumn election battle with Volpe, as most political experts believe he will, he's sure to try to capitalize on the fact that his legislative batting average was superior to Volpe's.

Volpe, of course, was forced to work with a Democratic Legislature, and, in fairness, he did extremely well under the circumstances during his second year in office.

This writer does not share the opinion of some political analysts that Bellotti's entrance into the gubernatorial field has actually improved Peabody's chances of winning reelection.

It is true that the loosely knit Peabody organization was quickly pulled together into a more effective machine after Bellotti began his challenge.

It's also a fact that Peabody's prestige has been enhanced by his convention victory over Bellotti and by his recent legislative successes.

But whatever the outcome of their primary fight, Bellotti is going to do Peabody some harm in the weeks between now and Sept. 10.

Needless to say, Bellotti will hammer at the weak points in the Peabody administration.

Bellotti probably will argue that Peabody's reorganization of the State Public Works Department failed to speed up the State's highway construction program.

This may be one of the big issues in the fight between Peabody and Bellotti and—if Peabody prevails in the primary — in the subsequent struggle between Peabody and Volpe.

There are conflicting claims

DAV Convention Local Delegates

Commander Charles F. Atkinson of Chapter 23, Newton, Disabled American Veterans, will lead the local delegation to the 43d annual convention of Massachusetts Department D.A.V., at Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston, July 9, 10 and 11.

Chairman of the membership committee will be John E. Bouchard of Newton, a candidate for state commander.

J. Edward Theriault of Newton will be chairman of the budget committee and a member of the auditing committee, and John Shannon of Newton will be a member of the committee on constitutional changes. Edward Edmunds of Newton will head the Trench Rats committee.

It's easy to be an angel when nobody ruffles your feathers.

talked at length on what he will say in his campaign, he never mentioned Ted Kennedy's name except to remark that he's sorry Ted was injured in the plane accident.

In case you have been wondering how to campaign against Ted Kennedy when he's in a hospital, that's probably as good a way as any. In fact, it seems just about the only sensible way.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Sigel-Mr. Perry

At Temple Emeth in Brookline, recently, Miss Louise Beth Sigel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Sigel of Newtonville, became the bride of Bruce Michael Perry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Perry of Newton Highlands.

Rabbi Zev K. Nelson performed the 6 o'clock candlelight ceremony in a setting of white and blue chrysanthemums, asters and gladioli.

The bride, given away by her parents, wore a gown of white peau de soie. The fitted re-embroidered lace bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline, marked with seed pearls, and long pointed sleeves. Lace appliques misted the front and sides of the softly folded bouffant skirt which terminated in a chapel-length train.

Seed pearls and aurora crystals formed the becoming crown fastened with her triple-tiered bouffant veil. She carried her Bible covered with white orchids and cascading stephanotis.

Mrs. Frederick R. Rubin of Cleveland, Ohio, was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Karen J. Perry and Miss Donna K. Perry.

MRS. BRUCE M. PERRY

Gary Witton of Natick served as best man. The ushers were Frederick R. Rubin of Cleveland, Ohio, Arthur Sigel of Framingham, Richard Perry of Newton Centre and

Infant Christened By Cardinal On Anniversary

On his 25th anniversary as bishop, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, officiated at the christening of the first child of Mr. and Mrs. William Michael Daley of Natick, formerly of Newton, who was named Robert Nicholas.

The ceremony took place at the Cardinal's residence at Lake street, Brighton, at 3 o'clock on June 29th.

Godparents are Miss Mona Ann Gallagher of Newton, the infant's aunt, and Thomas Daley of Wellesley, his uncle.

The baby, who was born on June 4th, at the Cushing Pavilion at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Daley of Wellesley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Gallagher of Newton.

Ways and Means Committee Sets Future Program

The Ways and Means Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club met for coffee at the home of chairman Mrs. John Farrington, to plan for the club year 1964-65.

There will be a series of home bridge parties, beginning with the one at the home of Mrs. Charles Laffin, the club president, on October 15th. A food sale will add to the club coffers on November 3rd, and on January 19th the highlight of the year will take place — an unusual auction, in that all articles will be new!

The co-chairman of this committee is Mrs. Joseph Seigney, and the members include Mrs. Harry Abells, Miss Theresa Cram, Mrs. Walter Keene, Mrs. Ross Langill, Mrs. Vaughan Richardson, Mrs. Charles Tenney, Mrs. Fred Toppan, Mrs. Dwight Woodberry, and Mrs. Henry Webster.

Gerald Korey of Hancock Village.

After a trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the couple will make their home in Newton.

The bride is a senior at the Boston University School of Education.

Mr. Perry is completing his fifth year at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He plans to enter graduate school in the fall.

Frank Crosson And Bride To Live In Newton Centre

At the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury on June's final Saturday, the 27th, Miss Mary Katherine Collins became the bride of Frank Austin Crosson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Collins of 225 Weld street, West Roxbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Crosson of 75 Stimson street, West Roxbury, are the couple's parents.

The Rt. Rev. James G. Wilder of New York, cousin of the bride, was celebrant of the 11 o'clock nuptial mass. A reception followed at the Hotel Vendome in Boston.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown made of silk organza. The empire bodice, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves, was marked with brocade at the waistline. The skirt, misted with similar brocade, was designed with a Watteau train.

She wore an elbow-length mantilla of Belgium lace and carried a cascade of orchids, stephanotis and English ivy.

Miss Eileen M. Collins of West Roxbury, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Maureen Collins of Waban, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Ann Crosson of West Roxbury, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Virginia M. Griffin of Jamaica Plain and Miss Mary Lou Stebbins of West Roxbury were bridesmaids.

Young Patricia Monahan of West Roxbury was her cousin's flower girl. Master Richard Crosson of West Roxbury, brother of the bridegroom, was ring-bearer.

In charge of the guest book was Miss Eleanor Dane of Chestnut Hill.

George Crosson of West Roxbury served as best man for his brother, whose ushers were Allen Angell of New York City, Cornelius Holland of Roslindale and Richard Sullivan of West Roxbury.

The couple, who left for Bermuda, plan to make their home in Newton Centre.

The bride, a graduate of Emmanuel College, received her Master's degree at the Harvard Graduate School.

Mr. Crosson, a graduate of Harvard College, where he belonged to the Pi Eta Club, is a graduate of Boston College Law School. He is now a business consultant.

(Bradford Bachrach)
MRS. FRANK A. CROSSON

Drivers Who Blow Tops Are Dangers
Hot-headed motorists with "explosive tendencies" are urged to stay out of the driver's seat of automobiles over the Fourth of July weekend.
Safety officials warn that for thousands of people, the week-end will begin tonight, Thursday, with the headlong traffic rush due to get underway. Cool-headed drivers will be needed, not short-fused firecracker types who are inclined to blow their tops.

Danvers Site Of Huge Emerson Rug Showroom

The Emerson Rug Company of Dedham has added a new unit to its chain.

An attractive new Emerson Rug showroom containing a striking display of broadloom has been opened on route 114 in Danvers. It is the largest carpet showroom in that area.

It was 30 years ago that Emerson opened its first carpet store. Under the direction of President John Reilly, Treasurer John Emerson and Executive Vice President Daniel Reilly, the company has grown to be New England's largest carpet specialists with six showrooms surrounding Greater Boston.

Company headquarters are located in Dedham where Emerson also maintains the largest retail carpet warehouse in New England. This 25,000 square foot building is crammed with huge rolls of broadloom.

An inventory that large is unusual among retailers but makes possible substantial savings for Emerson's customers. Instead of buying one or two rolls at a time like many stores, Emerson buys 10 or 20 and reaps the rewards of volume purchasing power. In addition, Emerson can assure immediate delivery on most orders because the carpet is right in stock in Dedham.

Babson Degree For Aransky

Gerald G. Aransky, son of Mrs. Diane Feinberg, 201 Upland avenue, Newton Highlands, was awarded a B.S. degree in Business Administration at Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills.

An Economics major, he was president of the Young Republican Club, business manager of the year book, a member of the Student Cabinet, and a member of the Business Economics Club.

"Y Teen" Summer Conference Held At Lasall College

Eighty-four girls and 24 adults representing Y. W. C. A.'s from Maine to Connecticut held their New England "Y Teen" Summer Conference at Lasall Junior College in Newton last week.

The annual meeting, planned and executed by the girls, under the guidance of adult advisers, included workshops, sports clinics, discussion groups, special speakers and recreational activities.

The principal speaker at this year's conference was Dr. Alvin D. Loving, executive director for Community Action for Detroit Youth. Dr. Loving spoke on the responsibilities of the teen-ager in the nation and the community.

Other speakers, panels and discussion groups included international students who outlined their feelings about the teenager and his problems and commitments in their respective countries, a "community" panel consisting of a judge, a social worker and a teacher, and a panel composed of students from the Freedom School in Boston.

Other activities included evening recreational programs such as skits, a hoot-nay, field trips to neighboring Y's and settlement houses, creative writing groups and group sings. The week-long conference ended on Friday, highlighted by the presentation of The Thurber Carnival by a summer stock company, and a candlelight ceremony.

3-Year Student Harvard Grad

Roger Warren Rodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Rodman, 94 Vine St., Chestnut Hill, was graduated from Harvard with an A.B. summa cum laude.

Having started on an "advanced standing" basis, he completed the curriculum in three years, concentrating on the field of government, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

He was awarded the Frank Knox Memorial Fellowship for graduate study at Harvard Law School, and will enter in September, 1965, following a year abroad.

A man owes it to himself to become successful after that he owes it to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Newton Council Of Churches Holds Well-Attended Meeting

Newton Council of Churches held its annual meeting recently at Grace Episcopal Church in Newton Centre, with the president, Dr. Ross W. Sanderson presiding.

The six-month budget submitted by the Rev. Robert W. Gollidge, finance committee chairman, was approved by delegates from 20 of the 24 member churches.

Without dissent, delegates approved two constitutional amendments setting the quorum for executive committee meetings at 12 persons, and changing from spring to winter the time of the annual meeting.

Dr. Donald E. Bowen, chairman of The Chaplaincy Committee, announced the resignation of the Rev. Donald Manthei who has been serving for the past year as Protestant chaplain - coordinator at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Mr. Manthei will continue his association with the Council of Churches, serving as a counselor of The John Elliot Counseling Service. Dr. Bowen informed the delegates that the Department of Pastoral Services of the Mass. Council of Churches was aiding the local council in finding a replacement for Mr. Manthei at the hospital.

Mrs. Stewart Holmes, president of The United Church Women of Newton, spoke briefly on the work of that organization.

The formation of a Committee on Christian Education was announced by its chairman, Dr. Wesner Fal-law, who informed the group that proposals would be made in the fall for active cooperation with the newly formed Newton Institute of Religious Study, an inter-faith agency offering courses by outstanding teachers for senior high school students.

The executive secretary of the Council, the Rev. Roland W. Jenkins, underlined in his message the need for a study in depth of the Council of Churches and expressed the conviction that the newly formed Evaluating Committee would meet a long felt need in this area.

The following officers were re-elected to serve until the end of the calendar year: President, Dr. Ross W. Sanderson; 1st vice president, Robert M. Vaughan; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Stewart Holmes; recording secretary, Mrs. H. Edgar Beaven, and treasurer, Edson L. Fitch.

The delegates gave a standing vote of appreciation to the president of the Council for his devoted services during the past year.

The business of the evening concluded with a devotional service led by the executive secretary, the Rev. Roland W. Jenkins.

Three Newton Law Students Legal Interns

Three Newton men who are second-year law students are among the 12 chosen by Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke for legal internship for a period of 10 weeks this summer.

They are Martin Lobel of 3 Nardone Rd., Newton Centre, B. U. Law School; Anthony J. Medaglia, Jr., 58 Selwyn Rd., Newton Highlands, Harvard Law School, and Thomas M. Taggart, 20 Oakland St., Newton, Harvard Law School.

Lobel was president of the Class of 1962 at Boston University. Medaglia was awarded his Harvard A.B. in 1959, and Taggart received his A.B. cum laude from Dartmouth in 1959.

All have been assigned to specific divisions in the attorney general's office and are at work as staff members.

Said Atty. Gen. Brooke, "This is a non-political program, and all selections were made on the basis of professional potential, ability to contribute to the work of the office, and academic qualifications. Through the experience of this internship, I hope these law students seriously consider a career of public service."

Increased Use Of Hospital Revealed In Annual Report

The 1963 Annual Report of Newton-Wellesley Hospital went into the mails over the week-end, destined for numerous residents of Newton.

Focusing upon "What Happened in 10 Years," the 28-page booklet documents a sweeping change in patient care techniques and equipment within the 260-bed community hospital, resulting in far greater health benefit for each patient dollar spent.

It notes that more people are using the hospital. Patient admissions have risen from 7,587 in 1953 to 9,116 in 1963. The number of operations increased by 32 per cent from 3,874 to 5,133.

Emergency cases have risen 147 per cent in 10 years. A total of 12,419 cases were logged in 1963, while 5,133 were received in 1953.

The broader service to people has had marked effect upon various departments of the hospital, the report noted. The number of laboratory determinations rose to 119 per

Summer Theatre Features Comedy Through July 4

"Charley's Aunt" by Brandon Thomas will be the second offering of the Newton Summer Theatre. It opened July 1 and plays through the July 4 holiday.

This perennial farce has regaled generations of theatregoers ever since its debut in 1892. Set in Oxford College, the improbable plot revolves around an undergraduate masquerading as Charley's aunt from Brazil "where the nuts come from." Three of the NST apprentices get a chance to work with the professionals in this change of pace show of the season.

Leading roles will be taken by Brice Weisman (Jack), Arthur Morrow (Charley), Frank Dolan ("the Aunt"), and Ruth Edinberg (the real aunt, Donna Lucia).

Ray Bolger brought his unique talent to the musical version of "Charley's Aunt" in the 1950's when "Where's Charley" was one of the top shows on Broadway for several years.

Curtain is at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by calling DE 2-6700.

cent in 10 years, from 98,970 in 1953 to 217,193 last year. The number of x-ray examinations nearly doubled, from 13,460 to 22,740 in a decade.

Other indices of increased service over 10 years include electrocardiograms, up 129 per cent; laundry volume, up 60 per cent; physical therapy treatments, up 54 per cent; social service cases, up 51 per cent; and meals prepared, up 50 per cent.

Though more people have used the hospital, a combination of steadily improving skills and finer equipment have permitted patients to be served better and discharged sooner, according to the report.

The average length of a patient's stay decreased one-half day in 10 years, from 8.2 days in 1953 to 7.6 days last year. And while the number of people admitted to the hospital increased by 20 per cent in the decade, the number of days they spent in the hospital rose less than 12 per cent.

The report also reveals that more armament was added in the past 10 years than during the preceding 67 years. Most of the armament was given or financed by individuals and community groups, the report explained.

Among new additions to the hospital since 1953, and representing an investment of about $4 million dollars were a Special Care Unit opened in 1958 and one of New England's first: a Recovery Suite installed adjacent to the Operating Rooms in 1954; and a $55,000 diagnostic and fluoroscopic x-ray machine with intensifier; cine and television components, added in 1963.

Also the Richard I. Smith Emergency Unit opened in 1958 as well as the new admitting, social service and waiting facilities for patients, the complete remodeling of older patient floors and the installation of electric beds in all medical-surgical areas, and the addition of oxygen piped to each bedside and sensitive patient-nurse intercommunication systems.

Other important additions cited in the booklet included an x-ray film processing unit that cuts developing time from 20 minutes to 7 minutes; an x-ray machine and complete darkroom established by the Emergency Unit; pace-makers, defibrillators and similar life-saving implements; an auto-analyzer that mechanizes some laboratory testing, saving personnel and assuring greater accuracy electronic blood cell counters; a maternity department and nursery completely renovated within the decade; and a service recently installed — an electroencephalograph for diagnosing brain damage, tumors, and abnormalities.

Reporting on events during 1963, the booklet noted the observance of the School of Nursing's 75th year, the appointment of a new Chaplain Coordinator and Protestant Chaplain, and the beginning of a program where nursing students of Lasell Junior College receive their clinical experience at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Adult Courses Begin On July 7

A number of Newton residents are associated with the Adult Education Institute of New England, which has announced a selected series of summer courses to begin Tuesday, July 7.

Courses are offered in drawing and painting, refresher courses in Spanish and Italian, public speaking, writing and efficient reading, among others.

Samuel S. Dennis 3d of 32 Essex road, Chestnut Hill, is an advisor to the Institute. Others associated with the project include J. B. Saltzberg of 116 Rosalie road, Newton Centre, Mrs. Eva Whiting White of 11 Quindic road, Waban, Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes of 186 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, and Professor Malcolm S. Knoles of 53 Beverly road, Newton Highlands.

The courses are held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Booklets with full details may be had by writing to the Adult Education Institute, 419 Boylston street, Boston, or by telephoning CO 7-9696.

Girl Scouts Enjoy Visit To N.Y. Fair

For six Cadette Girl Scouts and their leaders of Troop 557, Bay Path Colonial Girl Scout Council, the frosting on the cake of eight years of Scouting was their three-day trip to New York and the World's Fair last weekend.

Deborah Halliday, Carolyn Kinnach, Christine Laning, Patricia Orner, Sharon Rooney and Jacquelyn Tom, accompanied by Mrs. Donald J. Kinnach and Mrs. John J. Rooney, left Auburndale on Friday via Greyhound bus for Manhattan, where they took the boat cruise around the island, toured the UN and the Empire State Building and visited Radio City Music Hall. Saturday and Sunday the group witnessed the fair's wonders and exhibits.

Last month these same girls were among the last in the Council to earn the coveted Curved Bar, highest rank in Girl Scouting and awarded for the final time this year.

The girls will cross the bridge into Senior Scouting in the fall.

U. of R.I. Gives Degrees To 3

B.S. degrees in Home Economics were awarded to the following by the University of Rhode Island, Kingston, R.I.: Barbara L. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Myers, Waltham St., West Newton, and Barbara R. Goldstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Goldstein, Maplewood Ave., Newton Centre.

Miss Myers began a dietetic internship at Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N.Y., following graduation. Miss Goldstein was married after graduation to a classmate, Evans J. Carter.

Steven R. Bronstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bronstein, Exeter St., West Newton, was awarded a B.S. in Economics.

50 Years Service On New Haven By Newton Man

When Harold A. Sheehan of 37 Oak Terr., Newton Highlands, was honored recently for his half century of service with the New Haven Railroad, members of his family and many Newton friends were on hand at the South Station.

He received his 50-year service pin from Eugene F. Granfield, assistant superintendent.

The veteran train dispatcher joined the railroad as a messenger on the Midland Division in 1911, and became one of the youngest telegraphers in railroading at age 17 in 1914. He became a train dispatcher, the position he now holds, in 1952. In between telegrapher and dispatcher, a space of some 38 years, Mr. Sheehan was operator in the dispatcher's office and a signal station operator at South Braintree and Weir Junction.

TO BETTER DRIVEWAYS

The most modern up-to-date "HOT TOP" driveway is now available to you.

There have been many improvements in the asphalt industry, just as in other progressive businesses. The new mechanical carbon steel teeth grind the hardest rock to an even size for good distribution on your driveway. Raw asphalt is pure, and even heat is filtered through the mixture for better bond. Our experienced men use the new 3 foot aluminum rakes, giving you a much smoother surface.

Three year maintenance absolutely free . . . with costs comparable to 10 years ago.

Norumbega Council Scouts Training at Hidden Valley

Approximately 20 young men from Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, started training at Hidden Valley Scout Reservation in Gilmanton, N. H.

The staff is made up of boys from three towns; Newton, Wellesley and Weston as well as a young minister from India, Rev. K. C. George, serving as a full-time Protestant chaplain. Mr. George is in the United States to further his studies and will return to India next year.

While many of the young men are returning from last season's staff, there is still a need to make a final check on operations prior to camp's opening. This is the main function of the training week.

The camp season opened Sunday, June 28, and will run eight consecutive weeks, closing on Sunday, August 23.

On this year's camp staff are: Bruce Barnard, Wellesley; Richard Benes, West Newton; Chip Fossett, Wellesley; William Freeman, Newtonville; Donald Leach, Weston; Fred Mansfield, Newtonville; Mrs. Lois Miller, R. N., Newton Upper Falls; Steve and Doug Miller, Newton Upper Falls; Steve Ostrow, Newton Centre; Richard Raymond, Newton; John Reading, Brookline; Peter Reidy, Newtonville; Allen Soll, Newton; Carl Tripp, Wellesley; Steve McKenna, Newtonville; and Roger Williams, West Newton.

The camp director is Cooper A. Gilkes, Jr., assistant scout executive, with Norumbega Council. Any one desiring information or reservations at Hidden Valley may contact the Scout Office, 259 Walnut St., Newtonville, or call 244-7410.

Vaccaro Takes Over As Head Of Jr. Chamber

Joseph P. Vaccaro, restaurateur, whose home is at 36 Oakwood road, Auburndale, has promised to devote considerable time to studying current problems during the first half of his administration as president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

In his installation address, he declared that "in order to serve the community better a more intimate knowledge of the problem facing us today is essential."

Vaccaro, a graduate of the public schools of Newton, received his B.S. in Business Administration from Boston College. He is a member of the Newton Democratic City Committee and vice president of the Corpus Christi Holy Name Society.

More Names On GOP Executive Group In City

Additional appointments to the executive committee of the Newton Republican City organization were announced today by its Chairman, Edward C. Uehlein.

Those named are: Mrs. H. A. Arno Heyne, William R. Horner, Alan W. Licarie, William A. Lincoln, Carlton P. Merrill, Warren A. Sutherland, Henry J. Wilson.

Ex-officio members include the following: Mrs. William Lane Bruce, State Committee woman from Norfolk-Suffolk district; Wallace F. Forbes, President, Newton Republican Club; Eugene M. Hirschberg, President, Newton Young Republicans; Mrs. Stanley Miller, President, Newton Women's Republican Club.

The executive committee membership also includes all officers of the City Committee and all Republican Ward Chairmen.

Contest Winner In New York To Model

Pretty Beverlee Packer, of Newton, received the best wishes of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and a congratulatory handshake as the 16-year-old local beauty left Monday for a work-and-fun stay in New York City.

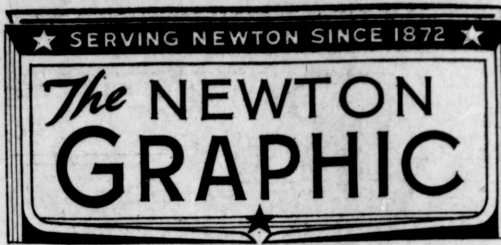

Miss Packer, of 1106 Centre St., Newton Centre, was one of 10 winners selected from among thousands of entrants in the recent "Be A Seventeen Model" contest sponsored by more than 200 department and specialty stores from coast to coast.

Mrs. Harold Gordon of the local sponsoring Berman Teen Types took part with Mayor Gibbs in the official send-off ceremonies held at City Hall.

After 21 Years Service

Combat Navy Flyer Retires From Duty

Lieut-Commander Walter Marusa, U.S.N., son of Mrs. Catherine Marusa, 131 Williams St., Newton Upper Falls, was recently retired from active duty in the U. S. Navy after 21 years service.

He was a Navy combat flyer in World War II and the recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross and two Air Medals.

His most recent assignment was assistant to the Airframes and Power Plant Branch Head of the Technical Division at Philadelphia.

Marusa received his retirement certificate and letter of commendation from Rear Admiral H. F. Kuehl, S.C., U.S.N., commanding officer of the Navy Aviation Supply Office at Philadelphia.

Lieut-Commander Marusa entered the Navy Pre-Flight Program in November, 1942, and received his wings as a Naval Aviator in September, 1943.

He was assigned to Patrol Squadron 110 in the European Theatre and participated in anti-submarine warfare patrols over the Bay of Biscay and the English Channel. For his combat service he was awarded the Distinguished Flying

Newton Model Selected For World's Fair

Suzanne Adler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Morris Adler of 15 Lockwood road, West Newton, has been selected to model New England fashions for the World's Fair Fashion Show, held three times daily, seven days a week on the Village Green area of the New England Pavilion.

Married to Roger E. Adler of Alston, Suzanne was a professional dancer for several years following her graduation from the University of Connecticut.

She has also been engaged with Boston's Hart Model Agency for several years. Outstanding models from the agency were selected for appearance in the World's Fair Fashion Show.

Over sixty New England manufacturers are participating in the show which is emphasizing a "Made In New England—Worn Everywhere" theme. Luggage, cosmetics, footwear, textiles, apparel, and jewelry will be featured in the show. Suzanne will model Warren of Stafford's "Walking Suit".

Mayor Undecided On Scranton Vote

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared today that he is undecided whether he will vote for Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater or Pennsylvania Governor William Scranton at next week's Republican national convention in San Francisco.

Gibbs, a delegate to the convention from the 10th congressional district, said he probably will not make his choice between the two GOP Presidential contenders until shortly before the balloting begins.

Originally, Gibbs was pledged to vote for Henry Cabot Lodge as a favorite son candidate for the Presidency. Lodge, however, has eliminated himself as a Presidential aspirant and is campaigning vigorously for Scranton.

Mayor Gibbs revealed that he is now on the fence, that his mind is completely open and that he could swing voting for either Goldwater or Scranton.

He said that after he reaches San Francisco next Sunday he plans to meet with both Scranton and Goldwater, listen to what they have to say, size up the situation and "play it by ear."

In response to a question, Gibbs said he might be influenced if it appears that Goldwater has the Presidential nomination sewed up but that this would not necessarily be the case.

"I'm not afraid to vote for either man," was the way Gibbs put it when reference

32 Newton Playgrounds Now In Full Operation

Thirty-two City of Newton summer playgrounds are now under full time operation. Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney announced that this eight-week season of planned program activities will last until August 14.

He noted that several of the playgrounds would remain open after that date with a more limited staff and program until Labor Day.

The leadership staff consists of 89 leaders and assistant leaders, four crafts instructors, one tennis instructor functioning under the direction of four recreation supervisors.

Following is a list of the playgrounds and staff assigned to them. All areas operate from 9:30 to noon and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday unless otherwise listed.

District I — Miss Lillian Swartz, supervisor: Albermarle (open evenings) — Richard Tanner, Anne Barry; Boyd—Charles Vento, Ellen Roche; Carr (open evenings and Saturday mornings)—Mrs. Edith Wolcott, Mary Lee Carroll, Gerald Bernstein, Donald Merna, Suzanne Kissell; Hawthorne (open evenings and Saturday mornings) — Brad Connor, John Murphy, Mrs. Carol

I was," Mayor Gibbs observed. "But that doesn't necessarily mean I will vote for him."

He emphasized that he is unpledged, uncommitted and "can go either way."

The Mayor said he would talk with Senator Leverett Saltonstall before making his decision on how he will cast his vote.

When it was pointed out that Saltonstall probably will join with Lodge in backing Scranton, Gibbs said he and Saltonstall would not necessarily be voting for the same candidate.

Mayor Gibbs revealed that the mail coming to his office has been about evenly divided between Scranton and Goldwater.

He said Scranton probably is more popular than Goldwater in Newton but that in other parts of the 10th congressional district there appears to be more sentiment for Goldwater than for Scranton.

Mayor and Mrs. Gibbs will leave by plane for San Francisco at 9:45 next Sunday morning.

Attorney General Edward W. Brooke, a Newton resident, will have one of the major roles at the GOP national convocation and will deliver a nationally televised tribute to former President Eisenhower next Tuesday.

Brooke, a delegate-at-large to the convention, is considered certain to vote for Scranton, as are most members of the Bay State contingent.

Former Representative Irene K. Thresher of Newton is an alternate-at-large to the Republican convention which opens next Monday.

This legislation was sponsored by the United Community Services and filed by Rep. Bradley.

Newton Solon Cited For Aid Legislation

State Representative Joseph G. Bradley of Newton was the recent recipient of a citation from the Red Feather organization.

The Newton legislator received the citation from Robert H. Gardiner, president of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston.

Bradley was cited for his efforts in the legislature to get passage of comprehensive relocation assistance legislation to help persons displaced by eminent domain landtaking.

This legislation was sponsored by the United Community Services and filed by Rep. Bradley.

2 Newtonites Officials Of Boston Museum

Two prominent Newton residents have been named members of the corporation of Boston's Museum of Science. They are Robert F. Krouse, 74 Avalon road, Waban, and Roger P. Sonnabend, 46 Malia terrace, Newton.

Krouse, president of New England Electric System, is a native of Cleveland, Ohio. He received his AB degree from the University of Arizona, and his JD degree from the University of Michigan Law School.

Prior to joining the New England Electric System in 1948, as an attorney, he was director of the public utilities division of the Securities and Exchange Commission. He is married to the former Ann W. Verner.

One Traffic Mishap Mars 4th Weekend

An 11-year-old bicycle rider was the only traffic victim during one of the quietest July 4 weekends in the memory of the Newton police.

Joseph Terranova of 40 Jasset St., Newton, was injured when his bike crashed into a truck as it made a left turn from Watertown St. into Bridge St. on the afternoon of the holiday.

Pompeo DeRubeis of 66 Lincoln Rd., Newton, was the truck driver.

At Newton-Wellesley Hospital it was found the boy had suffered back and leg injuries.

Other than that accident, about the only events to cause work for the police were reports of illegal fireworks explosions. In one incident, a car seat was burned by a thrown firecracker.

In another, a carload of boys accused of tossing the explosives were released after no witness came forward to identify them.

President Gets Roses

Kiwi Clubbers Elect

What do those charming and courteous air line stewards do when they retire from the service?

Well, those who have served with American Airlines have an organization, the Kiwi Club. Most of the members wear wedding bands and have added a slight matronly mellowness to their former svelte beauty as hostesses of the clouds.

The local angle to all this is that the newly elected president of the Boston Chapter of the Kiwi Club is Mrs. Harriet Low of Hobart Rd., West Newton. Also of local significance is the fact that the club's vice president is Mrs. Madge Rote of 38 Adella Ave., West Newton. Mrs. Virginia Publicover of Swampscott is the newly elected secretary.

Installation of Kiwi Club Boston Chapter officers was held recently at a Boston hotel. Included in the ceremony of installation was the presentation of a bouquet of roses to the new president, Mrs. Low, by the vice president, Mrs. Rote.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Goldwater Seen Big Winner; Scranton's Task Hopeless

Despite all the fury, the fanfare and the 11th hour ballyhoo for Governor William Scranton, the cold political evidence indicates that Senator Barry Goldwater has the Republican Presidential nomination all wrapped up and ready to carry home.

When a candidate reaches the number of delegate votes he needs to achieve nomination, as Goldwater has done, he almost invariably picks up support rather than loses it.

Some delegates at next week's GOP conclave in San Francisco will cast their votes for Goldwater merely because they want to be with the winner, not because they prefer him over Scranton. That's the way it has been at conventions back through the years.

Local Nuns To Study Business In Short Course

Mother Marlin Craig, controller of Newton College of the Sacred Heart, and Mother Claire Kondolf, treasurer, will study in Nebraska later this month.

They will be among 160 college business staff members taking the short course in business management July 19 to 23 at the University of Omaha.

Mother Craig will study on a Carnegie Grant. The course was devised by the late Charles Hoff, financial secretary of the University of Omaha. It was the first of its kind in the nation.

Mrs. Wombolt, a neighborhood mother, contributed her services by driving a group of the children.

On July 3, at an Independence Day celebration at Newton Highlands Playground, the children were awarded prizes for their patriotic paintings and bicycle decorating.

The winners of the drawing contest were Ester Jonasson, Gary MacCabe, Penny Arafé, Bruce Arafé and Dave Dolinka.

The winners of the bicycle decorating contest were Colleen Wambolt, Gary Frichette and Linda Johnson. Both contests were judged by the recreation leaders: Ann Kenney, Marilyn Firger, and William O'Donnell and Supervisor Robert Doherty.

Beginning in September, an advanced class in vocal music will be offered to Newton's junior high school students.

The course will be offered at Newton High School Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock, and will be as follows:

- 1-Vocal ensemble (choral singing) 30 minutes.
- 2-Group voice lessons 30 minutes.
- 3-Selfage (sight reading) and theory 30 minutes.

The instructors will be Raymond Smith of Weeks Junior High and Donald Sullivan of Warren Junior High.

Applications for auditions for the course can be had at each junior high school during the first week of school in September, James H. Remley, music supervisor, announces.

Auditions will be held the following week, and classes will begin Sept. 30. There is no charge for the course, but to be selected for it an audition is required.

MARGARET M. HECKLER
Margaret Heckler Seeks 2nd Term In Gov. Council

Mrs. Margaret M. Heckler today announced her candidacy for reelection to a second term in the Governor's Council from the second councillor district.

The first woman ever elected a Governor's Councillor, Mrs. Heckler has won a reputation during the past 18 months as a diligent and conscientious worker who devotes nearly her full time to her Council duties and to helping the people of her district.

Earlier this year, she was successful in obtaining improved quarters for blind employees of the State Division of the Blind who make mops and brooms.

They have been doing this work in a building without ventilation and without elevator service.

Mrs. Heckler held up a proposal for renewing the lease on that building and was able to find a better one which the Commonwealth could rent at a lower cost.

As a result of her efforts, the blind workers now perform their labors in vastly improved surroundings and without hazards to themselves.

Councillor Heckler made a forceful and successful fight to keep the Pondville Hospital in operation for treatment and rehabilitation of cancer victims.

She expressed the conviction that the hospital has made possible the recovery of many people who would not drive into Boston for treatment.

State public health officials yielded to her arguments, and the hospital was kept at Pondville.

In announcing her candidacy for reelection to a new term in the Executive Council, Mrs. Heckler declared that she has judged all persons nominated by the Governor for State positions strictly on the basis of their qualifications and without regard for party affiliations.

A practicing attorney, Mrs. Heckler is a graduate of Albertus Magnus College in New Haven and the Boston College Law School. At one time she was an exchange student at the University of Leiden in Holland where she studied international politics.

She is a member of the Boston Bar Association, the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers' Association and the Massachusetts Association of Women Lawyers.

Boy Scouts Plan Camping Trip In New Mexico

Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces that a group of Explorers and explorer-age Scouts will visit Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico, during July and part of August. Philmont is a 127,000-acre national Scout Camp with everything from mountain climbing to horseback riding.

The Council contingent will include 24 boys and three adults from Newton, Wellesley and Weston. The group will be a part of a regional trip with Scouts from all over New England. Plans call for departure on July 13, and upon arrival at Philmont, the spending of 14 days in the Sangre de Cristo range of the Rocky Mountains. The group returns home on August 6th.

Adult Leaders are Thomas E. Casey, district scout executive, Norumbega Council, serving as tour director with Hirschel Darwin, Newton, and Ronald D. Scrivner, Newton, serving as crew advisors. The junior leaders are Thomas Wright, Post III, Wellesley, serving as Senior Crew Leader; Clifton Dean, Troop 219, Newton, correspondent and scribe; Warren Feldman, Post 217, Newton, and David Hunt, Post 219, Newton, serving as crew leaders.

Philmont Scout Ranch was donated to the Boy Scouts of America by Waite Phillips after whom the camp is named. Philmont is a working Western Ranch with year-round responsibility for farms, orchards, timber, livestock, (the largest collection of saddle horses in New Mexico) conservation and ranch management. The trip is sure to fill the memories of the group for years to come.

B. C. School Of Nursing Honors Dr. Rubenstein

The A. Daniel Rubenstein Lectureship in Gerontology has been established at Boston College School of Nursing by medical associates and friends of the noted public health official.

The grant for the series was made in recognition of Dr. Rubenstein's work to raise the standards of nursing home care in Massachusetts.

Director of the Massachusetts Bureau of Hospital Facilities and deputy commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Dr. Rubenstein has been a lecturer on public health at B.C. School of Nursing for 17 years.

He makes his home at 164 Ward St., Newton Centre.

Solicitor Hopes For Fall Airing Of Case

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones expressed the hope recently that the case involving a year-old controversy between the city and a Framingham contractor over Newton's purchasing ordinance could be argued before the Supreme Court when the term opens in September.

The case, Jones explained, has been referred to the State Supreme Court without a finding by a Superior Court justice.

A four-room addition to the Lincoln-Eliot School has already been delayed more than a year because of the controversy.

The bids were opened in June, 1963, and Builders Realty Company of Framingham submitted the lowest figure. City Purchasing Agent Thomas J. Forde rejected the low bid of $237,343 because the bidder failed to comply with the terms of the city ordinance, which requires copies of bids to be filed with the comptroller of accounts.

According to the city solicitor, the purpose of the requirement is to prevent collusion in bidding.

The Rocheford Construction Company of Natick, second lowest bidder, with a figure of $240,800, was awarded the contract. Builders Realty Company obtained an injunction by which the city was prevented from issuing a building permit for the school addition.

Miss Coffin Is Given Promotion

ROBERT Q. CRANE

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane Opens Campaign

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane has launched a vigorous campaign for the Democratic nomination for the office he presently holds.

Crane was elected State Treasurer by the Legislature after former Treasurer John T. Driscoll was appointed chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late William F. Callahan.

He has won praise for the efficiency of the operation of the Treasurer's Office, one of the busiest agencies at the State House, during the period he has been directing it.

Crane was overwhelmingly endorsed for State Treasurer at last month's Democratic State Convention.

Because of the pressure of his duties, his campaigning is limited to nights and weekends, but he has an energetic organization of friends and supporters working in his behalf.

Crane served four terms and eight years in the House of Representatives. During that time he became familiar with all phases of the State government.

He was assistant majority floor leader in the House, a member of the powerful House rules committee, vice chairman of both the legislative committee on municipal finance and the legislative committee on taxation, a member of the election laws committee, the military affairs committee and the special redistricting committee, and chairman of the water supply committee.

A disabled veteran of World War II, Crane served with the Sixth Marine Division on Guadalcanal and Okinawa and later was stationed in Japan. After his discharge from the service, Crane returned to the Boston College School of Business Administration where he graduated in 1949.

He is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans as well as the Knights of Columbus and the Elks.

South Minor League In Championship Tie

There was a tie for first place in Newton South Minor League Eastern Division as the successful season came to the end, but in a delayed playoff, the Colonels defeated the Hawks 22 to 8, and became division champs.

Because of the rain-delayed playoff, there was no time for a world's series, so the Colonels, and Moccasins of the Western Division, share the championship of the league.

What's The Weather Going To Be?
The happy, care-free, vacation season is upon us and with it comes the melancholy born of trying desperately to ascertain the weather conditions at our famed New England beaches by bending an ear in the direction of the radio and television meteorological oracles.

Now, these weather boys are very personable, they smile always and have nice teeth. They are friendly fellows and prefer to be known by their familiar names, Bob, Joe, Jack, Bill, Ed, Al, and many others.

However, when we dial them in especially on the week-end, all we are looking for is something definite about weather conditions at all the popular beaches. It might be advisable to tip off these lads to the fact that there are some pretty fair beaches located elsewhere than on Cape Cod.

Maine can boast a few not to mention New Hampshire. But, alas and also alack, the New Hampshire coastline is passed over and usually alluded to as "the Maine coast."

There is considerable reference made to conditions inland in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont but the coastlines are brushed off far too casually to satisfy many thousands of loyal beach goers and their families.

It has been noted that detailed information is forthcoming regarding every ski spot in New England during the winter months. This is fine for the skiers but we must assume that the beach goers outnumber them and are due some consideration in the summertime.

Ski areas are specifically named and located in the winter broadcasts; our beaches are usually massed in one lump and waved at with an indecisive index finger.

Certainly, it couldn't be that the broadcast boys are timid about a possible commercial taint edging into their weathercasts. Or, are we to believe that the ski lodges and slopes are free and not operated for profit.

We realize the difficulty encountered in predicting New England weather. The whimsies of Dame Nature are well known and recognized in the six state area.

However, most beach goers feel that a more definitive approach to conditions at broadcast time and expected beach weather during the day and in the immediate future would materially add to the enjoyment of the summer in these parts.

Of course, many beach-bound families ignore the weather broadcasts completely, don't bother to dial them in, and thoroughly enjoy themselves in the surf. This they have found to be their only protection.

Oh, the personality, the smiles, and white teeth are fine; so are the many animated maps and other gimmicks. However, beach goers are not looking for entertainment from the weather boys — just "what kind of a day will it be?"

No doubt, there are folks who are waiting with bated breath to find out about the weather on Mt. Washington. But, it doesn't lend any assistance to the family planning a beach excursion. How about it, Bob, Al, Bill, Ed, Jack, Jill, etc. Come to think of it, Don is pretty good about the beaches.

Fourth Of July Nostalgia

The passing into history of the recent Fourth of July holiday brought nostalgic memories to those somewhat removed from their teens, of other, and star-spangled, Fourth's.

Fireworks for individual use are banned in our great state; and the observance of community fireworks programs appear to be on the way out. It seems that too much of a traffic jam results, or something.

Not too many years back, every family had its own fireworks show on the front stoop or in the back yard. Cities and towns exploded with mammoth pyrotechnic displays; there were parades and midways everywhere. Kids had a ringing in their ears for three days after the Fourth. But it was the Fourth of July.

It seems that some idiots lost fingers or encountered difficulties with the explosives. They are protected now by law. So, hundreds of "go out and get ourselves killed every Fourth of July on the highways. This is known as the "safe and sane" variety.

Pardon the old timers a few snickers — and sighs of regret. Today's kiddies will never have it so good.

Rev. Shrader Retires After 38 Years Duty

The Rev. Ralph R. Shrader, an executive of the Stewardship Council of the United Church of Christ, Philadelphia, has retired after 38 years service as pastor, missionary and a national administrative leader of his denomination.

He is particularly well known throughout the two-million-member church as the director of its International Seminar program which he introduced a decade ago with the assistance of Dr. Harold B. Belcher, Boston, for many years treasurer of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, now part of the United Church Board for World Ministries, overseas arm of the United Church of Christ.

A luncheon honoring Mr. Shrader and his wife, the former Elizabeth Tallmadge Hand, of Topeka, Kansas, at the Robert Morris Hotel in Philadelphia was attended by colleagues from all major branches of the United Church. Principal speakers were Dr. Belcher, now retired, and the Rev. B. Kenneth Anthony and Dr. John A. Reuling, general secretaries of the United Church Board for World Ministries, both of New York City.

The Rev. Dr. Sheldon E. Mackey, Philadelphia, executive secretary of the Stewardship Council, presented Mr. Shrader with a gift and a portfolio of letters of tribute from scores of denominational leaders, missionaries and lay people in all parts of the United States.

In 1926, a few months after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Shrader were appointed missionaries of the American Board and sailed the same year for China where they taught in Foochow College, Foochow, until 1932 when drastic budget reductions made necessary by the Great Depression led to their recall.

Before joining his denomination's national administrative staff in 1945, Mr. Shrader was for seven years minister of the Bethany Congregational Church, Montpelier, Vermont. He had previously served as associate minister of the Plymouth Church in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

After serving for four years as secretary for the American Board in the Missions Council (now the Stewardship Council), he was made project secretary of the national staff of the Council.

Over the past 10 years almost 50 of these study sessions have brought together laymen, ministers, missionaries and nationals of many countries to discuss the work and needs of those representing the mission, board overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Shrader will spend the next few months at their summer home in Meredith, N. H., returning to their home, 31 Holden road, West Newton, in the fall. They expect to spend the winter months in Florida where Mr. Shrader has already begun a program of volunteer work among the denomination's churches in that area.

(The United Church of Christ is a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and Congregational Christian churches.)

Day Camp For Handicapped Children Open For Season

Newton's summer recreational program for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children got underway Monday (July 6) and will continue through Friday, August 14.

The outdoor camp program is being conducted at the former Peabody Home for Crippled Children on Brookline St., Newton Centre. Also, explains Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney, two classrooms for lunches, rest periods, rainy day activities and toilet facilities have been made available by the Newton School Department.

Cost of the program is shared by the state and the city.

The Recreation Department has had excellent cooperation in planning the program from the State Department of Special Education, the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children and from Miss Margaret M. Otto of the Division of Counseling Services of the Newton School Department, Commissioner Penney states.

Political Highlights

Lodge who are beating the drums for him the task they face is just about hopeless.

What they are trying to do is to pull votes away from a candidate who has his fight won. That usually can't be done in politics.

Some members of the Massachusetts delegation who were originally committed to vote for Lodge will wind up balloting for Goldwater when they sense the rumble of the winning bandwagon.

Scranton made a valiant try against Goldwater. The only thing was that he entered the fight when it was all over. From this distance it simply seems to be a case of counting Barry's votes.

Role As Delegate May Injure Volpe

Former Governor John A. Volpe probably is wishing privately that Henry Cabot Lodge had remained a favorite son candidate for President instead of eliminating himself from the Presidential contention and joining in the do-or-die drive for Pennsylvania's Governor William Scranton.

Volpe is a delegate to the Republican national convention in San Francisco. He could have cast his vote for Lodge without offending anybody. That's what he would be expected to do.

But it will be a different matter when it comes to choosing between Governor Scranton and Senator Barry Goldwater. No matter what he does, he'll displease one wing of the Republican party in Massachusetts.

The likelihood is that Volpe and most other members of the Bay State contingent will start by giving Lodge a complimentary vote even though Lodge himself says he is not a candidate and is not available for the Presidency.

Before the rollcall is completed, however, Volpe and the other Massachusetts delegates will have to make a choice between Goldwater and Scranton. That's when Mr. Volpe will be wishing he declined the honor of being a delegate to the GOP convocation.

Volpe as a shrewd politician will realize that he will not win any votes no matter what he does and that he can't avoid losing some votes no matter what he does. He will be on the sharp horns of a painful dilemma. The likelihood is that he will wind up by voting for Scranton although he hasn't said what he will do.

However, Volpe is a liberal Republican, and he presumably will want to join with such other Republican leaders as Lodge, Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Attorney General

Edward A. Brooke who will be for Scranton and against Goldwater.

That sounds like a fairly simple decision and about the only one Volpe really can make. In a way it is.

But he'll be voting against the man who undoubtedly will be his party's nominee for President, and he'll be offending the right wing of the Republican party whose support he will desperately need in his fall election battle with Governor Peabody.

As one Volpe lieutenant put it, about the only way Volpe could do more harm to himself under the circumstances than by voting against Goldwater would be to vote for Goldwater.

Henry Cabot Lodge discovered 12 years ago that the conservative elements in the GOP don't quickly forgive and forget.

Lodge led the fight at the 1952 Republican national convention in Chicago which nominated Dwight D. Eisenhower and scuttled Robert A. Taft.

When Lodge came home to Massachusetts to run for re-election to the Senate, the Taft adherents helped to scuttle him despite the pleas of Taft himself that they rally behind Lodge, and the late John F. Kennedy was elected to the upper chamber of Congress and the place Lodge had held. To this day the old Taft partisans haven't forgiven Lodge.

Volpe, of course, will not get as far out on a limb as Lodge did; neither will he stir up as much feeling as Lodge. But both liberal and conservative Republicans will be watching to see how he votes between Scranton and Goldwater. When the convention is over, one group will take it for granted that he voted the way he should have voted. The members of the other faction will be angry that he didn't vote the way they feel he should have. Volpe can't win either way.

Smith College Chapel Scene Of Allen - Sweetser Nuptials

Snapdragons, mums, carnations and candelabras decorated the altar of the Smith College Chapel in Northampton, on Saturday, June 13th, for the marriage of Miss Ellen Merrill Sweetser to Philip Brown Allen.

Rear Admiral Willard M. Sweetser of Philadelphia and Mrs. Martha Sweetser of Waterbury, Ct., and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Harold Allen, Jr., of Bronxville, N. Y., formerly of Newton Centre are the couple's parents.

Dr. Gerbert Hitchen officiated at the 3 o'clock afternoon service. A reception was held at the Smith College Alumnae House.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta styled with a bateau neckline and short sleeves. The bodice and full-length sheath skirt, which featured a panel of organza, were trimmed with a row of beaded lace and re-embroidered Alencon lace, entraine.

Her mantilla, trimmed with similar lace, was elbow-length. She carried a crescent bouquet of white butterfly roses, baby's breath, and miniature ivy.

Miss Lucia Clapps of Waterbury was honor maid. The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Allen of Bronxville, N. Y., sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Leila May of Fairfield, Conn.

The best man was David Burnes of Phoenix, Arizona. Mark Allen of Bronxville, brother of the bridegroom, and Joseph Alcock of New York City were the ushers.

Now on a tour of Canada and the western states, the couple plan to live in Berkeley in the fall.

The bride was graduated from Smith College this June, where she majored in history. Mr. Allen was graduated from Roxbury Latin School and Amherst College, class of 1964. Planning to begin graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley, he received a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship ship.

Miss Barbara Louise Gorney Weds Dr. Richard Ira Basch

Miss Barbara Louise Gorney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Gorney of 386 Quinobegun road, Waban, and Dr. Richard Ira Basch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Basch of 360 Quinobegun road, Waban, were married recently at the Somerset Hotel in Boston.

Rabbi Albert S. Goldstein officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon service, which was followed by a reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's full-length gown of white peau de soie had a sabrina neckline and elbow-length sleeves. A matching headpiece held in place her tiered illusion veil. She carried white gladioli and stephanotis.

Her attendants were Miss Susan M. Granoff of New Haven, Ct., and Miss Linda J. Gesmer of Newton.

Dr. Lloyd E. Hawes of Wellesley served as best man. The ushers were Martin H. Gorney of Miami, Fla., Dr. Peter Pillone of Fort Lee, N. J., and William Polit of Winthrop.

The couple plan to make their home in Montgomery, Ala., for the next year.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School and Mount Holyoke College.

Dr. Basch is a graduate of Tabor Academy, Harvard College and the Boston University Medical School, magna cum laude. He was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha National Medical honor society. A member of the American College of Radiology, he is serving as a captain in the Air Force.

Day campers will be picked up by bus at the YWCA or at several stops along the way at 8:30 a.m., Monday through Thursday. They will return each day at 4:30 p.m.

Newton Teacher, Miss Every Is Bride of Dr. Yarel

Bermuda is the honeymoon destination of Dr. Robert Paul Yarel and his bride, the former Miss Ellen Every, whose marriage was solemnized recently at the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mills Every of Roslindale. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Yarel of Brooklyn, N.Y., are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Robert Boyle officiated at the 3 o'clock afternoon double-ring ceremony. The Longwood Towers in Brookline was the setting for the reception.

Escorted by her father, the bride's traditional white gown of peau de soie was fashioned with side panels of Venetian lace re-embroidered with seed pearls.

A circlet of matching jeweled lace held in place her elbow-length bouffant illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis accented with green ivy.

Mrs. Richard Dennis Driscoll of Chestnut Hill was matron of honor.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Herbert Yarel of Brooklyn, N.Y. The ushers were George J. Every of Dedham, brother of the bride, and Norman E. Kenneally of Riverdale, N.Y. Michael Yarel of Paris, France, another brother of the bridegroom, was honorary usher.

The bride was graduated from Notre Dame Academy, Roxbury, the Boston College School of Education and State College at Boston. She has been teaching school in Newton.

Dr. Yarel was graduated from Brooklyn College, and the New York University College of Dentistry. He is a lieu-

Wheaton Grad, Miss Vollono, Bride of William J. Pote

Sprays of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar and pews of the Sacred Heart Church here, for the recent marriage of Miss Dorothea Terese Vollono to William Joseph Pote.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vincent J. Vollono of 971 Centre street, Newton Centre, and the late Mr. Vollono. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stanislaus Pote of Brooklyn, N.Y., are the bridegroom's parents. The Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, D.D., performed the 3:30 afternoon ceremony and read the Papal Blessing. A reception was held at the Hotel Somerset in Boston.

Mr. Dewey Mollomo of New London, N.H., uncle of the bride, gave her away. She was attired in ivory peau de soie and Alencon lace on French illusion embroidered with clusters of seed pearls.

The over-lace jacket had a batteau neckline and long tapered sleeves. Garlands of Alencon lace and seed pearls highlighted the bell-shaped skirt, which terminated in a full court train.

A sculptured jeweled lace crown was fastened with a cathedral-length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Janice Pirano of Lexington was maid of honor, while Mrs. Gus Saunders of Waban was matron of honor for her cousin.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Vincent Pote of Brooklyn, N.Y. Heading the corps of ushers was Gus Saunders of Waban. Assisting him were Paul Mollomo of Dover, N.H., and Dan Guarini of Sudbury, both cousins of the bride, David Smith of Westwood, Walter M. Fife of North Scituate, William Weinmeyer of Hasbrough Heights, N.J., and Richard Kennedy of Watertown.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a lemon yellow sheer summer woolen sheath with a matching sleeveless cape trimmed with fox fur. Her accessories were beige.

After a trip to Puerto Rico, Aruba and Montego Bay, the couple plan to live in Belmont.

The bride, a graduate of Wheaton College, received her master's degree from Wellesley College.

Mr. Pote a graduate of Chauncy Hall Preparatory School, received both his B.S. and his E.E. degrees from Northeastern University. He is now an electronics engineer.

Yanks Take Braves In Little League Playoff

Newton South Little League wound up an exciting season recently with the Yankees defeating the Braves in a special playoff for the title. The Yanks, the first team other than the Red Sox and Braves to win first place in the history of the league, received two well pitched games from Stan Swartz and Carl Jonasson to turn back the Braves, 1-0 and 14-1.

The first was a heartbreaker for Braves ace Frank Hurvitz who retired 14 in a row only to lose on a single by Jon Michals, an error, and a wild pitch.

Carl Jonasson struck out 10 and walked nobody in the second as the Yanks struck for 10 runs in the fourth to ice the decision. Leo Costa had two hits in that inning. Charley Badavis, and Barry Cain had two hits each, while Leo Costa and Jon Michals had three hits each.

The second half was a four way race between the Yanks, Braves, Tigers and Colts.

Each team had a shot at first place, but at the wrong time the Giants knocked over the Colts and Tigers and the Red Sox nearly off the Braves.

The Braves wound up with the leading batter in the league in the person of Frank Hurvitz who batted .521. Hurvitz also led the league in scoring runs with 22, hits with 24, homeruns with six, and most pitching victories with six, and tied for first in RBI with 20. Dave Zeitz led the league with eight stolen bases, and had 14 RBI. Dan Wattine hit .452, had 19 hits, and 11 RBI.

The Yanks led the league in nothing but the championship. They had Carl Jonasson who was the No. 2 hitter in the league at .510, who also scored 18 runs, had 23 hits, nine doubles, 11 RBI, and who won five and lost one with 37 strikeouts. Also starring for the Yanks was Barry Cain who hit .395 with 18 RBI, Charley Badavis who scored 19 runs, Leo Costa and Stan Swartz.

Fred Virgilio led the league in strikeouts with 70 while winning four and losing two. He along with Jim Gamble and Paul Selby made the Colts dangerous. Gamble hit .479, scored 15 runs, 22 hits, 20 RBI, and four homers. Selby hit for .467 and had 21 hits. Virgilio hit .405, had 16 runs scored, and 19 hits, three of them homers.

The Tigers were led by Jim Stavits who hit .444, Bob Davine with .400, John Lopez and Ken Vlass. John Hoilo, Bob Davine and Gardner Rowbotham gave the Tigers a strong pitching staff. Hoilo had four victories and Davine three with Hoilo striking out 38 and Rowbotham 36.

Ken Green led the Giants with .422 and upset the Colts at the wrong time. Dick Johnson had 11 RBI and Jim Cotton had 37 strikeouts. Tom O'Shaughnessy and Jim Smith were big guns for the Red Sox hitting .362 and .348, respectively. Each had 16 hits. Tom Phillips chimed in with 13 hits and had a .317 average.

Outstanding Senior

William J. Jailet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo F. Jailet, 95 Glen Ave., Newton Centre, graduate of St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N. H., was selected as one of the 10 outstanding seniors. A graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Newton Centre, he was awarded a B.A. degree in Sociology.

Little Girls Get Echo Back And A Lesson In Democracy

Five small girls from Newton Highlands have assured the return of their lost echo, and incidentally have had a fine lesson in democracy.

The seven-year-old youngsters wrote individual letters last week to Commissioner Robert F. Murphy of the Metropolitan District Commission with a plea for repair of the wooden steps and a Platform below famed Echo Bridge in Newton Upper Falls.

Plainly, they described the disappointment of their school class, and later a Blue Bird troop of Camp Fire Girls, in finding the steps too hazardous to descend to Hemlock Gorge where lofty Echo Bridge produces a delightful echo.

"We could not go down to hear our echo because the steps are broken or missing," wrote Carol Nally of 12 Bernard St. "We would like to go over again. Please try to replace the steps for us."

Commissioner Murphy arranged a quick inspection of the stairway which leads to a platform 50 feet below a huge granite M.D.C. water viaduct and footbridge over the Charles River. An enormous arch produces a faithful echo.

Orders went out immediately to obtain bids for a repair job.

But Murphy decided this was a chance to convert the episode into a "lesson in democracy." He wrote the youngsters separate letters, thanking them for helping the M.D.C. "do our job better, since we may not have known about the problem right away."

After assuring them they could soon return to Echo Bridge and "walk down the steps to the platform safely and have fun with your echo," he explained:

"From all this I hope you will learn a priceless lesson about the way we try to run this wonderful country of ours. I would like you to understand that the M.D.C. and every other agency of our government have been created to serve the people. We try to do our best, but sometimes we fail to do our job as well as we should. Then it is up to a little girl like you to speak up—just as you have done."

"I felt this would really serve as a lesson in democracy," she explained, "so we encouraged them to write to Commissioner Murphy. I don't believe in citizens just complaining about conditions and doing nothing to find the answers. It was a good opportunity for the children to see for themselves how to get things done."

It worked exactly that way. Echos will soon be resounding again in Hemlock Gorge!

Rambler Classic 770 Two-Door Hardtop and famed San Francisco cable car. Product of American Motors

Highstyle Hilltopper... Rambler Classic V-8
This dazzling hardtop is the Rambler Classic 770. It takes off with more V-8 power than the standard V-8 in the top-size Ford or Chevrolet, parks easier, has virtually the same room, yet costs over $200 less,* and gives you a long list of important advantages at no extra cost. And with what you save on Rambler, you can keep your pocketbook happy and still add smart, sporty options like floor shift (manual or automatic), reclining bucket seats with console, seven-position steering wheel, power steering, power brakes, power windows—you name them. If you like fun, flair and glamour—and smart savings, too—now is the time to see your nearby Rambler dealer.

During its first Newton semester, the clinic program will be arranged to serve elementary, junior high and senior high school students in the areas of reading and spelling.

Courses will be directed toward these specific objectives:
1—Remedial reading for students who are achieving below present grade standards.
2—Developmental reading for average and above average students who wish to develop reading and study skills to potential.

3—Speed reading and comprehension.
While rapid reading is to be given proportional emphasis in each type of course, more intensive training is offered to junior and senior high school students who are ready to benefit.

Prior to instruction, each student enrolled will complete a series of diagnostic tests to evaluate his needs. Because of its importance in the development of every child, early detection of reading disabilities should be of primary concern to parents and teachers, the clinic maintains.

While reading handicaps treated by the clinic vary in degree of intensity, many of the students are not classed as remedial reading cases, but merely corrective cases—students who have experienced some interruption in systematic acquisition instruction. Given an opportunity to be taught in small groups, they get to compete with a measure of success.

Basic Training
Thomas A. McBurney of 93
Central avenue, Newtonville, a Newton High graduate, has been assigned to eight weeks of basic training at Fort Dix,
N. J., in conjunction with the Reserve Forces Act.

Rev. Deats To Be Speaker At Summer Service

The Rev. Paul Deats, Jr., of the Boston University School of Theology will be the preacher next Sunday, July 12, at the Newton Union Summer Service. The service will be held at 10 o'clock at the Auburndale Congregational Church, Hancock and Woodland Sts. in Auburndale.

The organist for the service will be Ralph Woodworth, Jr., and the soloists Miss Henrietta McKee, soprano, and Ivan Oak, tenor. Nursery care for children will be provided.

Rev. Deats is now professor of Social Ethics and of Religion in Higher Education at the Boston University School of Theology. He was born in Texas and received his education at Tarleton State College and at Southern Methodist University where he received his A.B. degree. In 1943 the Union Theological Seminary awarded him his B.D., then after study at Garrett, University of Texas and Harvard College at intervals between 1945-1953, he received his P.D.D. at Boston University in 1954.

He has held ministries in Greenwich Village, N. Y. C., and at the University of Texas Wesley Foundation. He is chairman, Commission on Education, Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale; co-chairman, Newton Fair Housing Committee; vice-chairman, National Council, Fellowship of Reconciliation and is on the executive committee, Commission on Higher Education, National Council of Churches.

He holds membership in the Society for Christian Social Ethics, Society for the Scientific Study of Religion; American Anthropological Association, American Sociological Society, American Association of University Professors. He is the co-author of "Methodism and Society," Guidelines for Strategy (1962) and the author of "Social Change and Moral Values" (1963).

During the week of July 10-July 16, the Rev. Daniel Bliss will provide the pastoral care for the churches cooperating in the Union Summer Service program. He may be reached at 244-0378 or 244-2690, and will be glad to be of service if needed.

Miss Loeb To Take 3-Month European Tour

Miss Lisa P. Loeb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Loeb, 170 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, leaves July 17 for a three month tour of Spain, France, Italy and part of Yugoslavia.

She also plans to visit the family she lived with while studying in Spain two years ago.

Miss Loeb was graduated from Newton South High School in 1962. She is now a junior at Drew University, Madison, N. J., and plans to study in Italy independently for the 1964-65 academic year at the University of Florence.

As a history of art major, Miss Loeb will return to Drew for her senior year when she will receive her bachelor of arts degree.

She plans to continue her studies in Italian at graduate school.

City-Created Snag Blocks Apartment Plan

The two-year-old proposal for an apartment development in Chestnut Hill to cost in the vicinity of $15,000,000, has been subjected to further delay, it was brought out at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

The present snag, as explained by Harry H. Ham, Jr., chairman of the committee on Claims and Rules, is a quirk in the city's off-street parking ordinances.

"The city," Ham said "has created a problem by passing an ordinance against parking in a Residence F Zone within the setback line."

"The situation thus produced confounds the petition of Chestnut Hill Towers, Inc.," Ham added.

The site plan already approved by the Board provides for such parking in the proposed SNAG -- (See Page 2)

Whittemore In Bid For Fifth Term As Solon

Representative John W. Whittemore of Newtonville, one of the most respected legislators on Beacon Hill, today announced his candidacy for re-election to a fifth term in the House of Representatives from the Fourth Middlesex District.

Whittemore, who lives at 43 Otis street, in Newtonville, will seek Republican renomination in the Primary in the legislative district which takes in Wards 1, 2 and 3 of Newton and Ward 6 of Waltham.

One of Newton's best known public figures, Whittemore has established a reputation as an outstanding Republican vote-getter.

Representative Whittemore has resided in Newton for more than four decades and over a period of years has taken an active role in various community and civic affairs. He has headed drives

Fisher To Fill Unexpired Term

The Board of Aldermen voted approval Monday night of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' appointment of Champe A. Fisher, 43 Prince St., West Newton, as a member of the Board of Appeals, Zoning Laws, to fill the unexpired term of Edward B. Murphy, who resigned. The term runs through Aug. 31, 1968.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

LBJ Is Far Ahead of Barry; Bay State Sure For Johnson

By the time you are reading this, Senator Barry Goldwater probably will have achieved the Republican nomination for President or will be only a step away from claiming the political prize he has been seeking for months.

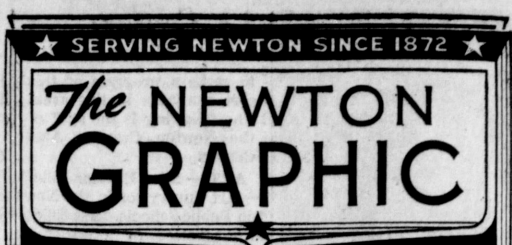

As they fly home from San Francisco after the convention, Massachusetts Republican leaders undoubtedly will be pondering two highly important questions:

1. Whether Goldwater can defeat President Lyndon Johnson?
2. What chance, if any, Goldwater has of carrying Massachusetts?

Goldwater himself gave a realistic and plausible answer to the first question when he declared that Johnson would win if the election were held today but that the Presidential contest may be a horse race by next November.

Most Bay State Republican chieftains privately concede that Goldwater has no hope of carrying Massachusetts.

Aldermen's Meeting Has Limited Agenda

No opposition was voiced Monday night at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to petitions by the Gulf Oil Corporation for permission to reconstruct its service station at 732 Beacon street, Newton Centre, and to increase the storage capacity there for gasoline, oils and related products.

The public hearing was originally scheduled to be heard jointly by the Planning Board, and the committees on Franchises and Licenses and Claims and Rules, but the Planning Board sent word that it had no interest in the matter.

The proposed station would have a three-bay lubrication and office of porcelain-faced masonry, and the gasoline storage capacity would be increased from 10,000 gallons to 15,000.

A representative of the Fire Department said the Fire Prevention Bureau had no objection for increased capacity.

Heard by the full board was a petition for a main drain on private property from the rear of 98 Albert road, west of Lexington street, Auburndale. That, too, met with no opposition.

The following docket items were approved by a vote of 18 to 0, with six Aldermen absent:

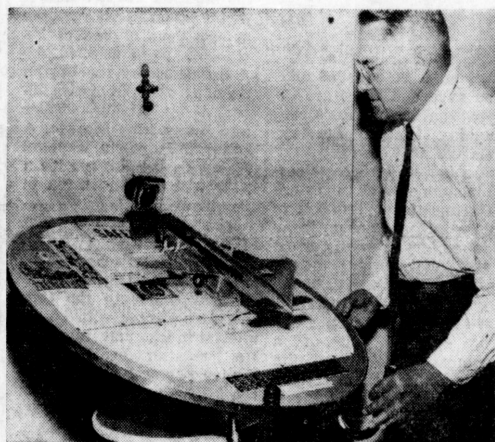

A request by the director of public works for an appropriation of $100,000 to the Street Department from capital outlay expenses for reconstructing Winchester street to Nahanton street, Newton Highlands, under Chapter 90 of the General Laws. Work is expected to start within a month and the lowest bid was $129,000. Under Chapter 90, the state pays 50 percent of the cost

West Newton Bridge Detour

The new Washington St. bridge over the toll road extension in West Newton is expected to be opened to traffic shortly, but meantime, two-way traffic is being detoured from the old Washington St. bridge to the new Putnam St. bridge.

The old Washington St. bridge, now closed, will soon be removed.

Ready For World's Fair

Ralph W. Kenyon, of Newton, with workable model of his "orientation" flight instrument to be exhibited at World's Fair.

Safer Flying Claim Of Newton Inventor

A Newton man, Ralph W. Kenyon, appears to have the answer to safer aircraft blind flight operation by instrument. His pilot orientation instruments are being hailed as a major technological breakthrough.

It is seen as the means of preventing further airplane accidents such as that which resulted in two deaths and the serious injury of Senator Edward M. Kennedy, and the lesser injury of Senator and Mrs. Bayh.

Kenyon's new "Pilot Orientation Indicator" tells an airplane pilot what to do with no instrument lag in bad weather and enables much faster mental orientation in terms of actual control movements.

Newton Doctor To Head Dept. Of Pediatrics

Dr. Marshall B. Kreidberg of Newton has been advanced to full Professor of Pediatrics at Tufts University.

He also will assume the position of Pediatrician-in-Chief of the Boston Floating Hospital for Infants and Children, during the year-long leave of absence of Dr. James Marvin Baty.

Dr. Kreidberg has been an associate professor at Tufts since 1954 and since 1955 assistant Pediatrician-in-Chief at the hospital, the pediatric unit of the Tufts-New England Medical Center.

Dr. Baty is being granted a leave of absence for a year as Professor of Pediatrics and Chairman of the Department of Pediatrics, to devote a greater portion of his time as president of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Dr. Kreidberg is a graduate of Tufts University School of Medicine.

Following graduation, he served with the U.S. Air Force. After his discharge in 1946, he spent the next three years in further training in pediatrics and pediatric cardiology at the Boston Floating Hospital, Boston Children's Hospital, and John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

He is associated with the Beth Israel, Boston Lying-In, St. Elizabeth's, St. Margaret's, Carney, Morton, Lynn and the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., Memorial hospitals.

He holds membership in the American Medical Association and the Massachusetts and Norfolk District Medical Societies.

William Carmen Street Traffic Comm. Head

Alderman William Carmen this week was named chairman of the Aldermanic street traffic committee by President Wendell R. Bauckman of the Board of Aldermen.

Carmen has been acting as committee chairman during the illness of Alderman Charles F. Hovey who has been unable to perform the duties of chairman.

Now serving his second term on the Board of Aldermen, Carmen has been designated as the 1965 United Fund chairman in Newton. He is presently chairman of the national executive committee of the Jewish War Veterans.

Carmen is completing his fourth term as the unpaid chairman of the Newton Housing Authority. He resides at 48 Philmore road, Newton.

Hot Battles Looming In New 4th District

Contests are shaping up for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for the House of Representatives in the new fourth Middlesex legislative district which includes Wards 1, 2 and 3 of Newton and Ward 6 of Waltham.

Contenders in a three-way fight for the two GOP nominations in that ward are Representative John W. Whittemore of Newton, Representative Henry A. Turner of Waltham and former Alderman Robert Tennant of Newton.

Battling for the Democratic endorsements in the same district are Representative Joseph G. Bradley, Democratic State Committeewoman Betty Taymor and Attorney Paul Malloy.

Alderman Andrew J. Magni

and John F. Holden, both of Newton, filed nomination papers at the election department in City Hall as Democratic House candidates in that district but did not submit their signatures to the Secretary of State before Tuesday's 5 p.m. deadline. William Ellingwood is running as an independent.

No primary contests developed in the fifth Middlesex district which covers Wards 5, 6, 7 and 8 of Newton.

Representative Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., and Alderman Theodore D. Mann are unopposed for the Republican nominations in that district.

Also getting a free ride in the primary are the two Democratic candidates, Representative Irving Fishman and Henry Barry.

In the November election Muther, Mann, Fishman and Barry will engage in an interesting scramble for the two House seats now held by Muther and Fishman.

Newton Teen-Agers Give $1500 To Fund

Among many worthwhile humanitarian projects organized in Newton is that of the Raynace Society, a teen-age community group with a definite and dedicated cause.

The New England Kidney Disease Foundation is the special concern of these teenagers and they annually support fund-raising projects to raise money for it.

As a result of recent money raising ventures, the Raynace Society has given the sum of $1,500 to Foundation to help carry on its vital work.

Diane Leshay of Newton Centre, president of the Raynace Society, made the presentation recently of a check for that amount to Daniel J. Finn, president of the New England Kidney Disease Foundation. Also present at the ceremony was Mrs. Eliot Gordon, of

Rev. Mackin SJ Newton Native Cranwell Rector

The Rev. Francis C. Mackin, S.J., executive assistant to the president of Boston College and a Newton native, has been named rector of Cranwell School, the Jesuit preparatory school in Lenox. He assumed the office on Tuesday, July 7.

Fr. Mackin is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mackin. His father was a noted Boston attorney with the law firm of Herrick, Smith, Donald, Farley and Ketchum.

Richard Cardinal Cushing ordained Fr. Mackin a Jesuit priest at Weston College in 1954.

Police Captain Sworn In Force By Predecessor

For the first time in history, a retired Newton police captain administered the oath of office to his successor last Friday.

And the new captain, William F. Quinn, 36, of 1904 Washington street, Auburndale, is the youngest captain ever to be appointed.

Capt. Quinn topped a field of four lieutenants in a civil service examination last January for promotion to captain. His advancement in the department has been rapid. He came on the force in November of 1952, was made a sergeant in May 1958, and was promoted to lieutenant in May of 1961.

Chief Purcell appointed Quinn to the position left vacant by the retirement last year of Captain Charles E.

Pedestrian Bridge Still Uncommitted

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs expressed disappointment following a meeting with John T. Driscoll, new head of the Turnpike Authority in an effort to obtain commitments for a footbridge at Newton Corner and a short piece of new road paralleling Charlesbank road to help relieve an expected bottleneck.

Prior to his death, Driscoll's predecessor, William F. Callahan, had made an oral promise to provide the footbridge that would save a walk of 6/10ths of a mile for pedestrians crossing the toll road extension at the corner.

Driscoll told the mayor, Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt and a Newton Chamber of Commerce delegation, that he would bring the city's requests to the attention of other authority members and the engineers and notify the city of the authority's decisions.

The authority chairman made a counter-move by asking the city to give up the Newton Corner fire station.

3 Eligible For Fireman's Post

The following were certified by the director of civil service as qualified for appointment by Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., to fill a vacancy in the Newton Fire Department for one permanent fire fighter at $5115 per year:

Donald P. Fitzsimmons of 86 Albert Rd., Auburndale, who has preference as a veteran; Michael E. Greeley of 114 Lowell Ave., Newtonville, and Joseph A. Luciano of 223 Linwood Ave., Newtonville.

GOP Names Mrs. Smerling To Registration

Mrs. Herman Smerling of 60 Priscilla road, Chestnut Hill, has been named chairman of voter registration, for the Republican City Committee, it was announced by Edward C. Uehlein, Committee Chairman.

She will head a committee of representatives from each of the city's eight wards.

In making the announcement, Uehlein stressed the importance of the need to register new voters and enroll them as party members, and pointed out that the registration committee conducts one of the most vital functions of party organization, locating as it does new residents, new voters and others, and assisting in getting their names on the voting list.

At a recent executive committee meeting, Mrs. Smerling revealed the fact that funds and personnel assistance had been voted to carry out the registration program.

Newton's GOP registration program has been continuous throughout the years, and the new emphasis, it is felt, promises considerable impact on city-wide registration.

At this point, the major effort is the revising of existing records and preparation of new communication media. Mrs. Smerling stressed the need for ward cooperation and for additional workers.

Also requested by public works, $10,700 for acceptance of Sherrin road, Newton Lower Falls, under the betterment act. There had been only two residents opposed when the acceptance was given a hearing.

Also approved was an appropriation of $21,000 for acceptance of Columbia avenue, Newton Highlands.

Acceptance of Kinmonth road, Waban, at a cost of $11,300, was denied on recommendation of the public works and finance committees. It was reported that it was a short, dead-end street, and that only one family appeared at the hearing in favor.

Honors Pile Up For Thos. Burns

Thomas Burns of 986 Chestnut St., Newton Upper Falls, continues to gain recognition for an act of heroism he performed last winter.

A retail sales foreman for H. P. Hood & Sons, he saved the lives of two little girls, ages five and three years, when they broke through the ice of Spy Pond, Arlington, last January.

His most recent award was a gold watch presented by Walter L. Warner, vice president of the milk company's sales, and Thomas Phillips, manager of the Watertown plant.

Previously he had been given a gold medal by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz in Washington, D.C., and he received a letter of congratulation from Senator Leverett Saltonstall. An invitation to visit Senator Edward Kennedy had to be postponed because of the Senator's recent plane accident.

He has served as co-chairman of Newton's Annual Halloween celebration for children, sponsors a Newton Little League Baseball team each year, has been a Director of the Newton Boys Club Building Committee and a member of the Friends of the Jackson Homestead.

Prominent in the executive ranks of the insurance industry, Whittemore is Secretary-Treasurer of the Eastern Commercial Travelers Insurance Association.

He is a member of the Newton, Greater Boston and United States Chamber of Commerce.

Before his election to the State Legislature, Representative Whittemore served two terms on the Newton Board of Aldermen, gaining a broad knowledge of the city's problems.

While on the Aldermanic Board, he served on the public works and legislation committee as well as a committee handling municipal parking problems.

He was first elected to the House in 1956 and on the basis of the record he achieved, was re-elected in 1958 and 1960.

During his service in the Legislature, Whittemore has been a member of the Aeronautics Committee, the Committee on Election Laws and the Old Age Assistance Committee, and also Committee on Insurance.

Whittemore was one of the leaders in a successful fight waged in the House of Representatives in 1962 to defeat a Senate-approved bill which would have tremendously increased Newton's share of the MTA deficit by adding at least $4 to the city's tax rate.

In addition to his civic and professional affiliations, Whittemore is a member of the Bay State Republican Club, the Middlesex Club, the Boston Executive Club, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery.

As a member of the House of Representatives, Whittemore served on the following Committees: Election, Election Laws, Insurance, Old Age and Pensions, Metropolitan Affairs and has recently been appointed to the Massachusetts Transportation Committee.

He is married to the former Priscilla White, has one daughter, Mrs. Angus MacLeod of Duxbury, and two grandchildren.

MISS CLAIRE MALLARDI — A newcomer on the Creative Arts Center staff, Miss Mallardi is well-known in dance circles in Boston, New York, and Washington. As a teacher herself, Miss Mallardi has worked with youngsters and adults in schools in this area. In 1962 and 1963 she was on the staff of the Connecticut College of Dance. She has performed on television, at the Boston Arts Festival, and in road companies and summer theatre.

MUSIC — Henry Lasker — A faculty member at Newton High School, Mr. Lasker is known for his work teaching music theory and composition as well as other courses. Annual performances of works written by his students are a tradition at the school. Last year the compositions of two of his students were selected for performance by the Boston Symphony Orchestra directed by Arthur Fiedler and Harry Ellis Dickson. A Harvard Phi Beta Kappa, Henry Lasker studied for a year with Walter Piston in Graduate School.

JOHN A. BAVICCHI — Well-known in the Boston area for his work with many school and community groups, Mr. Bavicchi comes to the Creative Arts Center with special interest in instrumental music. He has studied at Harvard University with Walter Piston and was an honors graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music.

THEATER — George Bolton — As chairman of the Acting Department at the Leland Powers School in Boston, Mr. Bolton brings to the Creative Arts Center many years of professional work in the theater. He has been both actor and director in many summer theaters on both the East and West Coasts. Mr. Bolton has appeared in leading roles with several acting companies in the Boston area, and has directed many productions for community theater groups.

Mrs. Lettie P. Cowden — Mrs. Cowden had had considerable experience in summer stock and in local players' groups. She has operated a children's theater of her own, as well as a ballet school and has done successful summer work with children in day camp theater groups. She has worked with the MIT Players, The Sudbury Players, and in workshops at the Charles Street Playhouse.

ject at 250 Hammond Pond Pkwy., the alderman reported, and he produced a letter to the Board from Ernest G. Angevine, counsel for the petitioner, in which a prompt hearing on the matter is requested.

In connection with the prohibition of setback parking, Angevine's letter stated: "The present ordinances prohibit parking spaces in set-back areas. The set-back area of one and a half times the height of the building in Residence F Zone was created to keep the building back, but was not intended to prohibit parking in that setback distance. Prior permits for the erection of these high rise apartments have been issued and the site plans approved, which showed parking within the set-back areas."

Angevine, in the letter, proposed an amendment to the ordinances which would read as follows:

"Parking space. An area adequate for parking an automobile but in no case less than 200 feet for each automobile exclusive of aisles or other maneuvering space. No such parking space except in Residence F District shall be located within the required set-back distances from a street and side lines."

Dr. Wolf To Play In July Concerts

Dr. Kenneth Wolf of Newton Centre, a Research Fellow in Neuropathology at Harvard Medical School, was scheduled to play Beethoven concerto during open rehearsals of the MIT Summer Orchestra at Kresge Auditorium, M.I.T., on three July Wednesday evenings.

On Sunday, July 19, at 3 p. m., he will perform in a chamber music concert at the Gardner Museum. All events are open to the public with no fee for admission.

Before choosing a career in medicine, Dr. Wolf was a concert pianist. A student of Boris Goldovsky, Arthur Schnabel and Rosina Lhevinne, he was a famous child performer during the 1940's. He studied composition under Paul Hindemith and graduated from Yale in 1945 at the age of 14.

Seat In House

Mrs. Patricia Cole of Weston is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives in the new 17th Middlesex legislative district which takes in Ward 4 of Newton along with the towns of Weston and Wayland.

"In this new district and at this turning point in State affairs, the Democratic majority in Massachusetts should be represented by one who has been active in the reform movement and who will speak up for responsible performance by State officials," declared Mrs. Cole.

Mrs. Cole has been a director of COD, the Democratic reform group, and is one of Governor Peabody's appointees to the Massachusetts World's Fair Commission. She was a coordinator in Governor Peabody's campaign two years ago and has supported his efforts to abolish the Governor's Council and to give greater home rule to cities and towns.

The wife of Allen E. Cole of 40 Loring rd., Weston, Mrs. Cole has two teen-age daughters, Catherine and Patricia. She teaches art at the Charles River School and has recently been appointed to the Weston High School Building Committee.

A reception was held in her honor last weekend to launch her campaign for the Sept. 10 primary.

is associated with the Newton man's project; no connections or batteries are required and the indicator has a simple rugged mechanism. Thus, almost 100 percent reliability can reasonably be expected.

The instrument has been given strict and severe tests by many airplane sources, private and government, and it will be on display at the World's Fair at the International Inventions Exhibit located in the Belgian Village.

The Kenyon Safer (Standard Aircraft Flight Earth Reference) instrument is being widely discussed in aviation circles.

His instrument concept is that it is inherently faster, simpler, easier and more reliable to tell a disoriented pilot what to do directly, rather than what his airplane is doing.

In pointing to the advantages of his idea in instrument flying, Mr. Kenyon points to the official Civil Aeronautics Board Aircraft Accident Report which shows the greatest loss of life in general aviation accidents is due to what are called "weather accidents."

In such cases the pilot loses control of his aircraft in "instrument weather" and is unable to recover before ground contact or in-flight structural failure takes place. Such "incidents" are called "out of control" accidents and are usually fatal to all aboard.

What is needed, according to Kenyon, is a simple, easy to use, reliable means of enabling a dis-oriented pilot to orient himself in space and direction, fast, and with little altitude loss.

The "orientation" concept holds that any pilot should be able to recover quickly, easily and efficiently to straighten and level flight on a known heading.

Kenyon's "orientation" instrument makes this possible, with minimal loss of altitude, he declares.

The Newton man pointed out that up to now aviation has provided pilots with gyroscopic "blind flight" instruments. It was assumed this was sufficient for spatial orientation as well as maintaining control of aircraft under instrument conditions, provided pilots learned how to use their instruments.

However, the Newton man points to the accident record as proving otherwise, especially with reference to "weather accidents" brought about by haze, fog, or precipitation at night.

Kenyon was convinced that a basic new discovery was overdue in the field of aircraft blind flight instrumentation. He feels that he has it in his new flight instruments.

Good Deeds By Teen - Agers

The misdeeds of teen-agers are revealed starkly in news headlines, the good they do is often interred in anonymity.

Being concerned today with the good deeds by teen-agers, it is well to consider that there are many organized groups of local young people whose sole dedication is with money raising for a variety of worthy causes.

The most recent case in point was the presentation of a check for $1500 to the New England Kidney Disease Foundation by Diane Leshay, president of the Raynace Society, on behalf of the local teen-age community organization.

Fund-raising projects by the young people's society helps support the Foundation's research activities; the $1500 check being concrete evidence of the results.

The gesture on the part of the Raynace Society is the most recent and calls to mind the good deeds of so many of our Newton younger set.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish teen-age organizations, as well as those embracing all sects, turn in an annual record of humanitarian service much of which never is made known to the public.

Boys and girls alike are enrolled in these groups and contribute equally in the work required to help raise funds for needy charities and worthy causes.

An extra charitable chore performed by the young ladies is service in hospitals. Here again are unsung good deeds by youngsters.

In addition to their own organized groups, many local young people are aligned in the various city-wide charitable campaigns held here. And, their association with these drives is substantial. They are hard workers, dedicated adherents, and genuinely concerned with the success of the enterprise with which they are serving.

So, adults, when the printed headlines and the untutored tones of radio and television newscasters, proclaim the failings of some adolescents, keep this in mind. Remember the fine, upstanding youngsters who find an outlet for some of their energies in contributing actively and with dedication to campaigns and projects which have an ultimate worthy goal.

This kind of community effort on their part is not something which they have been told they must do. They are not commanded, they volunteer. It is their own wonderful idea and they are wonderful kids for the doing.

As mentioned earlier, the Raynace Society is mentioned today because its activity is a recent one. However, this editorial tribute is for all such dedicated youngsters and their organizations in this city.

Guard Rails For Highways

The recent agitation for guard rails located on the median strips of high-speed highways in this state is receiving a lusty and favorable response in many quarters.

A number of fatal accidents involving cars which have jumped the dividing strip of grass only to slam into an oncoming vehicle in the opposite lane are recorded in the Bay State. And they continue to happen with sickening frequency.

Drivers who use some of the fast-moving traffic lanes in Boston or the newly renovated and widened Route 128 in this area are familiar with the accounts of center-jumping cars and the frightful crashes which result.

On some areas of Route 128, the road bed on one side of the divider is raised above the four-laner on the other side; also in other areas stout, steel guard rails have been installed. These provide a greater feeling of security to the passing motorists than strips of well manicured grass, no matter the width.

The cost involved in setting up these guard rails has been pointed to with alarm by some sources. Apparently, the protection to human life is not to be considered.

However, the proponents of the rails do not feel that any motorist is expendable but that each life should be guarded to the utmost degree.

Presumably the war of words will go on and on, and other fatal median jumping accidents will be recorded. Then someday, something will be done.

Mass. Pharmacy Historian Post For Newton Man

Dr. Herbert C. Raubenheimer, 197 Walnut street, Newtonville, professor of pharmacy and pharmacy administration at Northeastern University, has been chosen Massachusetts state historian for 1964-65 for the Historical Section, American Pharmaceutical Association, Austin, Texas.

Dr. Raubenheimer will serve as liaison for the Historical Section with those interested in preserving the history of the profession of pharmacy in Massachusetts.

He will also work with the state historical societies and other interested persons in obtaining and releasing historical material in regard to the profession of pharmacy.

Dr. Raubenheimer has been affiliated with Northeastern since 1962, when the New England College of Pharmacy became N.U.'s fifth basic undergraduate college, the first school of pharmacy to be under the Co-operative Plan of Education in the country.

Previous to N.U., Dr. Raubenheimer served as professor of pharmacy and pharmacy administration for the New England College of Pharmacy from 1952-1962. From 1955 to 1962, he was chairman of the college's pharmacy department.

A member of several professional and honorary pharmaceutical organizations, he is presently chairman of the Historical Section, American Pharmaceutical Association.

A veteran of the U.S. Army, he has also published several articles in the field of pharmacy in the professional journal, "The Practical Druggist."

He is married to the former Mildred L. Cole, and they have two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Gardner and Mrs. Elaine Cribb, and a son, Douglas.

Cynthia Glass Is Student At Mexico College

Surrounded by the ruins of an ancient Toltec empire and the surging vitality of Mexico City, second largest metropolis in the Western Hemisphere, Miss Cynthia Eve Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Goldberg, of 178 Allerton road, Newton, is now attending the short summer session at the University of the Americas.

Belonging to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the institution is the only liberal arts university in Latin America approved by a United States accrediting agency.

All classes are taught in English although most students take Spanish which they practice daily in their contact with the people of Mexico and in the university-approved Mexican homes where they live. The university enrolls more American students than any other school in the world outside the borders of the United States.

Besides being able to take courses from a faculty trained in Latin America, the U.S. and Europe, Miss Glass, an educator herself, has the opportunity of going on UA sponsored trips to the pyramids of Teotihuacan, the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the Monte Alban archaeological ruins in Caxaca, and to such places in the capital as Chapultepec Castle, the Palace of Fine Arts, and to some of the modern federal housing projects.

"With students enrolled from 49 of the United States and 30 countries, the University of the Americas," says president D. Ray Lindley, "has a unique role in the area of international education and has a part in the cold war. The school is an important cultural 'bridge' between the Americas."

Newton Summer Theatre Shows 'Aspern Papers'

Ruth Edinberg of Indian Ridge road, Newton, who has been delighting audiences at the Newton Summer Theatre for two seasons, will be seen in the role of Mrs. Prest in the Michael Redgrave adaptation of the Henry James story "The Aspern Papers" July 15-18.

Ruth was seen as Donna Lucia in "Charley's Aunt" earlier this season and appeared as Helen in "On Approval" and Olivia in "The Chalk Garden" last year. A busy winter season for Ruth included a production of her children's play "The Eight O'Clock Tower" by the "Make Believe" Theatre (affiliated with the Newton Summer Theatre) at the Cinema in Shoppers' World, Framingham. In addition to manipulating one of the puppets in her show she made script and music changes when required.

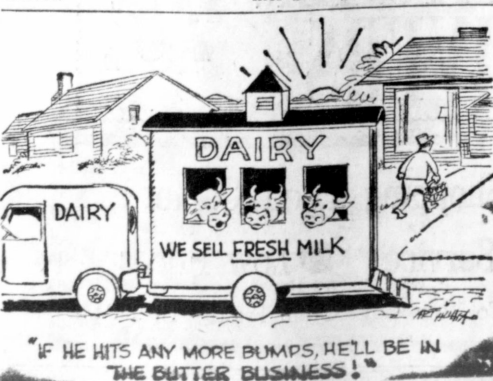

She continues to be seen in her one-woman show for various organizations — A Taste of Theatre. Last winter she added her lustre to a production of "Guys and Dolls" by the Newton Country Players in the role of Adelaide.

The NST is giving the first professional production of "The Aspern Papers" in the Boston area, with performances tonight, Thursday, through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by calling DE 2-6700.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT M. FISHER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher Celebrate 40th Anniversary

On Sunday afternoon, June 21, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Fisher of 153 Valley road, Needham, held an open house in celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Over 70 guests were invited to share in the festivities of this happy occasion. Amid flowering rose bushes and floral arrangements of red roses and red and white miniature carnations, guests were served champagne and a large variety of tea sandwiches, cakes and cookies. Each guest was given an individually wrapped piece of wedding cake to take home.

Mrs. Fisher's lovely off-white brocade dress was enhanced by a corsage of red sweetheart roses. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fisher (Dorothy E. Brown) were born in South Bend, Indiana, and were married there on June 28, 1924. After leaving South Bend and living in New Jersey for a short time, the Fishers settled in Newton for many years until 1950, when they moved to Needham.

Mr. Fisher is a member of Fraternity Lodge, AF & AM, Newtonville, and in September will be installed as master of his lodge. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are new members of Palestine Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Newtonville.

The Fishers' daughter, Mrs. Cyrus Mayshark and her husband and their five children live in Corvallis, Ore., where Mr. Mayshark is assistant professor at Oregon State University. The honored couple's son, Robert M. Fisher Jr., his wife and four children, are presently living in Newton Highlands. Mr. Fisher Jr. is head design engineer for the Compo Shoe Machinery in Waltham.

Mrs. Phoebe W. Cox of Austin, Texas, has been a recent house guest of the Fisher family.

Later in the season, the couple will travel to South Bend Ind., for more celebrations with Mr. Fisher's mother, who is 86 years old.

Bermuda Trip Followed Carter - Goldstein Wedding

Miss Barbara Rochelle Goldstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Goldstein of 48 Maplewood avenue, Newton Centre, was married recently to Evans Joel Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Carter of Warwick, R.I., at Temple Regim in Newton.

Rabbi Philip Kieval and Rabbi Harold D. Kastle officiated at the 6:30 o'clock service at which two rings were exchanged. A reception followed the ceremony. Given away by her parents, the bride's bouquet taffeta gown had a portrait neckline highlighted with Alencon lace. The redingote skirt which featured border inserts of similar lace, had a bow which fell into a bouffant cathedral-length train.

She chose an heirloom mantilla of imported silk illusion edged with imported Alencon lace. She carried her Bible topped with two white baby orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Phylliss Govenar of Newton Centre was maid of honor, Miss Linda Ann Caplan of Newton Centre and Miss Barbara Ann Kauffman of Providence, R.I. were the other attendants. Serving as best man was Charles Roy Feinbloom of Fairlawn, N.J. The ushers were Robert Neil Goldstein of Newton Centre, brother of the bride, Stanley I. Berger of Brookline, uncle of the bride, Michael Richard Miller of Waban, cousin of the bride, Alan Cartel, of Providence, R.I., cousin of the bridegroom, Richard P. Mills of Warwick, R.I., and Roger Meyer of Kingston, R.I.

Bermuda was the honeymoon destination of the couple. The bride is a graduate of the University of Rhode Island, class of 1964, where she majored in child development and family relations. She is a member of Sigma Delta Tau Sorority, Kappa Delta Phi honorary society, and Omicron Nu honorary home economics society.

Miss Williams Becomes Bride Of Mr. Pothier In Wellesley

Planning to leave in September for New York City, where the bridegroom will attend Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joseph Pothier (Elizabeth Grey Williams) of Scituate. The couple was married at a recent ceremony in the Chapel of the First Congregational Church, Wellesley Hills.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Woodward Williams of 117 Vernon street, Newton, formerly of Dedham, and of Mr. Draper W. Williams of 732 Great Plain avenue, Needham. Mr. Pothier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joseph Pothier of Quincy.

Officiating at the wedding ceremony was Dr. John E. Wallace, and a reception followed at the Hunnewell Club, Newton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza princess gown which had beaded lace appliques on the bodice, three-quarter sleeves, and a Watteau chapel train.

Her shoulder-length illusion veil was caught to a matching pill box, and she carried a cascade of carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Hoffman of Brookline was the maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Miss Claire Silvers of Dedham.

Serving as best man was Mr. Albert DiGiovanni of Rockland, and sharing usher duties were Mr. Gerald Pothier of Quincy, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Walter Foley of Dorchester, cousin of the bridegroom. Acting as ring bearer was young Samuel Sivacek III of Dedham.

Recently returned from a wedding trip to Jamaica and Nassau in the Bahamas, Mr. and Mrs. Pothier are presently residing at 7 Dunbar lane in Scituate.

The bride is a graduate of Dedham High School, the University of Massachusetts and Hickox Secretarial School. She is a secretary with Northrop Nortronics, Norwood.

Mr. Pothier graduated from Dorchester High School, and received his A.B. degree in journalism from Northeastern University last month.

Scholarship To Honor Memory of Former Resident

Announcement of a scholarship in memory of a former Newtonville resident was made at 50th anniversary convention scholarship luncheon of Massachusetts Grand Lodge, Order of Sons of Italy, in Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston.

Mrs. Gerald Leone of Newtonville announced that, beginning in 1965, a scholarship will be given to an outstanding Massachusetts high school student in memory of her husband, who served for many years as a grand trustee and grand treasurer of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge.

New Citizen

Mr. and Mrs. Emilio M. C. Ghioldi (Karen Apelian) of Waltham announce the birth of a daughter, Gina Maria, on July 9th. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Apelian of Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Zweig of Waltham. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gans of Newton.

Trip to Switzerland For Wm. B. Dean Jr. and Bride

A trip to Switzerland followed the recent marriage of Miss Linda Louise Hooper and William B. Dean Jr. They were married by the Rev. Neil Harrington in St. Francis Xavier Church in South Weymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel F. Hooper of South Weymouth. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dean of 55 Playstead road, Newton, are the bridegroom's parents.

Escorted by her brother, Mr. Robert A. Hooper, the bride's short-sleeved dress of silk organza over taffeta was marked at the waist and hemline with crocheted linen lace. The full-length train was detachable.

A crystal crown held in place her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, mums and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Ellen Carey of Quincy was honor maid. Mrs. Robert A. Hooper of Bridgewater, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. John E. Erikson of Melrose, sister of the bridegroom, were the other attendants.

The best man was Paul Smith of Dorchester. Sharing usher duties were John E. Erikson of Melrose, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and John Egan of Somerville.

The couple will make their home in Dorchester.

The bride was graduated from the Jeremiah E. Burke High School and the Academie Moderne Modeling School.

Mr. Dean, a graduate of Newton High School, attended Boston College.

MRS. WILLIAM B. DEAN, JR.

Papal Blessing Read At Pretty June Military Bridal

Yellow and white mums and gladioli decorated the altar of the Sacred Heart Church for the recent marriage of Miss Judith Louise Malone to Lt. Patrick Mitchell Malone, USMC.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Malone of 323 Parker St., Newton Centre. Mr. and Mrs. Paul David Malone of 132 Central street, Auburndale, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rt. Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, who officiated at the 3 o'clock afternoon military ceremony, read the Papal Blessing. A reception was held at the Hotel Somerset's Louis XIV ballroom, Boston.

Escorted by her father, the

(Bradford Bachrach) MRS. P. M. MALONE

bride wore a full length antique ivory satin gown entraine. The empire bodice was fashioned of ecru Alencon lace. She wore a full-length mantilla of heirloom Alencon lace and carried a prayerbook covered with white orchids.

Miss Virginia Malone of Newton Centre, sister of the bride, was honor maid. The bridesmaids were Miss Judith Corey of Chicago, Ill., Miss Gloria Dashefsky of Newton Centre, Miss Susan Heiden of Fayetteville, N. Y., Miss Molly Malone of Auburndale, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Linda Stavro of Newton Centre and Miss Joan Watther of Homewood, Ill.

The best man was Ens. Michael Burns of Bellevue, N. Y. Ushering were Ens. Ernie Blake of South Portland, Me., Ens. Charles DeSantis of Cohasset, Ens. William Fromme of Baltimore, Md., Ens. William MacAulay of Boston, George Malone, Jr., of Newton Centre, brother of the bride, Ens. Daniel Moulton of Warrick, R. I., and Ens. David Trace of Rochester, N. H.

Canada was the honeymoon destination of the couple, who will live in Quantico, Va.

The bride, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Pasquale and Mr. and Mrs. John Malone, all of Boston, was graduated from Newton High School and Wellesley College, Class of 1964.

Lt. Malone, now serving with the Marine Corps, attended Newton High School and was graduated with distinction from the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. He is the grandson of Mrs. Clay Mitchell, Sikeston, Mo., and the late Mr. Mitchell, as well as the late Mr. and Mrs. Earl Malone of Sikeston, Mo.

Daniel Morrison and Bride To Live In Cincinnati

The Hotel Webster Hall in Pittsburgh, Pa., was the recent setting for the marriage of Miss Ronna Wanetik to Daniel Jay Morrison.

MRS. DANIEL J. MORRISON

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wanetik of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Morrison of 73 Beaconwood road, Newton, are the bridegroom's parents.

Rabbi Harold Silver officiated at the 12:30 o'clock mid-day wedding, which was followed by a reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's sheath gown of silk-faced peau de soie was designed with a boat neckline and long ruffle edged sleeves. Her pearl embroidered obi sash marked the detachable chapel train.

The butterfly silk illusion veil was held in place by a petaled cap of peau de soie. She carried a family prayer book with a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Ellen Steuber was matron of honor. The other attendants included Mrs. Linda Paresky, Miss Joan Saul and Miss Brenda Hartstein.

Best man duties were performed by Andrew Morrison. The ushers were Zola Gold, Elliot Morrison, Richard Sperber, Edward Needel, Peter Longvel, Peter Ayedotel and Dennis Eagle.

The couple left on a trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. When they return they will make their home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The bride was graduated from Simmons College.

Mr. Morrison is a graduate of Harvard College and the Amos Tuck Graduate School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College.

Baptism To Be Emphasized At Church Service

Spiritual baptism will be emphasized at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matt. 5) is the Golden Text which will begin the Bible Lesson on "Sacrament."

The theme will be carried through in related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (p. 241): "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

Nantucket Honeymoon For Mr. Southmayd and Bride

Nantucket was the honeymoon destination of Mr. William Webster Southmayd and his bride, the former Miss Sarah Jane Remley, whose marriage took place recently at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Remley of 73 Randlett park, West Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarendon L. Southmayd of 19 Hampden terrace, Newton Centre, are the couple's parents.

Officiating at the 3 o'clock afternoon service, at which the bride and groom exchanged rings, was the Rev. Robert J. Harding. A reception followed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white silk organza over taffeta gown. The fitted bodice had a scoop neckline edged with Alencon lace and seed pearls. The full skirt terminated in a chapel-length train.

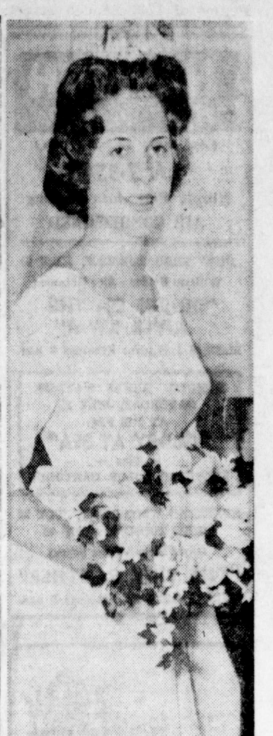

A circlet of orange blossoms was fastened with her triple-tiered illusion veil. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Adrian Perachio of Rochester, N.Y., was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Patricia Gath of Newtonville, Mrs. R. James Ferriman of Auburndale, Miss Alexandra Foundas of Brighton and Mrs. Thomas T. Koller of Newton Upper Falls were her other attendants.

Best man duties were performed by John T. Southmayd of Wayland, brother of the groom. Paul Guzzi of Newtonville, David Connor of Cambridge, R. James Ferriman of Auburndale, Joseph O'Donnell of Waltham, James H. Remley Jr., of West Newton and Bradford Stephens of Marshfield were the ushers.

The bride is a graduate of Lasell Junior College, class of 1962.

Mr. Southmayd, a graduate of Harvard College, plans to attend Harvard Medical School in the fall.

Political Highlights

chusetts and will still have none next autumn. Even Goldwater's own backers say their goal is to try to make a respectable showing for him in this State.

In short, Senator Goldwater is regarded as having a better chance of winning the Presidency than of pulling Massachusetts into his column. This, of course, is cause for serious concern for ex-Governor Volpe and other members of the GOP State ticket since Goldwater's prospects of moving into the White House next January are far from bright.

Public sentiment across the nation would have to change sharply for Goldwater to have any chance of upsetting Johnson next fall. Such a shift is possible, but it is improbable.

It is likely that LBJ's popularity may drop from its present peak as the Presidential campaign develops. However, Johnson's political stock is so high today that he could easily withstand any loss in support that is apt to occur in the ordinary course of events.

Democratic Congressmen and Senators in various parts of the country who have had polls and surveys made for their own guidance have been astonished at the tremendous sentiment found for Johnson. Some of them have had difficulty believing what they read when the poll results were submitted to them.

That is what is confronting Goldwater as he prepares for a rugged, uphill — and what most political experts consider a nearly impossible battle.

The Arizona Senator has made it plain that he feels that in order to have any chance of defeating Johnson he must carry a substantial part of the traditionally Democratic South. His hopes are that he will top Johnson in a number of the southern, southwestern and border States and then carry States in the Middle and Far West along with the normally Republican States such as Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Despite his weaknesses in States like Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania, Goldwater probably can give Johnson as hard a fight as any Republican could.

If the Presidential election were being held now, Johnson would crush anyone the GOP could pit against him, including Governor Scranton and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Goldwater may be able to carry some States where Scranton or Lodge would have no chance against Johnson.

At this time, however, it's pretty difficult to see how Goldwater can possibly defeat Johnson although, as he says, he may make a horse race out of their contest by next autumn.

One sure thing is that Goldwater will be no help to the Republican State ticket in Massachusetts.

If ex-governor Volpe, Attorney General Brooke and Elliot L. Richardson win election in November, they'll have to do it in spite of Goldwater.

Lodge Mystery Man Of GOP Convention

What Henry Cabot Lodge accomplished by resigning his post as Ambassador to South Vietnam and rushing home to throw his support behind Governor Scranton in the latter's belated bid for the Republican Presidential nomination is a real mystery.

About all he succeeded in doing was incurring the enmity of the right-wing conservative Republicans — a hostility which is likely to rub off on his son, George C. Lodge, if and when that young man again runs for public office.

If Lodge was going to resign and plunge into the GOP

Presidential fight, the time to have done it was last March, not in June after the last popular primary had been held and Senator Goldwater had the nomination all sewed up.

Lodge conceivably might have stopped Goldwater if he had opposed him in California and had made an active campaign there.

But when Goldwater carried the Golden State and captured its big bloc of delegate voters, the GOP ball game was all over.

Lodge was like a fireman who waited until a building had burned down and then hustled to the scene of the conflagration to see if he could salvage anything from the embers.

As far as newsmen covering the Republican national convention could ascertain, Lodge didn't swing more than a handful of votes to Scranton, and for the most part those were votes Scranton probably would have received anyway.

Lodge certainly didn't go out vote-hunting. What he did do is something of a secret. He was one of the mystery men of the GOP conclave.

One thing he did succeed in doing was to make both himself and a number of other Massachusetts Republican leaders look a little foolish.

Lodge took himself out of the Presidential contention with a statement that he was not a candidate, was not available, was not draftable and would not allow his name to be placed in nomination.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall and several other prominent Bay State GOP figures promptly seized upon that opening to announce that they were voting for Lodge.

Republican Conclave To Leave Few Scars

The amount of bitterness which develops within the Republican party in Massachusetts in the wake of the GOP national convention could affect next autumn's battle for the Governorship.

Present indications are that the Goldwater-Scranton battle may leave fewer scars than had been expected when the clash began.

Despite the fact that most of the top Bay State Republican figures joined in the futile fight for Governor Scranton, it may not be too difficult to restore a fairly high degree of harmony and unity in the GOP.

Senator Goldwater, with the delegate votes in his pocket, took great pains to avoid ruffling any feelings unnecessarily.

The Scranton camp, waging an uphill, hopeless battle, fired the bombs, levelled the attacks and made the mistakes.

If the Scranton strategy had succeeded, the Goldwater partisans undoubtedly would have been as incensed as were the Taft backers in 1952 and presumably would have sat on their hands in the coming campaign.

But it isn't likely the Goldwater backers will be poor winners. Indeed, the Arizona Senator can't afford to permit them to be anything but gracious to the vanquished Scranton supporters.

The right-wing conservative Republicans will be turning out in force for next November's election, and they'll unquestionably vote for the members of the GOP State ticket.

The moderate and liberal Republicans, who wanted Scranton as the nominee for President, certainly have no cause to be displeased with those GOP candidates who marched down the line with the Pennsylvania Governor.

However slim Goldwater's chances may be of carrying Massachusetts, there appears to be no reason why the Republican party in the State should be torn by dissension.

Volpe Now Wishes To Debate Peabody

Former Governor Volpe has changed his mind about the advisability of debates between candidates for the Governorship.

Volpe says he'll challenge Peabody to a debate after the primary if Peabody is renominated.

It will be interesting to see how Peabody responds to the challenge. The likelihood is that he'll accept it.

In the 1962 campaign, when Volpe was the sitting Governor and Peabody was his Democratic adversary, Peabody repeatedly challenged Volpe to debates.

Volpe, who was convinced he had his fight won, saw nothing to be gained from sharing a platform with Peabody and giving him additional publicity, politely declined to engage in any debates.

Now Volpe is preparing to challenge Peabody to do what he, Volpe, would not do two years ago.

Peabody, on the other hand, sharply criticized Volpe's refusal to debate the issues and placed considerable stress on this during his campaign.

Having blasted Volpe for declining to debate, Peabody would be in a rather awkward position if he did the same thing. So the probability is that Peabody and Volpe will engage in one or more debates, when their fall election battle gets underway.

Justin Horan Named Bank Vice President

Nathan I. Greene, president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, announced the election of Justin T. Horan as vice president, to head-up the Business Development program of the bank.
Mr. Horan has been the chief Executive Officer of the Newton Chamber of Commerce since 1957 and is the architect of its successful development pattern for the past seven years. He will assume his new duties with the bank late next month.

JUSTIN T. HORAN

Mr. Greene stated that with the addition of their new Natick office, the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company will soon have twenty offices serving five suburban cities and towns and that Mr. Horan has been selected to coordinate the Business Development in these five communities.

Mr. Horan resides with his wife and their six children at 70 Marion street in Natick. He is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and the Institutes of Organizational Management held at Yale and Syracuse Universities.

He is a former president of the Massachusetts Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives and is a member of the Executive Committee of the New England Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives.

The Newton Chamber has appointed a selection committee which is responsible for seeking out, interviewing and hiring a trained, professional Chamber of Commerce manager as Mr. Horan's replacement.

Newton members of Parents Without Partners are sponsoring a series of suburban meetings in private homes for the benefit of present, past, or prospective members of the organization. The next meeting of the series in this area will be held in Newton on Sunday July 26 at 8:15 p. m.

Any single parent in this area who is now a member of this organization or who is interested in becoming a member is invited to attend the meeting to be held on Sunday July 26. However, reservations must be made in advance. Please call Alex Seidler at DE 2-3882 by July 23.

Adult Tennis Tourney To Be Held July 21

The Newton Recreation Department announced today, its plans for a citywide adult tennis tournament.

Competition will be held in both men's singles and doubles and if interest is great enough women's competition will also be held.

The opening of the tournament will be Tuesday, July 21, at 5:45 p. m. at Burr Courts.

All participants must be residents of Newton. There will be an entry fee of $1.00 and each player must bring three new tennis balls with him.

Anyone wishing to enter may do so by signing up at Burr Park Playground, Waverly avenue, Newton Corner. Entries will be received any day during the week. No entries will be received after 6 p. m. Monday, July 20th.

Trophies will be awarded winners and runners up. If rain should cause postponement of any matches, they will be carried over to the next night.

Marriage-wait laws are in effect in 19 states.

Rev. MacDonald Will Preach At Summer Service

The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, D.D., for thirty-nine years the minister of the Union Church in Waban, will be the preacher at the Newton Union Summer Service next Sunday, July 19th.

The service will be held at 10 o'clock at the Auburndale Congregational Church, Hancock and Woodland streets, in Auburndale. The organist will be Ralph Woodworth, Jr. and the soloist Miss Henrietta McKee, soprano and Mr. Ivan Oak, tenor. Care for children will be provided during the service.

Dr. MacDonald has held pastorates in Wilton, Maine, and New York City before coming to Waban. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College and Union Seminary. During the week July 17th-July 23rd, Dr. MacDonald will be on call for pastoral care for all churches cooperating in this Union Summer Service, and he may be reached at 527-6221 or 332-0293.

Daughter Of VP Candidate Local Student

The City of Newton can lay claim to one of the daughters of Cong. William E. Miller, Republican nominee for Vice President.

His 20-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Ann "Libby" Miller, is a senior at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, where she is described as an "exceptionally good student."

A dean's list student since her freshman year, she is a modern language major, with her major studies in the French language and civilization. She has also studied Russian and German languages.

At college, she is an active member of the Young Republicans Club, naturally! Miss Miller is also active in the Debate Club, where her father spoke two years ago.

Residents Object To Apartments, Garage

Strong opposition was registered to the proposed apartment development at the rear of 392 and 500 Langley road, Newton Centre, and a proposed garage at 153 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls, at a Monday public hearing held by the Planning Board and the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee in City Hall.

Leone Fontecchio seeks a change of zone from private residence to residence D for 46,760 square feet of land (slightly more than an acre) for the construction of a 30-unit garden type apartment development.

Ernest G. Angevine, representing Fontecchio, said the project would cost $300,000 and would require no additional services from the city. The apartments would be of the one and two-bedroom variety. He added that the apartments would improve the appearance of the site, since it is now being used for storage of construction vehicles and equipment.

James J. Cipriano, 78 John street, represented ten abutters, and presented a petition of their opposition. He claimed that the apartment would reduce the value of their homes and would overcrowd the area.

A petition to erect four homes on the site was denied in 1957.

Strong opposition was also expressed against a petition of the John Dolan Oil Co. for extension of a non-conforming use to construct a garage at the Newton Lower Falls property.

A petition with 25 names against the request was filed. Opposition was also voiced by City Engineer U. M. Schiavone.

Returns From Consultation In Puerto Rico

Dr. and Mrs. Reuben J. Margolin, 28 Halcyon road, Newton Centre, have returned from San Juan, Puerto Rico, where the Northeastern University associate professor was called for two weeks' duty as a consultant on education and mental rehabilitation.

During the tour of duty, Dr. Margolin was appointed a permanent consultant to the growing Inter-American University at San Juan and San German, Puerto Rico.

Professor Margolin also met with Mental health, education, and welfare officials to co-ordinate efforts to expand the role which Inter-American University, a college of 6,000 students, plays in the economic and social development of the Caribbean Sea island possession's people.

Dr. Margolin explained to the Puerto Rican officials the role Northeastern University plays in providing for the educational requirements of the community, both in degree-seeking areas and in adult and continuing education.

Mrs. Margolin, who is prominent in Newton community affairs, plans to organize a "Friends of Inter-American University" group to inform persons in the Boston area of the school and its functions and of facts on the growth and development of the island's

Arm Broken By Bag Snatcher

A handbag snatcher at Chestnut Hill last Friday yanked so hard in making away with the bag of an elderly Brookline woman she required hospital treatment.

At St. Elizabeth's she was found to have suffered a fractured arm.

The theft took place close to 4 p.m. at Hammond St. near Suffolk Rd. A passerby told police that two boys who might have been 16 left the area in a gray car. In the bag were $10 and a check for $39.69.

Local Girl Performs In Cape Music Tent

She's four feet, ten inches of vivacity, topped by luxuriant golden braids and her lively blue eyes sparkled as she confessed with the beguiling candor native to eleven-year-olds, "It seems just like a dream to me. I never thought when I read stories about King Arthur and his knights that I'd someday be part of it!"

But for Ann Sweeney, who is appearing in Lerner and Loewe's musical, "Camelot," at the Cape Cod Melody Tent in Hyannis for two weeks currently, the dream has come true.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Sweeney of Newton, the young actress, along with her two brothers and sister, has spent summers on Cape Cod "ever since I was one year old" and "just loves it here."

A veteran of school plays and of dance recitals presented by her ballet teacher, Dorothy Douglas, Ann debuted at the Melody Tent on July 11 when she appeared as one of the children enraptured by the cruel witch in the children's show, "Hansel and Gretel."

It was this performance which led to the opportunity to appear as the youngest member of Arthur's court in "Camelot."

Mayor Gibbs Explains His Civil Rights Vote

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs last night explained and defended his action in voting against proposed civil rights amendments to the Republican platform at last week's GOP national convention in San Francisco.

Gibbs declared that he considered the civil rights plank in the platform better than the amendments and that the suggested amendments actually said nothing.

"I feel I voted for civil rights, not against them," the Mayor emphasized. "I believe the amendments beclouded the issue and that most of the amendments were just excessive verbiage."

He pointed out that he voted for Pennsylvania Governor William W. Scranton, asserting that he felt he was more truly reflecting the sentiment of the Republicans of the 10th Congressional District in voting for Scranton than if he had voted for Senator Barry Goldwater.

Gibbs expressed the conviction that most of the people complaining about his civil rights vote don't understand either the original plank or the amendments which were offered.

One statement, he continued, called for "full implementation and faithful execution of the civil rights act of 1964, and all other civil rights statutes," to assure equal rights and opportunities.

Appeals Board To Hear Seven Petitioners

The Newton Zoning Board of Appeals will have a busy agenda when it convenes at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, July 28 in City Hall, with seven hearings scheduled.

The seven variance petitions (listed in order of their hearings Tuesday) are:

Liberon and Angelina Marselli of Waltham seek permission to subdivide a lot at 455 Craft street, West Newton, into two lots, each with 10,500 square feet and each with 67-foot frontage. The three-family house on the property would be demolished. The land in question is in Residence C district.

Rosario F. and Theresa Guzzi, 42 Oak avenue, West Newton, request a variance to subdivide a lot at that address into two lots, each with 9,000 square feet and each with 50-foot frontage. The property is in a Private Residence district where double dwellings are allowed.

Newton Women Honored For Vision Service

Health agencies of three communities, Newton, Brookline and Watertown recently commended a large group of "sight screeners," for their having given 75 hours of dedicated service to the end that young children will have better vision.

Among the volunteers honored at a tea in the Stephen G. Train Health Center were two teams from Boston Section, National Council of Jewish Women, whose coordinator was Mrs. Ralph N. Rosenbaum of 34 Risley road, West Newton. It was this group that did the pilot project in vision screening a year ago under the National Society for Prevention of Blindness in cooperation with the Newton School Department.

The volunteers who have serviced the Newton area are Mrs. Herbert Schwartz, Mrs. Louis Budd, Mrs. David Falkoff, Mrs. David Jackson, Mrs. Gerald Rosser, Mrs. Maurice Schweitzer, Mrs. Walter Weiner, Mrs. Samuel Stone, Mrs. Benjamin Crystal, Mrs. Robert Fishkind and Mrs. Maurice Foster.

Also, Mrs. Celia Lanfield, Mrs. Ralph Rosenbaum, Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Sherman Waterman, Mrs. Leonard

Mrs. Kennedy Letter Exhibit

Newton Lower Loans Mrs. Kennedy Letter

A letter written by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and purchased by a Newton collector for a record price is on exhibition at Boston University's Chinery Library, 725 Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

Boston Attorney Alvin J. Slater of Newton who purchased the letter in March at an auction at the Hotel Gotham in New York for a price of $3,000, has loaned the document to the university for the exhibition.

The letter was written by Mrs. Kennedy nine years ago to Ronald C. Munro of Birmingham, England, in response to his plea for money. Munro, had read about the Kennedy wealth and wrote an appeal for 7,000 pounds. Instead of throwing the letter away, Mrs. Kennedy took the time to answer it, graciously explaining why she could not comply with the request.

Slater became interested in the letter through reading stories in the press, and decided that he would like to own it.

"The letter shows that Mrs. Kennedy is a very rare and very great woman, a trait which many people did not recognize until the tragedy of November," he said.

The Boston attorney has a small collection of famous signatures including letters of Lincoln and Caruso, but is not an avid collector. He has practiced law since 1946, when he graduated from Harvard Law School. Prior to that, he graduated from Boston University's College of Liberal Arts in 1940. He lives with his wife and two sons in Newton.

The letter is on exhibit at the Boston University Chinery Library, 5th Floor, Treasury Room. Hours: Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 2 to 5 p.m.

Slater became interested in the letter through reading stories in the press, and decided that he would like to own it.

"The letter shows that Mrs. Kennedy is a very rare and very great woman, a trait which many people did not recognize until the tragedy of November," he said.

The Boston attorney has a small collection of famous signatures including letters of Lincoln and Caruso, but is not an avid collector. He has practiced law since 1946, when he graduated from Harvard Law School. Prior to that, he graduated from Boston University's College of Liberal Arts in 1940. He lives with his wife and two sons in Newton.

Teenage Boys' Cases Put Off To August 31

Eight teenagers who appeared in Newton District Court Tuesday, July 21, on a number of complaints involving burglaries and car thefts were held in bail ranging from $500 to $2,000 by Judge W. Lloyd Allen, and their cases were continued to July 31.

Police, who made the arrests over the weekend and on Tuesday, were confident that their apprehension would clear up several burglaries and at least three cases of stolen cars, two of which were dumped into Crystal Lake.

36 Boy Scouts Travel To Jamboree, N. Mex. Ranch

A total of 36 Newton Boy Scouts and three adult leaders are currently participating in scouting activities which have taken them to Valley Forge National Park in Pennsylvania and the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N. M.

Twenty of the scouts and two leaders are participating in the Sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree at the national park in Pennsylvania which concludes today (Thursday).

The remainder are on a 24-day adventure trip to the western ranch.

School Board Will Discuss Carr Addition

A recommendation from Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, on the Carr Elementary School addition will highlight a special meeting of the School Committee which will take place at 8 p.m. Monday, July 27, in the administration building on Walnut street.

Parents in the area previously asked for a three-room addition.

Supt. Brown also reported this week that the committee will erect the addition to Day Junior High School on the existing site without the taking of four adjacent homes on Linwood avenue and Walnut street.

Tomorrow, the jamboree group will visit Philadelphia and on Saturday, they will attend the New York World's Fair and return home that night.

At the jamboree, which began July 13, they joined nearly 50,000 Boy Scouts and Scouters from throughout the nation.

The Newton Scouts were part of Norumbega Council's Jamboree Troop 67.

Altogether, 24 Norumbega Council Scouts and Explorers and two adult leaders left July 13 by bus for the 24-day trip to New Mexico.

The highlight of the trip is the 14-day stay at the ranch, which is located in the Sangre de Cristo Range of the Rocky Mountains. The youths are part of a contingent from New England, which includes a total of 60 boys and five adults.

Also included in the trip are stops at the Air Force Academy, Air Force bases and numerous sightseeing trips. They will return to Newton on Aug. 6.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Volpe To Walk Tight-Rope In Supporting Goldwater

It would be difficult to list any State in the Union which Senator Barry Goldwater has less chance of carrying than Massachusetts unless probably it's Rhode Island.

Certainly, Goldwater has a much brighter prospect of topping President Johnson in the latter's home State of Texas than in this Commonwealth.

As matters presently stand, Johnson probably will best Goldwater in the Bay State by at least as big a plurality as the late President Kennedy rolled up in 1960.

That doesn't necessarily mean that ex-Governor Volpe will go down to defeat with Goldwater in this State. Volpe won the Governorship in 1960 in the face of the surging Kennedy sweep.

But it does mean that Volpe has deep and serious problems, and the political picture isn't quite the same in Massachusetts as it was four years ago.

Two Men Hurt In Tree Crashes

Two men were treated last week at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for injuries suffered in two separate instances of an automobile crashing into a tree.

In one accident, a Franklin man who was hurt when his station wagon struck a tree at 1159 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, told police a car filled with young boys passed him at high speed on a curve, causing him to swerve into a tree beside the highway.

The driver of the other car, Barry A. Freeman of 46 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, told police he was unable to tell what caused the crash. His car struck a tree at 124 Cotton street, Newton, injuring a passenger, Richard R. Rubin of 127 Cotton street.

Redstone Is Speaker At Convention

Edward S. Redstone, of Boston based Redstone Theatres, addressed the opening business session of the annual convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Machine Operators of the United States and Canada held Monday afternoon, July 20, at Louisville, Ky. He was the keynote speaker.

Mr. Redstone's activities include being president of the National Association of Concessionaires, Chief Barker of the Variety Club of New England, and a member of the executive committee of Theatre Owners of America.

He resides with his wife and two children at 69 Clifton Rd., Newton Centre.

Shaw Comedy Caps Summer Theater Run

Shaw's "Heartbreak House" will be the fourth and final production this season for the Newton Summer Theater at Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

This seldom played romantic comedy by the great Irish wit, G. B. S., is regarded as one of his most distinguished works. Critical comment on its first New York production included: "A cascade of words... endlessly stimulating, completely fresh." "The dialogue has a diabolical crackle." "A brilliant vehicle... sprightly, humorous, and often prophetic opinions on the state of the world." "Blindly bright as an intellectual exercise."

Leading roles in "Heartbreak House" will be played by Patricia Kearns as Hesione Hushabye, William Lucas as Hector Hushabye, and Patricia Copeland as Ariadne Utterword. Patricia Kearns is returning to a favorite role, having played Hesione twice previously. William Lucas will be remembered for his performance as Captain Bluntschli in Shaw's "Arms and the Man" last year. Patricia Copeland has been very active with the N.S.T. this season, playing Miss Connelly in "The Potting Shed" and Juliana in "The Aspern Papers."

Reservations may be made by calling DE 2-6700.

Alexander Head Of Moxie Board

Joseph A. Alexander of 82 Miller road, Newton Centre, has been elected chairman of the Advisory Board of the Moxie Company, soft drink manufacturer in Needham.

A business broker and management consultant, Mr. Alexander was formerly treasurer of Sonus Corporation (electronics) and a director and plant manager of Wasco Chemical Company Inc., both of Cambridge.

He is active in scouting and is on the Newton City Committee.

Newton Woman Establishes Student Fund

A fund to provide loan assistance to Brandeis University students has been established by Mrs. Myron Benson of 141 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, in memory of her parents.

It is called the Jennie and Abraham Rosenfeld Memorial Student Loan Fund. The late Abraham Rosenfeld was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and saw action in Cuba.

Newton Lawyer Writes Booklet On Fire Losses

Atty. George E. Gordon of 609 Beacon street, Newton Centre, senior member of Gordon & Gordon, Boston law firm, has published a booklet entitled "The Lawyer's Approach to the Adjustment of Fire Losses," which is a reprint of an address he delivered before the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers Association.

In addition to giving a brief history of fire insurance, the booklet deals with these important topics: "Hostile and Friendly Fires," and "Requirements in Case of Loss and Arbitration and Reference."

Mr. Gordon is a member of the Federal and American Bars, member of the insurance section of the American Bar Association, chairman of the insurance section of the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers Association, and for more than 40 years a specialist in insurance law and adjustment of losses of all kinds.

Also, he is counsel and director of the Lincoln National Bank of Chelsea, and lecturer on insurance law and loss adjustments at the University of Miami seminar on insurance, and a lecturer before professional and business groups throughout the country.

A copy of the booklet may be obtained by writing to Gordon & Gordon, 84 State street, Boston.

The cars dumped into the lake were those of Warren Boudreau, 1175 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, and Edwin Chyten, 38 Canterbury road. The third car was the property of John Lynch, 31 Elliot street.

Newton Folks At Star Island Conferences

Three Newton residents are at work for the summer at Star Island, off Portsmouth, N. H., Unitarian - Universalist and Congregational conference site, where some 60 college-age workers called "Pelicans," serve 10 week-long conferences, working with food, linen, mail, maintenance and engineering.

The Newtonites are Miss Lorna Laughland of 340 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, Tom Weiskel of 70 Summer street, Newton Upper Falls, and Robert Yukes of 234 Church street, Newton.

Those attending a recent conference on religious education included Mrs. Betsy Lockwood of 17 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, and Parker Lord of 249 Crafts street, Newtonville.

Telephone Co. Appoints New District Head

James A. Sullivan of Framingham has been appointed Newton-Brookline district manager of the New England Telephone Co.

He started with the firm in Worcester in 1931 and since that time has worked as manager in Newton, Southbridge, Northampton, Newton and, most recently, Brookline.

While in Newton, Sullivan was a member of the Wellesley Kiwanis Club and co-chairman of the Norfolk-Middlesex Senatorial District Political Action Committee.

He served as co-chairman of Senator Edward M. Kennedy's Hampshire County campaign in 1962 and was recently reappointed by Governor Peabody to his third term on the State Welfare Advisory Board.

He served as chairman for five consecutive terms from 1959-1964. He also served on the executive board of the National Council of Public Welfare Boards.

Gibbs—

ties guaranteed by the Constitution to every citizen." A second statement favored "improvements of civil rights statutes adequate to changing needs of our times."

"I think those two statements are short, brief and to the point, and if a man followed them from the heart, it would answer the problem," Mayor Gibbs observed.

One suggested amendment to the Republican platform, Gibbs stated, called for a substantial increase in the professional staff of the civil rights division of the Department of Justice.

Gibbs said the matter of increasing the professional staff of the civil rights division of the Justice Department is an administrative question and one on which he does not consider himself qualified to make a decision.

Another proposed amendment, Gibbs declared, asked "the appointment to federal judgeships of men devoted to protecting the Constitutional rights of citizens."

Mayor Gibbs said he saw no need of any such plank in the platform since persons, appointed as judges, in taking their oath of office, pledge themselves to do exactly what the amendment advocated.

The Mayor asserted that the platform amendments offered to the convention were "just general statements."

"I am 100 per cent for civil rights," Mayor Gibbs declared. "My position in this regard is well known. I think you can live by the Golden Rule: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Gibbs' explanation of his vote was made in response to a letter from Chairman Richmond of the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights informing the Mayor that large numbers of his constituents were "dismayed" at his vote.

"It was particularly disturbing that your vote followed a statement by another Newton resident, Attorney General Edward Brooke, who addressed the convention and stated that the existing civil rights plank of the Republican platform was inadequate and that the proposed amendments had Brooke's unqualified support," Richmond said in his letter to the Mayor.

"As you know, the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights is a non-partisan committee comprised of citizens of all political persuasions," Richmond's letter continued. "We strongly believe that the civil rights issue is a non-partisan matter, and we support the vote for the proposed amendment by the majority of the Massachusetts delegation. We also believe that as citizens of Newton we are entitled to have our Mayor explain why he differed with the majority of the Massachusetts delegation and why he voted against the proposed amendment."

Rev. John Long War Veteran And B.C. Dean

The Office of the Dead and a high Mass of requiem for the Rev. John F. Long, a veteran of World War II, and appointed dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Boston College less than a month ago, were offered in St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, Tuesday, July 21.

Father Long died July 18 on the B. C. campus.

He joined the U. S. Air Force chaplains corps in 1942. Following his retirement after the war with the rank of colonel, he served as assistant at St. Ignatius Church, and returned to Boston College, which he had served as dean for the first time in 1939, and where he had been a teacher of classics and theology.

Just prior to his death, Fr. Long, on receiving his recent assignment, said he was looking forward to "my third time around as dean."

Born near the old Boston College building in Boston's South End, he went to Joshua Bates Elementary School, and then to B. C. High, where he was looked upon as a sharpshooter in basketball. He entered the Novitiate of the Society of Jesus at St. Andrew-on-the-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., determined to follow the vocation he had decided on while an altar boy in the South End's Immaculate Conception Church.

He studied at Weston College and received his bachelor and graduate degrees at B. C., and was ordained a Jesuit in 1933. In 1958 he was named dean of Holy Cross College, and returned to B. C. again in 1962.

During the past year he had served as moderator of "The Heights," B. C. student newspaper, and during the college's centennial celebration he helped plan and organize the academic colloquies.

Two Injured In Two Collisions

Collisions at intersections sent two persons to Newton-Wellesley Hospital for treatment last Saturday.

One was Mrs. Katherine Buckley of 210 Herrick road, Newton Centre. She sustained facial injuries when a car driven by her husband, Jerry Buckley, collided at Beacon and Crescent streets, Newton Centre, with one operated by Stanley Selib of 34 Hatfield road, West Newton.

Francis A. Lucente of 24 Melville avenue, Newtonville, suffered a chest injury in a collision at Commonwealth avenue and Cedar street between his car and that of Alexander B. Chart of 197 Blake street, Newtonville.

Nonantum Is Parade Scene

Members of St. Mary of Carmen Society marched through the streets of Nonantum on July 19, with Mayor Donald L. Gibbs leading the procession.

The traditional parade was the Society's 30th. It began and ended at the Church of Our Lady, with the line of march taking in Adams street, Watertown street, West street, Middle street, Chapel street, Cook street, Green street, Lincoln road, Crafts street and Hawthorne street.

Benediction was given at Our Lady's.

Italian music was played by two smartly uniformed bands, and a statue of St. Mary of Carmen was carried.

Junior Judokas In Tournament At South High

The Bay State Judo Club of Newton promises judo at its best in a tournament Sunday, July 26, at Newton South High School, Brandeis road, Newton Centre.

It will be the first time judo in competition at the Junior level will be seen in this area. It will be Kodokan (Olympic) judo, matching the leading judokas of New England in the six through 16-year age bracket.

The tournament will begin at 11 in the morning and continue throughout the afternoon, with the youngsters competing for first, second and third place trophies in their respective weight divisions, plus a trophy for the most outstanding judoka of the contest.

Contestants are expected from all the New England states, and from as far south as Washington, D. C.

Spectators will be welcome. For further information, the telephone number of the Bay State Judo Club of 12 Apple-garth street, Newton Centre, is DE 2-6012.

the older group of children were also most helpful and cooperative.

Donations for prizes and candy were received from Elm Farm, First National Stores, Kiddie Center, Woolworth's, Highland Pharmacy, Doctors Drug Inc., Highland Hardware, Oak Hill Pharmacy, Countryside Pharmacy, Sandy's Store, James McManus Company and Hammond Travel Agency.

Memorial School Playground's carnival had a Gay Nineties theme, with the instructors, Tom Curley and Elinor Kempanien, and the children, including Maureen and Kathy Foley, Lisa Ruby and Mary Cassiani, dressed in appropriate costumes.

The Burr Playground's carnival was supervised by the leaders, Miss Constance Ober, Brian Tuohy and Miss Joan Bowker, assisted by Timothy Kinchla and Miss Nancy Philpott.

The chance booth was run by Miss Ober, who donated a homemade cake and was in charge of the bean guessing contest. Miss Ober was helped by Mary Elizabeth Boudreau. The food table was run by Miss Nancy Philpott with the help of Susan Wilbar, Mary Elizabeth Boudreau, George Grant and Keith Sheehan. The food was donated by Mr. Tuohy, Miss Bowker and Miss Philpott. Mr. Kinchla had charge of the prize booth, with many prizes donated by F. W. Woolworth Co. and Mr. Bowker. The main attraction seemed to be the turtle races directed by Miss Bowker.

Among the other booths were the ring toss, run by Michael Smith, the candle-out run by Mr. Tuohy, the penny toss run by William Sutcliffe, and shave the balloon run by Buddy Merkin.

The cake was won by Mrs. Bey, and the jelly beans by Mary Elizabeth Boudreau. The big prizes were won by Carol Marrangie, Connie Cone, and Jack Jarvis, a baseball.

Supervisors for Cabot Park Playground's carnival, held Wednesday afternoon, July 15, were Helen Greene, Richard Maloney, Peggy O'Brien and Michael Bucavals.

The winning booth which collected the most money consisted of a pinball game run by Richard Bova, Eric Goldberg, William Josephson and Stephen Thomson. The booth which collected the second highest amount was a basketmaking booth called "Cousery's Corner," manned by Michael Walsh, Robert Shapiro and Robert Burke.

Refreshments were sold by Robert Bertram, Jr., Robert Keefe, Brian Leary, Donald Keefe, Peter Percy and Rory Capabio. Other booths were Pitch-the-penny-in-the-tub by Frances and Deborah Frechette, and ring toss by Joe Leonard, Barbara Doherty and Pamela Reynolds ran feed the clown: Mark and Marshall Frechette ran guess-the-number-of-marbles-in-a-jar and drop-clothespins-into-a-bottle; Richard Allosso and Thomas Loughlin ran pitch and putt; Jean Lunge and Ruth Malin had a booth called shoot the candle with a water gun, and Margaret Lahey and Ellen Shapiro dressed up as clowns and sold balloons and punch.

Games, prizes, refreshments, fortune telling and contests conducted by youngsters at booths of their own construction were features of Ward School Playground's carnival on July 17.

The playground was gaily trimmed with decorations made by the children during arts and crafts periods. Major contributions were made by Brian Bercury, Velma Bercury, Charles Kaye, Helene Mayer, Mark Murray, Linda Price and Andrea Feeley.

Prizes were awarded for the most decorative, creative, and successful booths. Among the outstanding booths were: the fortune-telling tent run by Marjorie Ullian, the costumed gypsy; the refreshment stands run by Susan Brand, Charles Kaye, Andrea Feeley, Helene Mayer, Linda Price, and Velma Bercury, and the games and contests conducted by Charles Kaye, Brian Bercury, Jimmy Price and Peter Rosenberg.

Other prize winning participants were: Beth Price, Bruce Samuels, Susan Samuels, Howard Ullian, Beverly Goldfarb, Keith Ente, and Laura Shatz.

The playground which is under the supervision of the Newton Recreation Department was visited by District Supervisor Robert Doherty. The playground instructors are Nancy Lurensky and Leslie Feeley.

Political Highlights

To have any chance of winning over Governor Peabody in the November election, Volpe must persuade the liberal and moderate Republicans, who have indicated that they will not support Goldwater, that they should turn out and vote for the GOP State ticket.

Volpe's first big undertaking will be to get the anti-Goldwater Republicans to go to the polls. That may not prove as easy as it might seem on first impression.

A substantial number of Massachusetts Republicans and Independents turn out every four years for a Presidential election and don't bother with other elections. Those who don't like either President Johnson or Goldwater will not have much incentive to go to their polling places next Nov. 3. If they stay home, it will hurt Volpe.

Volpe should be in good standing with the moderate and liberal wing of the Republican party after making the good but hopeless fight and trudging down the road to certain defeat with Pennsylvania Governor William W. Scranton. But Volpe will be forced to walk a political tight-rope this fall.

While courting the anti-Goldwater voters, he'll be obliged to exercise extreme care not to offend the Goldwater partisans. He has no alternative but to give Senator Goldwater at least token support.

It all adds up to a sticky situation for Volpe. It will be a lot different from 1960 when thousands upon thousands of Massachusetts Republicans voted for John F. Kennedy for President and then crossed back over party lines to ballot for Volpe.

If Volpe doesn't go far enough for Goldwater, he's likely to lose some right-wing Republican support. If he goes too far, he'll displease many of the moderate and liberal Republicans.

It will be quite a stunt if Volpe can go far enough to satisfy the Goldwater camp and not so far as to alienate the anti-Goldwater element.

Whether Volpe can marshal enough political diplomacy to execute that feat is something only future developments will determine.

Lloyd B. Waring, Goldwater's Massachusetts campaign, did just the reverse of what is expected he would do after his hero had captured the Republican Presidential nomination.

He poured acid into the open wounds of Bay State Republican leaders when he should have been applying a soothing balm.

Waring's role should have been that of gracious winner in the first flush of official victory.

The thing to do was to have made peace overtures to the GOP chieftains who had opposed Goldwater and coax them into line behind the Arizona Senator. Instead, Waring declared that they should be swept out and that a new leadership should take over the Republican party in Massachusetts.

Since Waring and other rabid Goldwater backers couldn't swing a majority of the Bay State delegates to the Arizona Senator even when he was certain of nomination, there is scant likelihood they will be able to wrest away control of the GOP in the State.

The fact that Senator Saltonstall and ex-Governor Volpe allowed the Massachusetts votes all to be cast for Goldwater after a motion was offered that his nomination be made unanimous was simply a gesture toward party harmony even though it aroused some resentment among the anti-Goldwaterites.

However, it is true, as Waring declared, that there has been no real leadership in the Republican party in Massachusetts for a number of years. Not since Christian A. Herter left the State House seven and a half years ago, after his four-year regime as Governor, has there been a strong hand guiding the GOP in this State.

Volpe provided some leadership for his party while he was Governor, but he was too deeply immersed in adjusting himself to the problems of running the State government to devote much time to politics.

Senator Saltonstall has given an on-again, off-again brand of leadership. Necessarily, he is in Washington much of the time, and his leadership hasn't always been followed.

Last year, for example, when Saltonstall, Volpe and Attorney General Brooke backed Donald W. Whitehead for the Republican State Committee chairmanship, a majority of the committee members rejected their leadership and chose Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., as the new chairman.

Goldwater Tactics

Hard To Understand

What is most difficult to understand is the high-handed tactics of the Goldwater camp, their tendency to commit needless blunders and the attitude of Waring and other Goldwater lieutenants that "they need us more than we need them."

However much help ex-Governor Volpe, Attorney General Brooke and Elliot Richardson may need in their election campaigns, it isn't nearly as much as Goldwater would need to carry Massachusetts.

Word was sent to Volpe at the Republican national convention that if he didn't go along with Goldwater, the Goldwater group would furnish enough funds for ex-representative Francis W. Perry to make a primary fight against Volpe.

That ultimatum was disregarded by Volpe who doesn't have to worry too much about raising money to finance his campaign. Volpe cast his vote for Governor Scranton.

There were several ridiculous aspects to this form of strong-arm political pressure.

One was that Goldwater didn't need Volpe's vote to gain the Republican Presidential nomination. He had far more support than he needed to put him over the top. It was pointless to try to coerce Volpe into backing Goldwater.

A second was that Perry already had withdrawn from the GOP gubernatorial primary. Even if he hadn't, it's a pretty safe guess that Perry would not have accepted money from the Goldwater camp.

Senator Saltonstall doesn't have to worry about incurring the wrath of the Goldwater wing. He does not come up for reelection until 1966. There is a strong suspicion that Goldwater then will be out of poli-

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE AWARDED—Mrs. Henry Nadell, of Newton, at left, congratulates Elissa Pollinger, Simmons College sophomore, while Mrs. Robert Masters, also of Newton, makes out check for Hadassah Kohn, recipient of Bertha I. Kagan scholarship. She will enter Radcliffe. Scholarships were awarded by Women's Scholarship Association. A total of 68 scholarships and 10 loans amounting to $23,000 were given for the coming school year.

College News

Andrew S. Koltay, 12 Lill Ave., West Newton, a Newton High School student, has been accepted for admission to Clark University, Worcester.

Elise A. Klein of 169 Mill St., Newtonville, was honored for achievement in French at Mount Holyoke College, where she is a junior. She is a graduate of Newton High.

John Kevin Cotter of 350 Chestnut St., West Newton, was a member of the dance ensemble in the Ithaca College production of "Kiss Me Kate."

Elisabeth Seidenberg of 6 Auburn Terr., Auburndale, who was refugee from East Prussia 13 years ago, will be graduated from Boston University College of Liberal Arts with honors. An orphan and accomplished violinist, she will study in France under a $1000 scholarship.

Rhoda Clark of 15 Oakwood Rd., Auburndale, was appointed regional chairman in Auburndale for B.U.'s 7th alumni giving program, according to Herbert I. Freeman of Newton Centre, national chairman.

tics and in private life down in Arizona.

While Volpe evidently will seek to get the votes of the Goldwater adherents and at the same time retain the backing of the Scranton supporters, Attorney General Brooke apparently will divorce himself from Goldwater.

Brooke obviously believes that his views on human rights and those of Goldwater are too far apart for him to be able to campaign for the election of his party's nominee for President.

That is not surprising. Instead, it would be more surprising if Brooke were able to go along with Goldwater.

It is reasonably clear that an unknown quantity on which the Goldwater camp is counting rather heavily is the so-called "white backlash" vote resulting from resentment either against the new civil rights law or Negro demonstrations and sit-ins.

Nobody can be sure just how strong the "white backlash" is or how many people who say they are for civil and human rights will vote for Goldwater when they are in the privacy of their polling places with no one looking over their shoulders.

That there is some "white backlash" has been shown in the States where Alabama's Governor Wallace entered popular primaries.

The Negroes themselves could promote resentment to their own cause and increase the "white backlash" with well-intended but misguided demonstrations which inconvenience and antagonize people now friendly to them and on their side.

The civil rights issue between President Johnson and Senator Goldwater right now is clearcut. If people mean what they say, Goldwater has little chance of carrying more than a handful of northern States. Indeed, his prospects don't even appear very bright in the South despite Governor Wallace's withdrawal from the Presidential race.

One person planning to make Goldwater as big a campaign issue as possible in Massachusetts is Governor Peabody.

Peabody will endeavor to capitalize on the fact that Volpe agreed to make Goldwater's nomination unanimous and is officially recorded as voting for the Arizona Senator.

Colene Kachianes Is Bride Of Merle Stuart Dodsworth

Miss Colene Kachianes, daughter of Mrs. Jessie M. Kachianes of 19 Crystal street, Newton Centre, became the bride of Mr. Merle Stuart Dodsworth of 21 Alpena avenue, Dedham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dodsworth of Athol, Amherst, Nova Scotia, at a recent afternoon ceremony in the Brighton Avenue Baptist Church, Allston.

Rev. J. Ashton Nickerson officiated at the two o'clock service, which was followed by a reception in the church hall.

Given in marriage by Mr. Nicholas Voss, a family friend, the bride wore a gown of white nylon net designed with a pearl-embroidered neckline, a full skirt, elbow-length sleeves and appliques of lace.

Her illusion veil was attached to a circlet of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of roses, stephanotis and greens. Miss Bonnie MacPhail was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Judith Ann Kenney and Miss Lee Ann Ferguson. Three-and-one-half-year-old June Rose of Dedham, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. Lester Dodsworth of Watertown. Ushers included Mr. Maxwell Rose of Dedham, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mr. Roy Foot of Waltham.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Cape Breton, Canada, the couple will reside in Brockton.

The bride is employed as a secretary at Boston University. Mr. Dodsworth works for the Allied Container Corporation in Dedham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sanderson To Live On West Coast

Planning to live on the West Coast are Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Sanderson (Carol Ruth Bean), whose marriage was solemnized recently at the Second Church in Newton, West Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer George Bean of 215 Melrose street, Auburndale, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Sanderson of 1515 Veterans of Foreign Wars parkway, West Roxbury, are the couple's parents.

Dr. Ross Cannon performed the single-ring service at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A reception took place at the Assembly Hall of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown made of white silk organza over taffeta marked with jeweled Alencon lace appliques. The fitted bodice had a bateau neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The bell-skirt was enhanced with a detachable Watteau train.

A crown of seed pearls was fastened with her silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of miniature carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Lorraine Hayes of Bourne was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Sylvia Keiler and Miss Virginia Barnes, both of West Newton, were the other attendants.

Gilbert Eisenberg of Needham served as best man. The ushers were James DiGiorno of Watertown and Thomas Barnes of West Newton.

The couple left on a tour of the country. They plan to make their home in San Diego, Calif.

The bride received her degree in music education from State College at Lowell, class of 1963.

Mr. Sanderson received his

John Hawksley and Bride Were Married In Waban

The marriage of Miss Yvonne G. Michaud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Michaud of Amesbury and John W. Hawksley 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hawksley Jr., of Waban and Seabrook Beach, N.H., took place here recently at St. Philip Neri Church.

In a setting of white gladioli the Rt. Rev. John Parsons, pastor, officiated. A reception was held at the Charter House in Newton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's silk organza gown was bodiced with jeweled Chantilly lace. The bell-skirt terminated in a chapel-length train.

She wore a matching lace mantilla and carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with an orchid and accented with ivy.

Miss Holly Jean Hawksley of Waban was maid of honor for her brother's bride. Miss Gloria Torrey of Newton Jct., N. H., was in charge of the guest book.

L. Robert Michaud, USN, brother of the bride, served as best man, while Neal Adkins of Auburndale was the usher.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 6 Hazelwood road, Maynard.

The bride, a graduate of Amesbury High School, class of 1959, attended Lynn Burdett College. She has been associated with the Massachusetts Electric Company in Lawrence.

Mr. Hawksley, a graduate of Newton High School, attended Boston University. He works for RCA in Burlington.

Emerson Rug Holds Giant Annual Carpet Sale

A mammoth broadloom sale is under way at Emerson Rug stores on Route One in Norwood and Route Nine in Natick. Few carpet sales are as well-known or as eagerly awaited as this event.

The fame of Emerson's August Sale has spread throughout New England, bringing thousands of customers every year.

What sets this sale apart from all other carpet sale? Bigger savings, of course! Emerson has slashed prices as much as 44% . . . and many carpets are reduced even more.

PART OF EMERSON'S HUGE SELECTION NOW ON SALE at Emerson Rug Stores are top brands such as James Lees, Cabin Crafts, Bigelow, Barwick, Mohawk and Masland. Hundreds of weaves and textures are now reduced 36% to 44%.

But equally important is Emerson's selection. You can spend hours browsing through the store and still not see it all. Hundreds of carpets are on display, ranging from sumptuous high pile broadlooms to colorful tweeds to sturdy twist styles and elegant embossed patterns. You'll find colors for every decor . . . from regal shades to brilliant hues to subdued decorator colors now so popular across the country. Keeping up to the minute with the latest trends in home decoration is a major reason for Emerson's growth. But the company carefully maintains a well balanced selection, offering a complete assortment of styles and colors for those who want traditional carpets.

Quality Carpets Emerson offers a select groups of brands that you can buy with confidence. Among them are James Lees, Cabin Crafts, Mohawk, Bigelow, Barwick and Masland . . . all familiar names representing the finest in broadloom.

Satisfaction Studies show that the average family buys broadloom only twice in a lifetime. Recognizing the importance of customer satisfaction, Emerson has built an enviable reputation for service and dependability. The firm maintains a large staff of specialists to provide every customer with immediate service should the need arise.

Volume Savings You may be surprised to learn that few carpet stores carry a large broadloom inventory. Many retailers purchase each customer's order from the manufacturer, keeping only samples in the showroom. Emerson Rug is an outstanding exception. The largest retail carpet warehouse in New England is operated by Emerson Rug. It offers 25,000 square feet of storage space and almost every inch is crammed with rolls of broadloom. To you this means lower cost and faster delivery. Here's why. Where most carpet stores buy for one customer at a time, Emerson will purchase many rolls and earn volume discounts. The savings are reflected in Emerson's cult decorating problems, and is yours simply for the asking. There's a professional spirit at Emerson. Each member of the staff takes pride in his knowledge and mastery of carpeting.

"As specialists in this field, we devote all our energies to broadloom," explains President John Reilly. "We don't try to divide our efforts between carpeting and other types of home furnishings, because we would rather do one thing well than be a jack-of-all-trades and master of none."

Complete Prices! Emerson's August Sale has a special surprise value for those who want wall-to-wall broadloom. Remarkable as it seems, Emerson's low August prices include carpet plus luxury padding, deluxe tackless installation and delivery anywhere in New England.

Emerson is one of the few stores in New England that includes padding, installation and delivery in the price. When you see an Emerson ad or shop at an Emerson showroom this month, you can be sure that no extra costs will be added to the price.

Budget Terms If you need broadloom, but just can't afford it right now, you need not miss the August

Sale. Emerson offers several budget plans that are easily arranged. A small deposit will secure your August savings, and you can take up to 36 months to pay while you enjoy your carpet in your home.

Air Conditioned Stores For your shopping convenience, all Emerson Rug showrooms are delightfully air conditioned. In fact, Emerson Rug is a comfortable place to be on a hot summer day. If you prefer your husband's advice when you shop, bring him along any night. Monday through Friday. All stores are open weekdays 'til 9 p.m. and Saturday's 'til 5:30 p.m.

TOO BIG TO MISS!

EMERSON RUG'S AUGUST SALE IS UNDER WAY!

If you're looking for giant-sized savings, set your sights on Emerson Rug's August Sale. This opportunity is too big to miss.

Year after year this famous broadloom sale brings thrifty shoppers swarming to Emerson stores. And no wonder! Emerson reduces hundreds of prices 36% to 44%.

The selection is larger than anything you've ever seen. There's 70,000 yards of famous brand name broadloom on sale. Emerson has over 540 colors and every style, weave and texture imaginable.

See for yourself. Come in this week and shop in comfortably air conditioned surroundings. Or call us and we'll send a representative to your home with a complete selection days or evenings.

All Stores Delightfully Air-Conditioned

(a) Dining rooms and related facilities to be located on the roof of the South Building and in the snack bars, which related facilities may include restaurant facilities for preparing and serving food to be consumed within the premises, lounges, and food and beverage bars for the convenience of the residents.
(b) Business services for the individual convenience and exclusive use of the residents of the multiple dwelling buildings, which services shall be conducted within the two multiple dwelling buildings and may include barber shops, beauty parlors, tailors, shoe repair shops, and similar personal services, restaurants, newsstands, drug stores, food shops, clothing shops, travel agencies, and similar retail uses; doctors, dentists, and related medical services; professional services and similar services; and health and recreation facilities; all for the exclusive use of the residents.
(c) The gross floor area of the dining rooms and facilities related thereto shall not exceed 2% of the total gross floor area of all existing buildings containing dwelling units, and the gross floor area of all business services including dining rooms and related facilities shall not exceed 5% of the total gross floor area of all existing buildings containing dwelling units.
3. Swimming pool with inflatable plastic bubble, sun deck, snack bars, lockers, cabanas; ornamental pools, terraces, pool decks, canopies, signs, and transformer vaults; entrance lobbies, and partially underground public garages containing gasoline selling and service stations for the exclusive use of the residents.
4. Access drive extending northerly from Boylston St. and connecting with the site service roads shall be constructed and maintained for the use of fire and other emergency vehicles and trucks.
5. All the above are shown on Sheet A-2 revised April 29, 1964, entitled "Site Plan and Landscape Plan" John Hans Graham & Associates, and Sheet M-1 revised March 8, 1963, entitled "Grading and Utilities Plan" Barnes Engineering Company, Inc.
6. All rights shall be exercised within 5 years of the granting of such permission. Land referred to herein is in the Residence F District.
#548-64 Chestnut Hill Towers Inc., recommending amendment to the zoning ordinances of the City of Newton as follows:
Amend Section 23.1 by adding after the word "space" in the 2nd sentence, "except in Residence F Districts" so that said paragraph shall read as follows:
"Parking space. An area adequate for parking an automobile but in no case less than 200' for each automobile exclusive of aisles or other maneuvering space. No such parking space except in Residence F District shall be located within the required setback distances from a street and side lines."

Amend Section 23.4A(a)(2) by adding the following sentence at the end: "No parking area shall be permitted nearer than 30' from a street, 10' from a rear or side line or 20' from an abutting residential zone." so that such section shall read as follows: "(2) Parking space. On each lot or tract of land, there shall be provided a permanent parking area or areas, indoor and/or outdoor, of sufficient size to allow one and one-half (1½) parking spaces for each dwelling unit or housekeeping unit to be accommodated on the lot or tract. No parking area shall be permitted nearer than 30' from a street, 10' from a rear or side line or 20' from an abutting residential zone."
Attest:
MONTE G. BASBAS, City Clerk
Notice is hereby given by the Planning Board that it will hold public hearing on the above petition as described in the foregoing notice and at the same time and place.
Attest:
U. M. Schiavone, City Engineer
City Clerk, Planning Board
Under the Zoning Ordinances of the City of Newton, an objector to a petition can best serve his purpose by filing at or before the first hearing, his signed opposition in writing, stating his reasons for objecting. (#1368-58)

Tow Proposal For Cars At B.C.

A proposed ordinance that would authorize police to tow away illegally parked cars with out-of-state license plates was referred recently for further study to the committee on Claims and Rules.

Reporting as the newly appointed chairman of the ad-hoc committee on Traffic, William Carmen presented the proposed towing regulation. It was recommended, Alderman William L. Bruce reported, as a result of parking conditions in the vicinity of Boston College.

Underwriters Elect Three

Named president and director was Sumner Rodman of 94 Vine St., Chestnut Hill, president of Rodman Insurance Agency, Inc., Chestnut Hill.

Elected first vice president and director was C. Robinson Fish III, of 26 Dorset Rd., Waban.

Daniel M. Braude of 45 White Oak Rd., Waban, was elected a director, a life member of the Million-Dollar Round Table.

Bible Lesson On 'Truth' Is Sunday Theme

"The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time-honored systems, knocks at the portal of humanity."

These words from the opening preface of the Christian Science textbook (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy) will help set the theme of a Bible Lesson on "Truth" to be read at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Responsive reading will include these verses from Psalms: "Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven. . . . Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name."

Skidmore Family

The wrong mother was credited to Linda Shaw, in a recent account of the graduation of the girl from Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Alan T. Shaw of 165 Berkeley street, West Newton, like her daughter, is a Skidmore alumnae.

Carr Children Have Fun At Wal-Lex Center

More than 60 youngsters, accompanied by their Carr School Playground leaders, enjoyed a recent trip to the Wal-Lex recreational center, where they took advantage of a special summer offer to roller skate, bowl, play miniature golf and sustain themselves with a hot dog and drink.

Also in the party were Mrs. Pendergast, Mrs. Cadman and Mrs. Paolini, parents. Miss Lillian Swartz is the Carr School district supervisor. Leaders on the outing were Mrs. Edith Wolcott, Mary Lee Carroll, Suzanne Kissell, Gerald P. Bernstein and Donald Merna.

Waban Society Elects Slate Of Officers

Charles E. Downe, planning consultant for the City of Newton, outlined the city's urban renewal plans as principal speaker at the recent 75th annual meeting of the Waban Improvement Society, with David D. Nickerson, retiring president, presiding.

George A. Goldstein of 39 Rokeby Rd., was elected president for the coming year.

Others elected included: Vice president, D. Stuart Laughlin, Jr., of 94 Avalon Rd.; secretary, Mrs. Douglas D. Furbush, Jr., of 100 Devonshire Rd., and treasurer, Richard C. Huber of 406 Woodward St.

The newly elected directors were: District 1, Mrs. Edwin Hawkridge of 92 Windsor Rd. and Leslie Berman of 46 Ferncroft Rd.; District 2, Mrs. Fred Milgroom of 51 Holly Rd. and Robert A. Schmidlein of 37 Holly Rd.; District 3, Mrs. Barrie Hurst of 28 Agawam Rd., and Guy C. McLeod of 71 Neshobe Rd.; District 4, Mrs. Lyman H. Ziegler of 103 Waban Ave. and Damon Carter of 60 Rokeby Rd.; District 5, Mrs. Earl B. Colvin of 103 Collins Rd. and John E. Alman of 17 Tamworth Rd.; District 6, Mrs. Francis J. McCarthy of 91 Avalon Rd. and Louis J. Shrair of 146 Allen Ave.

Graduates From Quaker College

David Ingersoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Ingersoll, 49 Farlow road, Newton, received a B.A. degree from Earlham College, Richmond, Ind.

He was a member of the largest class ever to be graduated from the Quaker liberal arts college.

Newton Man In Civil Rights Test In Mississippi

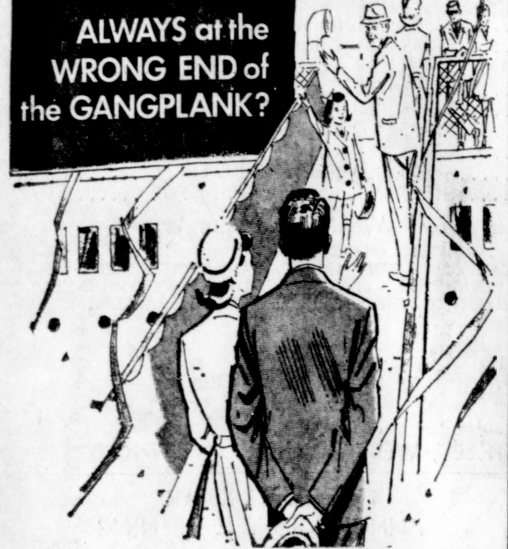

Kivie Kaplan of 75 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, Newton industrialist and philanthropist, was a member of a bi-racial task force that integrated two previously all-white hotels and a motel in Jackson, Miss., Sunday (July 5).

Mr. Kaplan is a board member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He accompanied the Negro president of NAACP's Boston branch, and other civil rights workers, who had gone to the Mississippi city to observe the operation of the new civil rights law.

Mayor And School Board 1.8 Million Dollars Apart

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and members of the School Committee found themselves some $1,800,000 apart Monday night in their estimates of the amount the City needs to spend on its school capital improvement program over the next three years.

In the Mayor's opinion, an annual expenditure of $1,000,000 would be sufficient. Haskell C. Freedman, committee chairman, favored $1,800,000 a year for the next three years—a total of $4,800,000, in contrast to the Mayor's $3,000,000 figure.

Said Mayor Gibbs, "I thought we had been generous in allowing a million a year." He chided the committee for sending along for his and the Board of Aldermen's approval "batches of requests for school additions and new school construction—as many as five in one night."

The Mayor cited a list of projects calling for expenditures by the City that have caused, and will continue to cause, Newton's debt to spiral. Among them were the new incinerator, a swimming pool program that is coming along, the need for an adjunct to City Hall, and renovation of the free library system at a cost of approximately $1,500,000.

At one point in the discussion, Freedman said that it was his understanding that the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen will approve school

3 Listed As 'Outstanding Young Men'

Three Newton residents will be listed in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America." All three — Joseph G. Bradley, Stanley Miller and John L. Vaccaro — were chosen "outstanding young men in Newton" earlier this year.

Bradley is a State Representative from Newton. A former Alderman, he was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor at the recent Democratic convention. He is an insurance man.

Miller, who was the recipient of the Newton Jaycee Distinguished Service Award, was chairman of the Newton United Fund and is vice president of a firm making prefabricated houses.

Vaccaro was selected as one of the four "Outstanding Young Men in Massachusetts" and has been nominated for one of the national awards. He is a certified public accountant.

Eliot Church Hosts Negro Collegians

Two groups of negro students whose members would not be able to attend college without financial help from the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference were guests Sunday of Eliot Congregational Church of Newton.

The scholarship fund to date has reached $7,000, of which $2,000 was a gift of Eliot Church.

One of the scholarship recipients, Sally Jarvis of Roxbury, will enter Newton Junior College in the fall as a freshman. Most of the 21 Greater Boston students who attended Sunday's reception and service at Eliot Church intend to enter inexpensive colleges in the south or in Massachusetts for their higher education.

The second group comprised 14 students from Talladega College in Alabama, who have been working here in Massachusetts this summer.

The scholarship fund for Negroes is a project of the Conference's Social Action Committee, whose members include Mrs. Loy L. Longs,

Newton Portion Of Turnpike Extension To Open Sept. 1

The first 8.5 miles of the 11.2-mile Massachusetts Turnpike Extension will open Sept. 1. The entire Newton strip of the toll road is included in the soon-to-open stretch.

For Newton-to-Boston commuters, it will mean a considerable saving of time over the present driving routes.

The 8.5-mile stretch, running from the end of the present Massachusetts Turnpike in Weston to Beacon Park in Brighton (at the railroad yards near Harvard), will consume about ten minutes of driving time. It currently takes between two to three times as long (and sometimes longer) to cover the stretch.

This portion of the turnpike extension will connect with Storrow Drive.

The remainder of the turnpike extension, running through Boston, will open March 1, 1965, or sooner, turnpike authority officials said yesterday.

Newton commuters will be able to enter the eastbound (i.e., Boston) lanes at two points, Exit 16 in West Newton at Route 16 and Exit 17 at Newton Corner.

Conversely, coming from Boston to Newton, drivers will be able to exit at the same two sites.

Drivers riding from the West Newton entrance to Beacon Park will pay 30 cents, while those entering at Newton Corner will pay 15 cents.

Upon entering the West Newton toll booth, drivers will pay 15 cents. An additional 15 cents will be collected at the Beacon Park exit.

There will be no toll booths at Newton Corner. However, drivers will pay the same 15 cents at the Beacon Park exit.

Returning from Boston, the charges will be the same. All will pay 15 cents entering at Beacon Park. Those leaving at Newton Corner will have no additional charge, while those exiting at West Newton will pay an additional 15 cents.

When the entire turnpike extension is completed, TURNPIKE—See Page 2

You Can Drive A Little Faster

Motorists, under certain conditions, are now permitted to drive a little faster in Newton, according to Capt. James W. Corcoran, head of the police traffic bureau.

The captain called the attention of police to three new laws now in effect.

Under one, the 40-mile-an-hour speed limit in non-congested areas is increased to 50 miles per hour in daylight and to 45 miles per hour at night.

The limit for school bus speed has been increased from 30 miles to 40 miles per hour, and speed limits in school zones have been increased from 20 to 30 miles per hour.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Goldwater Bay State Aide

Hits Members Of Own Team

Of all Senator Barry Goldwater's political disciples in Massachusetts, the one who probably mirrors most closely both Goldwater's personality and politics is outspoken, hard-hitting 38-year-old Jack Molesworth of the Back Bay.

Usually a politician restricts his attacks and blasts to those in the opposing camp and tries to say something nice about persons on his own campaign team, however difficult that may be.

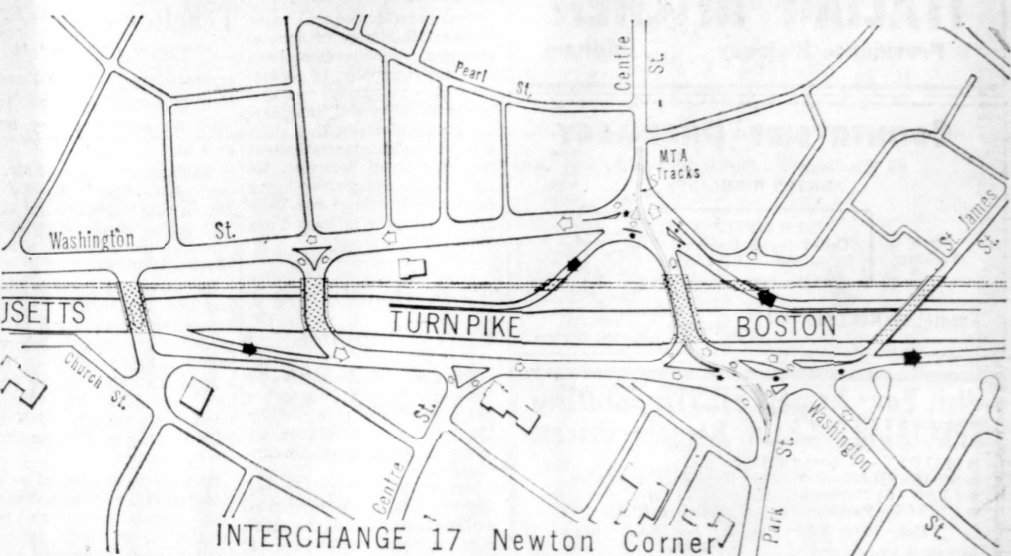

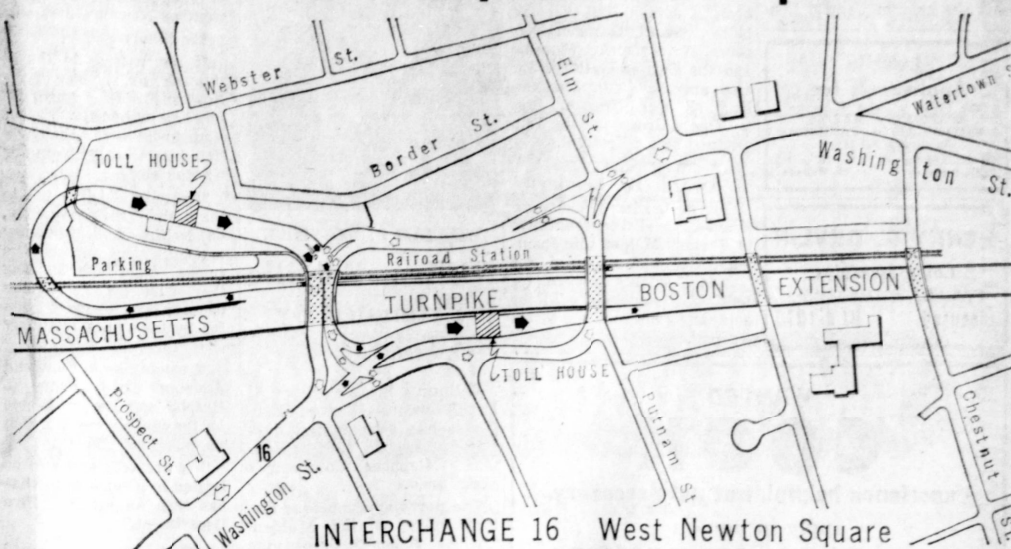

Not, however, the free-swinging Molesworth who is cut from a different bolt of political cloth.

In voicing his views and opinions, Molesworth even had a few unflattering things to say about Lloyd Waring, head of the Goldwater campaign in Massachusetts and the man under whom he technically is working.

Molesworth declared that Waring is not an astute politician and lacks "political savvy."

He administered a stinging backhander to Republican State Committee Chairman Frederic C. Dumaine who not only is sympathetic to the Goldwater cause but who gave up his own place in the Massachusetts delegation to the GOP national convention in a vain but valiant effort to get greater representation on the slate for Goldwater.

Teacher Impressed With Miss. Program

A Newton native who is returning here to each elementary school in September made a six-day visit to Mississippi recently and came away with the impression that 500 college students who are helping a summer Freedom School project there are doing a remarkably outstanding job.

Said Richard Sallinger, "College kids are criticized for not being serious about things, but these youngsters are absolutely dedicated and committed to non-violence in their work for Negroes. In the long run the people of Mississippi will be glad the students went there this summer."

"They're busy seven days a week, doing extremely hard work with no pay, and in most instances it is costing them money. There is no lack of courage, only money. They are not just a bunch of Northern agitators trying to stir things up. They are really trying to help the Negro."

"They are helping the whites too," he added, "by doing it non-violently."

Sallinger traveled to Mississippi at his own expense with the Rev. Harold R. Fray Jr., minister of Eliot Congregational Church in Newton. Mr. Fray was the first of more than 100 ministers who will go to Jackson, Miss., at the request of the National Council of Churches. He assisted student volunteers at Jackson with voter registration, teaching Freedom Schools and operating community centers. He, too, praised the college TEACHER—See Page 2

Too Late Maybe To Learn Lesson

School Committeeman Edwin Hawkrige won approval Monday night of the following motion:

"That the School Committee approve in principle the idea of a joint endeavor with the American Cancer Society to develop and try out an educational program dealing with the bad effects of smoking, but that further action be tabled until such time as the superintendent is able to present the committee with specific details regarding the length of time required for this experimental program and precisely where this program would fit in the existing curriculum."

When the motion carried, Chairman Haskell C. Freedman remarked that "probably if you had learned the lesson you wouldn't be doing what you are doing now."

What led to the remark was the fact that Hawkrige put the motion while smoking a cigarette.

Youth Becomes Eagle Scout At Jamboree

Undoubtedly, one of the greatest thrills of his young life came to 15-year-old Joey M. Hollis when he received his Eagle Scout badge in a court of honor at the Sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., last week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman M. Hollis, 125 Windermere road, Auburndale, Joel received his award at a ceremony which seldom takes place at a jamboree.

Newton Highlands Priest Serves Peruvian Parish

A Newton Highlands priest has started his service to the church in a place, far removed from the environment of his earlier life.

Since 1959, when he was ordained, Father Joseph Arsenault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arsenault, 213 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, has served a parish in Lima, Peru.

The parish, run by the Maryknoll Fathers' Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, was started in 1967. Today, the parish — Our Lady of Guadalupe — consists of a parochial school, social service center to handle the problems of the poor and the beginning of a modern church.

Father Arsenault has handled many varied problems in the South American country. When an Indian boy was struck by a car and lost his leg, he helped him get an artificial limb. Currently, he is working with a group of Peruvians who were burned out of all their possessions and are now living in mat sheds.

The local priest, who was ordained at the Maryknoll Fathers' seminary in Maryknoll, N. Y., in June, 1959, will remain in Peru until 1965, when he will have completed six years of service there.

Anne Sousa To Be Soloist For Union Services

During the month of August, Miss Anne Sousa, mezzo-soprano, will be the soloist at the Newton Union summer services held in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, she has appeared as soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra, Brockton Orchestral Society, Lexington Choral Society and at Concord Arts Festival.

Other appearances have been at Jordan Hall, the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Worcester Art Museum and the Currier Gallery. She also appeared with the New England Opera Theater, Boston Opera Group and the Tanglewood Music Festival.

William P. Melville, 31 Rockledge road, Newton Highlands, has been named division manager of the New England Telephone Company's north area.

The north area includes district offices in the Malden-Chelsea, Arlington-Cambridge and Brookline-Newton.

Most recently general sales manager in charge of special accounts, Melville has been with the company 16 years. He has had various assignments in sales and commercial departments in this state and was sales superintendent for the state of Vermont. He was a sales engineer with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York from 1956-60.

Teen Dems Vow Party Support

The executive committee of Newton's Teenage Democrats has pledged itself unanimously "to work vigorously" for all party-endorsed Democratic candidates.

Under the leadership of Richard Lasker, the members will make an effort in the coming campaign to achieve a Democratic victory.

They were active in the campaign to elect Beryl Cohen to the Massachusetts Senate, and are now working in behalf of Governor Peabody's re-election.

King's Store Lauds Fireman

A letter to Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., from William F. Kenney of King's Department Stores, Inc., has been added to the already crowded file of expressions of gratitude for the good work of Newton's firemen.

The letter:

"I am writing to thank, through you, the men of the Newton Fire Department for their extremely efficient work in limiting what could have been a costly fire in our Newton store.

"Not only did they get to the basis of the fire quickly, but by the excellent manner in which they removed the smoke from the building they curtailed the smoke damage, and we were open for business in a relatively short time.

"I would like to commend Assistant Chiefs Henry L. Murphy and Harvey Preble for the capable way in which they directed their men.

"We are very happy to be located in a community that has such an excellent Fire Department."

students who have sacrificed their summer vacations to work for something they believe in.

Sallinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Sallinger, who formerly lived at 161 Highland avenue, Newtonville, but who are now Boston residents.

He has taught school in Lincoln for five years, but in September he will teach fifth grade in the Angier School, Waban, which was named for a relative of his wife, the former Ruth Angier of Newton. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Angier, 316 Franklin street, Newton.

He went to Mississippi as a volunteer to help with Freedom Schools because he "wanted to be useful in recruiting more volunteers and in raising money for necessities there," Sallinger explained.

He pointed out that some 100 more volunteers are needed to teach a three-week Freedom School session to begin Sunday, Aug. 2. They need not be professional teachers, he said, but should have a reasonably good liberal arts background with interest in, and knowledge of, our country and good citizenship. Also, he added, they must be at least 18 years old and available for a training session that begins in New York tomorrow (July 31).

The Sallingers and their son Peter, 4, are members of Eliot Church, where Mrs. Sallinger was formerly director of religious education.

Mayor -

construction costs of only a million dollars a year, and he declared that there is no law limiting expenditures to that figure.

"We appreciate the city's capital needs," Freedman said. "The question boils down to one of priority — school buildings against other City needs. I propose that the schools come first. The committee, of course, is partial and prejudiced."

The chairman went on to suggest that the bills would not be too big for the City to swallow should a proposed list of ten projects be cut to six, and he expressed the opinion that those six could be completed by the addition of approximately $600,000 to the amount to be expended in each of the next three years.

"The Mayor wants our proposal by September 10," Freedman said. "The committee should consider the matter between now and our first regular meeting in September. Meantime, I'll try to work up our suggestions and get them into the hands of the superintendent in response to the Mayor's request."

Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, pointed out that one of the 10 projects to be held in abeyance was the Newton High School program of construction, a project of great magnitude on which no actual work would be done for at least three years.

Monday night's meeting was a special one, called for discussion of several matters, chief of which was the capital improvement program.

The Mayor on July 6 had requested a city-wide review of the program in order that pertinent information might be reported to the city planner.

In response to the Mayor's request: John E. Gilliland, director of business services for the school system, had prepared a report in tentative form. In it he listed known projects with a few comments on each and a tabulation indicating probable construction dates.

Eight of the 10 projects in Gilliland's tabulation had been the subject of requests made by the School Committee to the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor. The two exceptions were a project involving long-range improvements to Newton Junior College, and enlargement of the Beethoven School play area.

Following are the 10 projects, with Gilliland's comments:

1 — Bigelow Junior High School project is in the preliminary report stage. A new school is under consideration and total costs are expected to exceed two million. Construction should start in 1965 and be completed in 1966.

2 — Burr School is required due to lack of classroom space and inadequacy of the present building. A new school is under consideration, and total costs will approximate $1,000,000. Construction should start in 1967 for occupancy in 1968.

3 — Carr addition is required to provide educational facilities not presently available. City planner's report is pending. Total costs may approximate $225,000. Construction could be planned for 1968.

4 — Day Junior High School project is under architectural study and is to furnish classroom space and other educational facilities. Total costs are estimated to exceed $1,000,000. Construction could start in 1968 and be completed in 1969.

5 — Hyde addition is to provide a playground and related facilities and is currently under architectural study. Total costs have been estimated at $165,000. Construction could proceed in 1965.

6 — Junior College facilities should be evaluated for a long-range policy decision.

7 — Lincoln-Eliot addition has been delayed by legal action. Construction could proceed in 1965. Cost estimate was based on former bid figures.

8 — Newton High School — the magnitude of the project, the indefinite aspect of site requirements, recommend that all estimates relating to this project be held in abeyance until completion of the present architectural study.

9 — Beethoven Playground — this item has been carried in former programs. City land is adjacent to site, but usage will depend on extensive site preparation.

10 — Oil burner conversions — as of October 1964, coal is

SUMNER GOLDMAN
Sumner Goldman Gets New Post At Star Market

Star Market Co. announces the appointment of Sumner Goldman of West Newton, formerly grocery division head, to the position of assistant vice president in merchandising at Star.

Goldman's career with Star Market started 14 years ago when he worked as a grocery clerk in the Newtonville store. Through the years he has risen to his present responsibility from successive positions as department head, store manager, district manager, discount store specialist and grocery division head. He also served as store manager in the opening of Star's Brookline, Stoneham, Porter Square, Norwood and Auburndale stores.

Prior to his affiliation with Star, Goldman attended Northeastern University for a year. His education was interrupted by service in the U.S. Coast Guard for a period of two years. Immediately following his tour of military duty, he returned to Northeastern to complete his education and receive his AB degree.

Mr. Goldman lives on Barbara road with his wife Harriet and two children, Susan and Marcia. Both children attend Newton schools.

Boston Chamber Names Chouinard

William F. Chouinard of 169 Tremont street, Newton, will be responsible, as the newly appointed special assistant to James G. Kelso, executive vice president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, for the Chamber's program of community development and community relations.

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts and formerly associated with the Bureau of Public Affairs at Boston College, Mr. Chouinard was most recently director of information services for the American Municipal Association in Washington, D.C.

still being used in the following schools:

Group I: Angier, Weeks, Davis, Stearns, Junior College; Group II: Lincoln-Eliot, Bigelow, Day Carr. Group II would automatically be converted as new construction occurs.

Prior to the capital improvement discussion, Supt. Brown made the following recommendations on the Carr School addition:

"That the addition contain a large, flexible assembly-play area, and administration and health offices. This would free the existing administration area plus some small rooms in the existing building for small class use, conference areas, or even the school library."

"In addition, with the new assembly-play area, the existing assembly space could be converted to two classrooms if the enrollment in the future justifies such a move."

Following the recommendations by Dr. Brown, the committee voted to rescind its former plans for the Carr addition, and to accept the superintendent's recommendations.

Toward the meeting's end, Dr. James D. Laurits, assistant superintendent, reported that personnel affairs were in good shape. "There are three or four vacancies remaining," he said, "but they will be filled before September."

Weekend Crime Story Is Mostly About Burglaries

The Saturday to Monday crime record in Newton was for the most part a story of successful or otherwise burglaries.

There was one departure from that pattern, however. "was a case of vandalism that resulted, according to a New Haven Railroad police officer, in derailment of an engine and a couple of freight cars in Newton Upper Falls. The officer told Newton police that two switches in the Eliot street freight yards had been thrown open by someone who broke their locks.

A burglary that didn't quite come off was prevented by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Y. Muchnick when they returned to their apartment at 10 Hammond Pond Parkway and surprised a dapper New Yorker coming out of a bedroom. When the woman of the house questioned him, the man showed her an injured elbow. Her husband chased the man who, with the help of two maintenance men, was held in the building's boiler room until police arrived.

The man gave his age as 55 and his name and address as William J. Lee of 306 East 78th street, New York. His case was continued to Aug. 5 in Newton District Court, and Judge W. Lloyd Allen held him in $30,000 bail. Police said some $2000 worth of jewelry belonging to the Muchnicks and burglar's tools were found on him.

Money including five Kennedy half dollars was taken in a break at the apartment of John Prescott, 17 Adams avenue, West Newton sometime Saturday afternoon.

At Sidney Hill Country Club, Chestnut Hill, 27 lounge chairs were stolen by vandals who broke windows, slashed other lounges and threw acid on lawn umbrellas.

Monday, the police got reports of breaks in three homes.

Ex-Newtonite Marries In Ohio

On June 21, the day after their graduation from Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio, Mia Lydia Bueher of Chicago and Frank W. Maurer Jr., of Pacific Palisades, Cal., were married on the college campus.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Maurer Sr., formerly of Newton Highlands. They lived at 301 Lake avenue for 20 years prior to moving to 16050 Anoke drive, Pacific Palisades.

The young couple is living at 209 Walnut street, Yellow Springs, Ohio, for the summer. In the fall they will move to Ithaca, N.Y., where both will be working toward their doctorate in biology at Cornell University.

Political Highlights

In the words of Molesworth, Dumaine is a "political bubblehead," the most ineffective State Chairman in GOP history and a man who claims to be a conservative but whose actions have done more to hurt the conservative cause than anything in a long time.

What Dumaine did to incur Molesworth's displeasure isn't clear, but if Dumaine is not a conservative, we don't understand what a conservative is.

As might be expected, Molesworth was unable to say anything kind about Senator Leverett Saltonstall and was devastating in his references to Henry Cabot Lodge.

He blasted what he termed Saltonstall's non-aggression pact with the Kennedys, declaring that it has been disastrous for the Republican party in Massachusetts and has always that it may have saved Saltonstall from defeat at hands of Foster Furcolo in 1954.

(It would be difficult to find many political pundits who would agree that Saltonstall would have aided the Republican party by waging futile fights against the late John F. Kennedy.)

Henry Cabot Lodge, according to Molesworth, is primarily out for Henry Cabot Lodge, hasn't lifted a finger in years for the Republican party in Massachusetts and has always been too busy with other things when importuned to come back and help out with GOP campaigns in his home State.

If Molesworth's thrusts and barbs are a sample of how he is endeavoring to make friends and influence people to vote for Barry Goldwater, it certainly is an intriguing technique.

Molesworth, incidentally, is running against Speaker John W. McCormack.

He concedes realistically that he has no chance of defeating McCormack but explains that in campaigning against the Speaker he hopes to help the Goldwater cause and to keep his own name before the public.

To report that Molesworth is pessimistic about Republican prospects in Massachusetts is one of the under-statements of this generation.

He says Goldwater could carry four New England States but that Massachusetts isn't one of them and that he (Molesworth) would be the most amazed man in the Commonwealth if Barry were to capture the Bay State. (The four New England States Molesworth thinks Goldwater might carry are presumably Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Connecticut.)

Of his own future and GOP chances generally, Molesworth asserts that after "the debate in November when the Republican candidates get slaughtered, they'll be looking for new candidates."

That appraisal by one of Goldwater's militant young lieutenants should be cheering for the GOP high command in the State.

One thing about Molesworth is that he says what he really thinks.

Letters To The Editor

Me Too Republicans

Editor Newton Graphic

In my 30 years as an active Republican worker I have never seen such a bunch of "cry babies" as the "Me Too" Republicans have been since the fair and open election of a new leader for the Republican Party in San Francisco.

The Republican Party and their democratically elected leaders seem to be an easy thing for them to throw overboard. It indicates that the "Me Too" part of their Republicanism is more important to them than the Republican party.

They certainly must know that everything they are doing benefits the opposition party.

If Goldwater is defeated, (and many are stating that they hope this takes place) they will be able to claim their share of the credit.

They don't seem to realize that if Goldwater is defeated the Republican party is defeated and along with it all that it stands for — the fundamental American commitment to limited government and industrial freedom and initiative, and prosperity based on productivity untrammelled by bureaucratic government.

The forces working for greater powers for the federal government over those of the individual states (and the individual person) will get exceptional ease, two reasons are offered for the fact that the State Treasurer and Secretary of State invariably are Democrats.

One is that Massachusetts now is basically a Democratic State. A second is that those Democrats who cross party lines to vote for a Republican candidate for Governor or U. S. Senator shift back for the lesser State offices.

Interest in the four-way contest for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer is heightened by the assumption that the winner of the September primary will be elected in November.

Opponents in the fight are State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane of Brighton, former Treasurer John F. Kennedy of Canton, Boston School Committeewoman Louise Day Hicks and Governor's Councilor John J. Buckley who also has been Mayor of Lawrence for the past 13 years.

Crane is the favorite in the race. He was overwhelmingly endorsed by the Democratic State Convention. He is an extremely energetic campaigner. He has put together an active state-wide organization, and he has close political ties with Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

Former Treasurer Kennedy, one of the most unorthodox campaigners in the modern history of the Commonwealth, is attempting a political comeback after being out of office for nearly four years.

After serving six years as Treasurer, Kennedy was defeated in the 1960 Democratic primary when he struck out for the Governorship. He also was bested two years ago by former Treasurer John T. Driscoll.

Kennedy shuns the customary methods of campaigning and seeks his votes by going from door to door.

How Mrs. Hicks will do in this kind of battle is a question on which political pundits are pondering and one which will not be answered until the primary returns are counted on the night of Sept. 10th.

She was the top vote-getter in last fall's Boston municipal election after attracting widespread attention by her strong stand that de facto segregation does not exist in the Hub's public schools.

Buckley, a highly respected public official, is likely to roll up a big vote in Essex County but is not as well known in other section of the State.

Crane was elected State Treasurer by the Legislature after former Treasurer John T. Driscoll was appointed chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late William F. Callahan.

Governor Peabody and Treasurer Crane are the only candidates endorsed by the Democratic State Convention who have primary contests.

Both of them presently loom as likely to win on Sept. 10. But if they do, it will shatter a 10-year tradition.

At least one candidate endorsed by a Democratic convention has been toppled in the subsequent primary in each of the five primaries which have been held since the convention system was revived in 1954.

The "Conte Cry Babies" are helping the forces opposed to these fundamental American principles.

They better wake up before it is too late and they lose the personal rights they prize so highly, and one of the major forces protecting those rights is the two-party system.

We Taft Republicans in Massachusetts did not bolt the party or even think of doing so in 1952. We pitched in and got to work to elect Eisenhower, and that is the spirit all true Republicans will show now.

Carol J. Hoffman, Member of Newton Republican City Committee for 30 years.

Defends Gibbs

Editor Newton Graphic:

I wish to protest against the wanton attack on Mayor Gibbs by certain self-styled non-partisan Newton groups because of his voting record at the Republican National Convention on Platform amendments. It should be clearly evident by now, that those amendments represented a tactical maneuver to gain support for the candidacy of Governor Scranton.

As such the effort failed because it was both too little and too late. Mr. Gibbs was only one of the members of the Massachusetts delegation.

As such, he should not be singled out as a surrogate in a camouflaged anti-Goldwater campaign.

In recent years the Republican Party in Newton has repeatedly allowed itself to be mouse-trapped into situations where it has lost elections through involvement with "non-partisans" who always vote the straight Democrat ticket on Election Day. Is this situation going to be a repeat of the election campaign of November, 1963, in Newton.

JCC Criticizes Stand Of Gibbs At GOP Parley

The board of directors of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce last week passed a motion expressing "keen disappointment" at Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' stand against the liberal civil rights plank of the Republican Party platform.

A Jaycee spokesman said the resolution expressed disagreement with the Mayor "not as an individual, but as the leading citizen and spokesman of Newton. His extreme conservative view is the antithesis of the historically liberal philosophy of the citizens of the Garden City."

The resolution, as passed, reads, "The board of directors of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce goes on record as being keenly disappointed with the stand and vote and explanation of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, as a representative of the people of Newton, on the civil rights plank of the platform of the Republican National Committee."

The resolution, as passed, reads, "The board of directors of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce goes on record as being keenly disappointed with the stand and vote and explanation of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, as a representative of the people of Newton, on the civil rights plank of the platform of the Republican National Committee."

"Hats Off" To Abraham I. Kaye

An engraved sterling bowl, the annual "hats off" award, was presented to Abraham I. Kaye of 22 Exmoor Rd., Newton Centre, treasurer and past president of the New England Wholesale Food Distributors Association at the organization's 89th anniversary convention in Whitefield, N.H.

The award is made each year to the individual who has distinguished himself for outstanding service to the industry.

Bank Branch Head Takes Williams Course

George L. Benis, Newton Highlands branch manager for the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company, is attending, with 100 New England bank officers and supervisors, the first-year course at the School of Banking at Williams College in Williamstown.

The school fulfills the educational needs of banking personnel at a level between that of the conference type and Graduate School of Banking.

Gaby Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm J. Campbell (Nancy MacWilliams) of 225 Harvard Circle, Newtonville, announce the recent birth of a daughter, Leslie Paige, at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital recently. Sharing grandparent honors are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond MacWilliams of Roslindale and Mrs. Winifred Campbell of Jamaica Plain.

MONTE G. BASBAS

Monte Basbas Is Appointed Director

City Clerk Monte G. Basbas has been named to the board of directors of the Newton South Co-operative Bank. Announcement of his appointment was made this week by George T. McLaughlin, president of the bank.

A graduate of Dartmouth College and Boston University Law School, Basbas has served as Newton's City Clerk for the past 11 years. He also is clerk of the Board of Aldermen and Workmen's Compensation Agent. He has been an attorney since 1949.

He has been admitted to practice before the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Federal Bars.

Basbas served as a combat pilot in the South Pacific during World War II and is a captain in the Air Force Reserve Judge Advocate's Department.

A past president of the Massachusetts City Clerks' Association, Basbas is a member of the International City Clerks' Association.

He is a member and former commander of the Newton post of the American Legion, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Newton Lodge of Elks, the Newton Republican Club and the Fifth Masonic District Masters' Association.

Active in civic affairs, he has participated in numerous charitable fund-raising drives and has worked in a variety of community endeavors.

Basbas resides at 178 Kirk-stall road, Newtonville, with his wife and their three children. He is a director of the Garden City Trust Co.

Kramer To Be MBTA Advisor

The Governor's Council, by an 8 to 1 vote last week, confirmed Governor Peabody's appointment of Philip Kramer to the Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority as a member of the five-man advisory board of the new Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority.

Kramer, vice president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, will serve as labor's representative for the $225 million mass transportation program.

Margaret Heckler Voted For Kramer

Governor's Councilor Margaret Heckler spoke in behalf of Philip Kramer of Newton before Kramer's appointment as the union member of the Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority was confirmed by the Executive Council.

Mrs. Heckler expressed the conviction that Kramer will be an important asset to the Authority in labor negotiations because he has the respect of both management and labor.

She said he will be in a position to maintain uninterrupted service as a result of his understanding of the problems of both management and the working man.

Herself a Republican, Mrs. Heckler said she voted for Kramer, a Democrat, because she believes in judging prospective appointees strictly on their qualifications and merit.

4 Promoted At Harvard Medical

Promotion of four Newton residents on the teaching staff at Harvard Medical School to the faculty of medicine at Harvard was announced this week.

They are: Howard Baden of Newton Centre, Associate in Dermatology; Luke Gillespie of West Newton, Associate in Obstetrics and Gynecology; Howard T. Newman of Newtonville, Associate in Psychiatry, and Jerome O. Klein of Chestnut Hill, Associate in Pediatrics.

Most every man knows his own business, but it is often difficult to make his neighbors believe it.

- Recent Deaths -

Lawrence M. Barry

A Solemn High Mass of Requiem for Lawrence M. Barry, 78, of 949 Centre street, Newton Centre, retired auto advertising salesman for the Boston Globe, and a lifelong Newton resident, was to be sung today (Thursday, July 30) in Sacred Heart Church.

Mr. Barry died July 27 in Newton-Wellesley Hospital. He began selling automotive advertising for his newspaper back at the turn of the century, at a time when the horseless carriage was considered by some to be no more than a passing fad.

As well known as a golfer as for his connection with the automobile industry, he regularly took top prizes in the annual Newspapermen's Golf Association tournament. He belonged to Albemarle and Commonwealth Golf Clubs. His grave, in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, will overlook the golf course at Albemarle. He was a member of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, and a charter member of the Globe's Quarter Century Club.

Survivors are two sisters, Elizabeth A. and Mary L. Barry, both of Newton, and a brother, the Rt. Rev. Robert P. Barry, pastor of St. Clement's Church, Medford.

Mary Cunningham

A requiem Mass for Miss Mary Cunningham, 87, of 103 Staniford street, Auburndale, was to be celebrated Thursday (July 30) in Corpus Christi Church.

A life-long Auburndale resident and a Boston school teacher for 50 years until her retirement in 1947, Miss Cunningham died July 27 in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a short illness.

She leaves a sister, Miss Helen J. Cunningham of Auburndale, with whom she made her home. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

E. F. Rockwood

Private services were held for E. Farnum Rockwood, 81, of 18 Moreland avenue, Newton Centre, the first and only deacon-emeritus of the First Church in Newton.

Mr. Rockwood, a structural engineer, died at his home on July 22. He was born in Brookline, attended Newton High School and was graduated from M.I.T. in 1904.

At the time of his death he was a structural engineer with Ganteaume McMullin of Boston. He had been New England representative for the MacArthur Pile Company, Pioneer Engineering Company and the Republic Fireproofing Company.

He was a member of the Brae Burn Country Club, a former member of the First Corps of Cadets, and held the rank of major in the U.S. Army Reserves. During the Boston Police strike he served with the First Motor Corps, and in World War II he was with the First Motor Squadron of the State Guard.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth (Polhemus) Rockwood two daughters, Mrs. Mary Jenette McNall of Newton Centre and Mrs. Douglas Eckhardt of Needham; a son, Abraham T. Rockwood of Needham, and seven grandchildren.

Lucia Vecchione

A solemn high Mass of requiem for Mrs. Lucia Vecchione, 66, of 19 Bridge street, Newton, native of San Donato, Italy and a 50-year resident of Newton, was offered July 29 in Our Lady's Church.

Mrs. Vecchione died July 26 in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

Survivors are her husband, Giovanni Vecchione; four sons, John Jr. and Albert, both of Natick, and Daniel and Gerald Vecchione both of Newton; seven daughters, Mrs. Lena Yobaccio, Mrs. Mary Tambascio and Mrs. Christine Colli, all of Waltham, Mrs. Laura Russo, Mrs. Bessie Marcucchi and Mrs. Louise Bova, all of Newton, and Mrs. Margaret Tambash of Lexington; 38 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Donato Petucci of Leominster.

Burial was in the family lot, Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

George P. McStay

A requiem Mass for George P. McStay, 57, of 15 Emerson street, Newton, Newton school system custodian, was offered July 27 in the Church of Our Lady.

Mr. McStay, a native of County Kildare, Ireland, had been a Newton resident for most of his life, and saw service in World War II with the 206th Ordinance Battalion.

He leaves a brother, Patrick McStay of Newton and several nieces and nephews. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

William E. Foster

Services for William Everett Foster, 76, of 981 Chestnut St., Newton Upper Falls, were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Huston of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Monday, July 27.

A native of Auburndale and resident of Newton Upper Falls for some 36 years, Mr. Foster died July 23 after a brief illness.

A carpenter and musician, he played in the Newton Band for several years. He was a member of the First Army Headquarters Band during World War I.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Bertha A. (Page) Foster; three daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Kittredge and Mrs. Barbara Flanagan of Holliston, and Mrs. Dorothy Horigan of Framingham; 10 grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Strom of Waltham and Mrs. Margaret Chambers of Newton Upper Falls. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Isabel Whipple

Services for Mrs. Isabel (Smythe) Whipple of 22 Bonmar circle, Auburndale, were conducted in Waltham July 28 by the Rev. Paul E. Barnes, minister of the First Congregational Church of Waltham.

Mrs. Whipple died July 25 in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

She had moved to Auburndale from Waltham a year ago, and was a member of the First Congregational Church of Waltham, the Dartmouth Women's Club and the Waltham Women's Club.

Besides her husband, Dana B. Whipple, she leaves a sister, Miss Edith K. Smythe. Burial was in Mt. Feake Cemetery.

Classified ads will sell or rent several million homes, including the 1.5 million new dwelling units expected to be constructed this year, according to Newsprint Facts.

Patricia Galvin To Become Bride Of Mr. De Simone

Mrs. Michael J. Galvin of Newton Centre announces the engagement of her daughter, Patricia S. to Salvatore E. De Simone of Lexington, son of Mrs. Pasquale De Simone and the late Pasquale De Simone. Miss Galvin is also the daughter of the late Major General Michael J. Galvin.

Miss Galvin, a debutante of the 1955-56 season, was presented at the Debutante Cotillion in Washington, D.C., in 1955. She is a graduate of

Radio Organ Recital

Rosamond Droaker Brenner, formerly of Newton, has been scheduled performed an organ recital on Radio Station WCRB on July 24.

Mount Ida Junior College of Newton.

Mr. De Simone graduated from Brandeis University in 1957. He did graduate work in philosophy at the University of North Carolina between 1958 and 1961. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict. An August 23rd wedding is planned.

Miss Erna Crown Is Bride of Mr. Joel E. Reingold

The marriage of Miss Erna Crown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crown of New York City, to Joel E. Reingold took place recently at the Carlyle Hotel in New York City. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arnold Starr of West Newton and the late Mr. Harold I. Reingold.

(Ira L. Hill)
MRS. JOEL E. REINGOLD

Rabbi Lewis Bogache of the Central Synagogue performed the pretty summer service, which was followed by a reception.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a gown of ivory peau de soie overlaid with embroidered Alencon lace. A double crown held in place her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Michael Magloff of Berkeley, Calif., sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Richard Reingold of West Newton served as best man for his brother.

Mrs. Reingold was graduated from Bennington College, class of 1964, where she majored in anthropology. She has joined the staff of the Museum of Natural History in New York City.

The bridegroom received his B.A. degree from Williams College, class of 1964, where he was captain of the hockey team as well as both a member of the Gargoyles Society and Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is now on the staff of Time magazine.

The couple plan to make their home in New York City.

Miss Fay, Mr. Roser Wed; Honeymooning In Bermuda

The wedding of Miss Susan Isabel Fay and Mr. Steven Malcolm Roser was solemnized at a recent afternoon ceremony in Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Rev. Howard R. Dunbar was the officiating clergyman.

(Bachrach)
MRS. STEVEN ROSER

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Fay of Newtonville, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Roger O'Gorman of West Newton and the late Dr. John P. Roser.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie with a fitted waistline, full-length skirt, and chapel train. Lace trim adorned the scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves and formed two panels down the front of the skirt.

A cabbage rose headpiece of matching lace held in place her three-tiered veil of illusion, and she carried white stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Virginia Roessler of Palenville, N. Y., was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Janet F. Roser of Newton, Nancy Fay Miller of Dedham, Diane Fay Miller of Westwood, Patricia Thurston of Watertown, and Marilyn Loucks of Windsor, Conn. Five-year-old Shawn Miller of Dedham was flower girl for her aunt.

Mr. Richard Hoffman of East Walpole served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Richard W. Miller of Dedham, Mr. Michael Podiesse of Watertown, Mr. John Soderstrom and Mr. Tom Tsitumi of Newton, and Mr. Bradford Thurston III of Watertown.

A reception followed at the Oakley Country Club, Belmont, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Bermuda. They will reside at 121 Park drive, Boston.

The bride graduated from Green Mountain College and will work as a medical secretary in Boston. Mr. Roser, a graduate of Middlebury College, will enter Harvard School of Dental Medicine in September.

Second Son, Third Child

Of interest here is the announcement of the recent birth of their second son, third child, Albert Abraham, to Mr. and Mrs. David Stone (Marjory Shepard) of Greenfield. Grandparents are Mrs. Albert Shepard of Walham and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kepler of Newton Centre. Dr. and Mrs. Harold Stone of Miami Beach, Fla., are the great-grandparents.

All 4 Grandparents Newton Residents

Their first child, a son, Stuart, was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Alford of 36 Boulevard terrace, Brighton.

The mother is the former Myrna Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Owen of 24 Morrill street, West Newton. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Alford of 450 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

The summer solstice is past, and there's naught to look forward to but the cooling days of autumn. Not so, spake Stan Marquedant, who, with tremulous tones, takes trenchant sword to cut the very heart out of summer.

Much hot weather still abides, so the news of cool savings at the height of the summer season should stir the hearts of all men. And they should bestir their stumps and ankle over to Jacques for the ultimate in summer clearances.

20...40...50% REDUCTIONS
Brand new summer suits in cool fabrics and tasteful patterns, regularly $45 to $85 — now reduced to $36 to $68.

Lightweight summer sport coats, in plaids, checks, stripes and in solid blazers, regularly $39.50 to $65 — now reduced to $28 to $52.

Also reduced: imported and domestic slacks in Dacron-wools and lightweight all-wools; and Swimwear by Jantzen, the diving-cast, swimming-est water babies a man ever stepped into.

Stetson straw hats... now 40% off. Imported silk neckwear, regular $2.50, reduced to $1.65.

Cashmere Corner: cashmere sport coats, regularly $65, slashed to $39.50; and cashmere outercoats, in a look-ahead to the fall season, reduced from $110 to $89.50.

Short-sleeve dress shirts in Dacron-cotton, white-on-white, and striped button-downs, 20% off. Short-sleeve sport shirts in checks, solids, stripes, and imported and domestic knit shirts, are also reduced 20%.

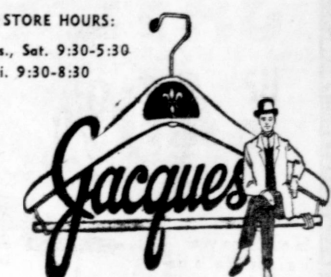

If all this weren't enough, Jacques' own fine imported worsted wool car coats are priced 50% below regular prices. A hot bargain in the hot weather... but you'll be ready to dive into snow banks or mush around like a St. Bernard on a perilous mission!

In honor of their 25th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodman of 66 Forest Ave., Auburndale, were given a lawn party by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson, also of Auburndale.

Another party honoring the local couple was given by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tomasetti, at their Framingham home.

The couple also has one son and one granddaughter, Laura Tomasetti.

With Tufts Theater

Miss Joan Abrahams, 83 Roundwood road, Newton Upper Falls, played the role of Salome in the play "Thomas With Two Souls" at the Tufts Arena Theater, Medford, last week.

Bermuda Trip Followed Nahabedian-Hofstedt Bridal

After a trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Nahabedian (Shelah Hofstedt) are making their home in Newton Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hofstedt of 307 Lexington street, Auburndale, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nahabedian of 1624 Centre street, Newton Highlands, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Roland Junkins performed the 4 o'clock afternoon service at the Century Methodist Church. The Cambridge House Motel in Cambridge was the scene of the reception.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a traditional white satin gown. A double-tiered illusion veil was caught to her pearl crown. She carried white flowers.

Miss Dorothy Winrow of Newton Centre was maid of honor. The bridesmaid was Miss Shirley Nahabedian of Newton Highlands.

Young Karen Valiquette was flower girl, while Master David Nahabedian, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The best man was another brother of the bridegroom, Charles Nahabedian of Newton Highlands. Ushers were Arthur Nahabedian of Newton Highlands, Myron Allukian of Newton and Ronald McDonald of Newton Corner.

A graduate of Chapel Hill School, Waltham, and the Boston School of Dental Nursing, the bride is now a dental nurse.

Mr. Nahabedian was graduated from Newton High School and the Carnegie School. He served with the Army during the Korean conflict.

Carol Howes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Howes, 243 Crafts street, Newtonville, and Jean Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor Jr., 34 Brookside avenue, Newtonville, were on the dean's list the second semester of their senior year at Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Me.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Miss Ranucci, Mr. Butler

(Mike O'Neil)

MRS. ROY BUTLER

Rev. William P. McDonough performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with white hyacinths, gladioli and tall ferns. Miss Agnes Burke accompanied Mr. Charles Shaughnessy's solo rendition of "Pans Angelicus" and "The Bride's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Ranucci of Waltham. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butler of 470 California street, Newtonville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of old fashioned organza with diamond inserts of lace embossed with seed pearls and sequins. The scalloped neckline and long sleeves were also of lace, embossed with sequins.

Her bouffant veil was caught to a "Cleopatra" style headpiece, studded with seed pearls and sequins and topped with a miniature crown. Dew drop pearls hung from the three corners of her headpiece and crown. Her bouquet was designed of white roses with an orchid centerpiece and cascading streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Mary Ranucci of Waltham was maid of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Lawless and Miss Janet Bower, both of Waltham. Little Charlene Ranucci was flower girl for her sister.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. Ernest Butler of Newtonville. Ushers included Mr. Joseph Butler of Needham Heights, another brother of the bridegroom; and Mr. Anthony Ranucci, brother of the bride. Young William Ranucci, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

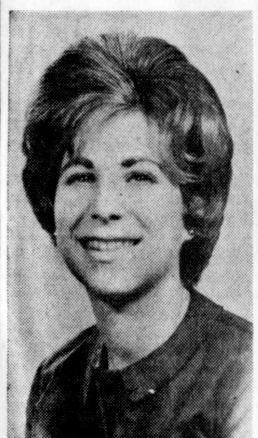

A reception was held at the French-American Victory Club on Elm street, Waltham, where over 200 guests dined and danced to the music of Chuck DeGrappo's nine-piece orchestra.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of St. Charles High School and is employed at the American Motors Corporation in Needham as an IBM billing machine operator. The bridegroom graduated from Newton Technical High School in 1961 and is a sheet metal worker at Glover Sheet Metal Company in Newton.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the couple will reside in Waltham.

Mr. Pinstein, a graduate of Newton High School, attended New Rochelle Academy and is now a senior at Bucknell University, where he is a member of Phi Lambda Theta.

A June wedding is planned.

JUDITH BERLY

Judith Berly Bride-Elect Of Leon Pinstein

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin C. Berly of Waltham make known the engagement of their daughter, Miss Judith Ethel Berly, to Leon Barry Pinstein. He is the son of Mr. Solomon Pinstein of West Newton and the late Mrs. Sylvia Pinstein.

A graduate of Waltham High School, Miss Berly is attending Framingham State College.

Candlelight Service Unites Miss Ostrov-Mr. Hoffman

Temple Emanuel was the scene here recently for the marriage of Miss Judith Marion Ostrov to Arnold Gerald Hoffman.

MRS. ARNOLD G. HOFFMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Ostrov of 97 Parker avenue, Newton Highlands, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoffman of 143 Eastbourne road, Newton Centre, are the couple's parents.

In a pretty yellow and white floral setting, the candlelight

7 o'clock evening service was performed by Rabbi M. David Weiss and Rabbi Seymour Segal.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a Bianchi gown. The skirt caught up in back with a triple bow sash, was made of layers of silk organza over taffeta, while the molded bodice, styled with a portrait neckline, had a fitted bodice marked with pearls and crystal beads.

A double crown was fastened with a shoulder-length illusion veil. She carried a crescent cascade of small white orchids.

Mrs. Ronald A. Morris of Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., was matron of honor. Wendy Ostrov of Randolph was flower girl.

Harry G. Ostrov of Newton Highlands served as best man. The ushers were Haven Sharaf of Medford, Ronald A. Morris of Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., James Renberg of New York City, Bruce Freedman of Newton Centre, Bernard Pearl of Sharon, Sidney Schnyder of East Hartford, Ct., Lawrence Hoffman of Brookline and Gerald Malis of Framingham.

Canada is the honeymoon destination of the couple, who plan to live in New York.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University School of Education.

Mr. Hoffman was graduated from the Boston University College of Liberal Arts and the Hebrew Teacher's College. He is now a student at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York.

RECENT BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Hershon of Newton Centre announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Miss Stephanie Robin Hershon, to Mr. Stephen Lee Gorad. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gorad of Rockaway, N.J. The bride is a student at Emerson College. Mr. Gorad was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He expects to enter the doctoral program at Boston University in the fall.

MRS. DAVID R. KEMLER

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Widett of 55 Ellison road Newton Centre. Mr. Charles Kemler of Brookline and the late Mrs. Kemler are the bridegroom's parents.

Rabbi Harvey J. Fields performed the 6 o'clock nuptial ceremony, which was followed by a reception.

Given away by her father, the bride wore an emerald gown of ivory peau de soie. It was fashioned with a circlet neckline and an A-line skirt, which had a front panel insert of silk organza applied with jeweled Alencon lace and terminated in a deep pleated court train.

A matching lace capote held in place her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias.

Miss Joan Salomey of Milford, Ct., was honor maid. Ralph Kemler of Brighton served as best man for his brother, whose ushers were Nathan Chaffin, Gerald Goldsmith and Stephen Morse, all of Brookline, as well as Michael Kemler of Norwood, John Morris of New Jersey and Neal Widett of Newton Centre.

Orville Emmons Looks Back On 35 Yrs. With "Y"

Orville H. Emmons of 24 Hemlock Rd., Newton Upper Falls, regional executive of the New England Area YMCA's, is receiving congratulations on his completing 35 years of YMCA service.

Emmons is the author of many articles concerning YMCA work. He is editor of the manual, "YMCA Adult Program in Small Communities," and a contributor to the "Handbook of YMCA Camp Administration," and "Managing the YMCA Camp."

Looking back and looking ahead in YMCA work, Emmons said, "It is interesting to speculate why the Young Men's Christian Association has been on the world scene for 120 years since its founding in London in 1844. I believe there are two main reasons."

"First, it has earnestly sought to help succeeding generations of young people to satisfy such basic hungers as the desire for friendship, achievement, recognition, and life-meaning."

"Second, in its program approach it has sought to respond creatively to changing social needs in the many countries and communities in which it has worked. More than four million persons belonged to the YMCA in the United States during the past year. New communities are constantly asking for YMCA services."

"The future is bright, bounded only by the imagination and know-how of YMCA's lay and professional leadership," Emmons said.

Hospital Kept Busy Treating Mishap Victims

The past few days were not without accidents of various types here in Newton.

Saturday, a gasoline explosion injured three toll road workers. A motorcycle mishap was one of four accidents that injured six over the weekend. A woman was hurt when her car was involved in a collision with a police cruiser that was headed for another accident last Friday.

Three men were working on a storm drain near 104 Austin street, Newtonville. Gasoline was being poured into a pump. One of the men lighted a cigar, and the gas exploded. The three were treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital and released.

A. Terrence Murphy, 330 Reservoir avenue, Chestnut Hill, needed hospital treatment for a leg injury after his motorcycle jumped a curb and crashed the window of the Beacon Restaurant, 761 Beacon street, Newton Centre, Saturday. Police said he was trying to start the stalled cycle and his foot said, "It has been an exciting and rewarding thirty-five years. I'd do it all over again."

A Brookline man and a Connecticut woman required treatment after a three-car crash on the Worcester Turnpike at Dudley road, Newton Centre, Saturday. In a collision near 566 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, Barry N. Cohen, 47 Lakeview avenue, Newtonville, and a Minnesota man suffered head injuries. A Boston woman required 40 stitches when her chin was cut as her car hit a tree near 160 Chestnut street, West Newton.

The woman hurt in the police car crash was Mrs. Blayvar Ayvazian, 20 Lodge road, West Newton. Her head was injured. Sgt. Richard J. Nugent, 89 Madison avenue, Newtonville, was the cruiser driver. The accident happened at Commonwealth avenue and Valentine street, West Newton. Nugent was on his way to Walnut and Homer streets, where there had been a collision between the cars of Marilyn Hark, 80 Woodchester drive, Newton Centre, and that of an Everett man.

50 Boys and Girls Play In City-Wide Tennis Tourney

Three days of hard play on the Newton High School courts concluded the Newton Recreation Department's Youth City-Wide Tennis Tournament. Trophies were awarded in four divisions, senior boys and junior boys, senior girls and junior girls.

Lefty Fred Virgilio of Upper Falls won the Boy's Junior Division defeating Tom Graves, 6-2, 6-4.

The Boy's Senior Division was won by Dave Conroy of Auburndale who defeated Bob Brazier, 6-3, 6-2.

Marcy Richmond of Newton Centre claimed the Girl's Junior Division by defeating Barbara Model, 6-0.

Sheila Terry of Upper Falls won the Senior Girls Division by sweeping to victory over Nancy Caruso.

Fifty boys and girls competed in the tournament with the awarding of trophies being made by Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney.

The tournament was under the direction of Recreation Supervisor William J. Barry and Bob Harris of the Youth Tennis Foundation of New England.

Results were as follows: Senior boys, 13 to 15 years old, first round: Jean Boudreau defeated Jean Barry 6-0; Carol Richmond defeated Marie Reardon 6-0; Candy Pasquarosa defeated Mary Cronin 6-0; Sheila Terry defeated Mary Ann Beldezek 6-4; Nancy Caruso defeated Fran Frechette 6-2, and Colleen Wamboldt had a bye. Second round: Carol Richmond defeated Jean Boudreau 6-0; Sheila Terry defeated Candy Pasquarosa 6-3; Nancy Caruso defeated Colleen Wamboldt 6-2. Third round: Sheila Terry defeated Carol Richmond 7-5. Nancy Caruso drew a bye. Finals: Sheila Terry became champion by defeating Nancy Caruso 6-0.

Novena In Honor Of St. Clare Of Assisi In August

Dual Novena exercises in honor of Saint Clare of Assisi, patroness of television, will begin Monday, Aug. 3, and continue through Tuesday, Aug. 11, the eve of the Feast-Day of Saint Clare.

The unique observances will be those of the Missionary Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate Conception at their local Provincialate, 20 Manet road, Chestnut Hill, and the Poor Clares of Jamaica Plain.

The Novena of the Franciscan Sisters will be private, but a coincidental observance will be that of the "Poor Clares," cloistered Nuns, at their Monastery, 920 Center street, Jamaica Plain.

The "Poor Clare" Novena will begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock and will consist of Novena prayers, a short sermon, Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, and the veneration of the relics of Saint Clare. This Novena is open to the public. Catholics and Protestants alike. Those who cannot attend in person may mail their petitions to the Monastery.

The affectionate religious bond between these two orders in this country dates from the year 1875, when the Rev. Mother Foundress of the Missionary Sisters brought to the United States the first two "Poor Clares", Sisters Maria Maddalena Bentivoglio and Maria Constanza Bentivoglio, who established their first Monastery at Omaha.

At both Novenas, special prayers will be offered for the intercession of Saint Clare towards the success, God willing, of the investigatory process now under way looking towards the beatification and the eventual canonization of the Rev. Mother Mary Ignatius Hayes, founded of the Missionary Sisters and the foster-mother — as she may well be considered — of the "Poor Clares in America."

Metal Cans For Trash Proposed

In line with the Newton Chamber of Commerce "Keep Your City Clean" movement, merchants have been urged to abandon the use of cardboard cartons in putting out trash for collection.

At a recent meeting between Justin T. Horan, Chamber director, and Willard S. Pratt, the city's director of public works, a proposal that the city require a specified type of metal trash cans was discussed.
